THE 300 DAY SCHOOL

The idea is advanced by certain educators that schools should keep 300 days in a year. They say that the educational plant is too costly to remain idle so much of the time.

Soil fertility lies at the very basis of human life, remarks an exchange. As soil grows poor the human race dies out. America is consuming and wasting its soil fertility at a rapid rate.

Sometimes the business man who complains because the tentacles of the trusts are crushing him, would be less in danger if he would advertise a little more frequently.

Big contributions to political parties are looked at with disfavor, but probably anybody could contribute a Lincoln cent without coming under suspicion.

Many good bills have been introduced into congress, and rapid progress has been attained in referring them for slumber to the appropriate pigeonholes.

The Germans perhaps feel that they will give a better impression if they accept the Dawes plan in principle and then refuse to carry it out in detail.

The literary aspirants whose productions are returned have a very low opinion of the judgment of editors.

GLENDALE MAN IS HELD NOT GUILTY

The jury in the case of Charles Ray of Glendale, charged with having a still in his possession, brought in a verdict of not guilty following the trial of the case in the justice court yesterday.

her, he claimed to have made liquor for his own use. Testimony was introduced to show that she is a drinking woman. Ray denied that he had ever taken the still, or either of them, away in a wagon, and denied that he had ever made such a trip as was described by young Nickum.

RAY DENIED THAT THE LITERS had been kicked around the party for several years and that he had never been used for any purpose except to hold water. The incident, however, was brought by Mrs. Nickum and was used by her to lead to the fact. It might also have been used by

An Oakland youth sends us the two following poems which would make Whittier turn green with envy: Blessings on this mimic man With thy cheeks so shy of tan, With thy hair all smeared with oil, Fists that never have known toil With a fog between thy teeth And a weak chin underneath With thy nails all manicured And a brain that's not matured Hasn't father any kick?

Blessings on thee little girl Bare knees' miss with brain awl With thy rolled down shadow hose Where the duce are all thy clothes And thy mouth—such a sight; With thy powder and thy paint, Cobweb blouse that almost ain't To our hearts miss, you give pain Hasn't Mother any brain.

A MARATHON

"I believe that honesty pays in the long run." "So do I, but I wish to goodness that it wasn't such a long run."

Missus Heinline talked at the Kiwanis today regardin' music and said that jazz is a disease and we think that some of the modern singers and dancers have the hoof and mouth but nevertheless we still remember the time when Missus Heinline beat time with her feet on the front porch when a neighbor's photograph was grindin' out "Yeah, we hadn't got no bananas."

A professional singer's success depends on his voice, his appearance, and stance.

But when a man sings in the choir of a church His success is a matter of chants.

A SHORT STORY

The famous detective broke down the door, and entered the apartment. His keen eyes swept the room, and took in every detail at a glance. Furniture and clothing were strewn around the floor, the mirror in the dresser was broken, and there was a large blood stain on the carpet.

DOG FINDS WAY ON LONG JOURNEY

PORTLAND, May 5.—"Shucks, no dog want to be a lost dog. 'Any other dog would have done the same thing if he could find his way home."

"Now I'm to be a movie actor, just because I went home." This is Bobbie, famous Collie speaking. Bobbie is the dog which G. F. Brazier, Silverton, lost when he was touring by automobile in Iowa last summer.

Months later Bobbie came trotting home to Brazier's restaurant. He had worn his claws down in his long trans-continental tramp. He wagged his tail overmuch, and then he went to his usual place at the back of the restaurant for his bone.

Bobbie didn't know he was a hero. But before long the state humane society presented him with a medal for being faithful to his master.

Then a Portland jeweler presented him with a silver collar. Then a contractor gave him a $200 dog house.

All these were publicity stunts—at least they worked out that way for the givers, but it also gave Bobbie a national position.

Now he's going into the movies. A syndicate will finance a production company that will film a scenario written especially for Bobbie by S. E. Chambers.

Bobbie maintains his quiet reserve as the limelight glows about him, commenting only to say: "That's a dog's life for you."

WILBUR ACADEMY REUNION JUNE 7

At a meeting of the officers of the old Umpqua Academy association held at Elkton Sunday afternoon preliminary plans for the annual meeting of the organization were worked out and the date set for Saturday, June 7. A good number of the officers were present Sunday and each expressed themselves in favor of continuing the annual event.

It is planned this year to make the annual meeting even a larger affair than it has yet been. Plans will include arrangement for seven or eight hundred people. Although the complete program has not been worked out the chief speaker has been selected. Mrs. Ida Booth Belnap, sister to the Hon. Robert A. Booth, and a pioneer school teacher in the old Academy has received this appointment. She is considered one of the finest orators obtainable for this occasion. The memorial ceremony of the association will be conducted by Mrs. Inez Miller who was also a former teacher in the Academy. Honorable George M. Brown, of the supreme court, will have charge of the campfire session at night.

Other parts of the program are yet tentative, but are all to be completed and the members of the association informed early this month.

BOBBED HAIR BANDIT AND HUBBY IN JAIL

NEW YORK, May 6.—Mrs. Gelia Cooney, bobbed hair bandit and her husband and partner in crime, Edward Cooney, was sentenced today to serve from 10 to 20 years each in prison, by County Judge Martin of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Cooney was sentenced to Auburn prison and her husband to Sing Sing. They had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and robbery. Judge Martin addressed his remarks to the girl saying:

"I have discussed your case with you in my chambers and you have told me about all the jobs you committed. I have had a commission investigate the mentality of both of you. You were sane and you are now sane. You must be taught that such acts as you committed can not be committed in this community and go unpunished. I send you both to prison for from 10 to 20 years, you to Auburn and your husband to Sing Sing."

Judge Martin, conferring with the couple in his room before going to the bench had drawn from them the admission that they had participated in ten holdups. The girl assured him that when she had done her time she would "go straight." Cooney was silent but indicated that he seconded his wife's resolution.

GERMANY NOT TO MAKE AN APOLOGY

BERLIN, May 6.—The German government's reply to the protest of the Russian ambassador, M. Krestinsky, over the raid on the Russian trade delegation's offices here declares Germany can not accept the reproach of disregarding existing treaties.

The Russian note, the reply says, fails to furnish any concrete instance of the alleged untrustworthiness of the testimony by German officials in the case. The German government has always striven to facilitate the labors of the Russian delegation.
