DEMPSEY-WILLS CARD TO BE GREAT FIGHT

By Henry L. Farrell NEW YORK, May 15.—With any number of good cases from the past to quote as supporting facts, it is safe to assume that there will be as many spectators at the Dempsey-Wills heavy weight fight as there are seats in Tex Rickard's Jersey City arena.

Before the two heavyweights get into the ring you will hear it said and see it printed many times that Wills hasn't a chance, that he is a soft opponent and that the spectators will be home for a late supper. But anything said or printed that is uncomplimentary to Wills will not keep the customers away from the arena.

To spend their money, boxing enthusiasts do not have to be given a guarantee that both fighters in any match are evenly matched or they do not have to be assured that the meeting will be a real contest.

As was said many times in the past, Tex Rickard and other leading promoters depend for the support of their pugilistic ventures largely upon the "I was there when" class of customers. Added to the regular run of boxing bugs, who will go to see the heavyweight champion in any fight, there are thousands and thousands of normally interested or disinterested persons who will pay big money for the privilege of saying to their posterity: "I was there when Jack Dempsey did so-and-so."

There are thousands of persons, who would pay $100 now if they could say to their friends: "I saw Jack Dempsey when he was knocked clear out of the ring by that Firpo fellow."

When Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier met four years ago in the same ring where Dempsey and Wills are to meet, 96,000 spectators paid more than a million and a half dollars to see the contest. For weeks before the day of the fight, writers, whose judgment should have been accepted as at least competent by experience, wrote that Carpentier didn't have a chance. The Frenchman's record was not imposing enough for anyone to figure that he had a real chance to keep his frail body standing erect very long under devastating blows of the greatest body puncher boxing ever has known.

The contest was short, but there was no grumbling of dissatisfaction, no feeling that a master promoter and showman had made suckers out of an innocent public. That thousands that saw the fight left the arena talking in choruses of the blow that landed on Dempsey's jaw and shook the great champion to his heels.

When Luis Firpo, a green and inexperienced foreigner, with nothing but size and a ferocious look as assets, was rushed into a fight with Dempsey with a speed that made a record, the public was warned that Firpo didn't have a chance. Writers, whose salary is dependent upon the accuracy with which they can forecast boxing bouts, predicted in large numbers that Firpo couldn't go a round. Many of them said that Dempsey could call his punch.

Firpo didn't lose in a round bit it was just a fraction over a round but size and a ferocious look as assets, was rushed into a fight with Dempsey with a speed that made a record, the public was warned that Firpo didn't have a chance. Writers, whose salary is dependent upon the accuracy with which they can forecast boxing bouts, predicted in large numbers that Firpo couldn't go a round. Many of them said that Dempsey could call his punch.

The fortunate fans who saw that fight are still talking about it. They felt no animosity toward Rickard for throwing what had been called a set-up into the ring with a great champion. They remembered only that for three minutes they saw the heavyweight crown hanging from a dizzy head and a champion taking a beating that seldom a champion survives.

PATERSON SAYS COOLIDGE WILL WIN

PORTLAND, May 15.—"Coolidge will carry Oregon," declared Senator L. L. Paterson, state manager for Coolidge, in forecasting tomorrow's election.

"Although I am aware it is the custom of campaign managers on the eve of election to make extravagant claims as to the overwhelming majority or plurality by which their candidate will be nominated or elected, as the case may be, I am going to depart from that practice and not venture a definite prediction as to the decisive majority by which President Coolidge will be popularly endorsed by the electors of this state in Friday's primary election."

"Any estimate I might make of the size of President Coolidge's majority in this state would, before the election, be considered excessively unreasonable by many. At the same time, the same prediction would be found a most modest estimate after the election shall be officially known. However, President Coolidge will carry the state by an overwhelming majority. Furthermore, he will have a comfortable margin of the voters in each of the 36 counties of the state."

"We have endeavored to conduct a campaign to fit the candidate. It has been a quiet, calm, conservative, undemonstrative, businesslike, presentation of the qualifications of President Coolidge. Manifestly this character of campaign has appealed to the people of this state, who believe that the President meets the requirements of the times. Unquestionably the voters of this state are in a receptive mood for that type of candidate and leadership. This was emphatically expressed when more than 10,000 individual electors joined in signing a formal petition placing the name of President Coolidge on the official ballot for Friday's election."

"The only thing to be decided in this contest in Oregon is the size of the President's majority."

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS EDUCATE AND GIVE RELIEF

SAN ANTONIO, May 15.—Presbyterians of the Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States have under their care 648 candidates for the ministry and mission service, exclusive of women candidates for mission service, said the report of the executive committee of Christian Education and Ministerial Relief, made today before the assembly in session today.

The committee aided 425 candidates for the ministry and mission service in the year just closed, 29 more than in the previous year, the report stated, and in this connection spent $77,962.

"In our campaigns for equipment and endowment funds for schools and colleges of the church, the $1,359,000 sought for schools in Texas is becoming a reality," continued the report. "Collections amounting to more than $5,000,000 in other synods are reported."

"The endowment fund for ministerial relief is now more than $1,470,000, and in keeping with the request of the assembly, effort is being made to increase this fund to $2,000,000. The total amount received from the endowment fund is $24,111 less than the amount received the year before."

"Total receipts from all sources were $351,159, a decrease of $44,730."

FARM REMINDERS

Oregon berry growers find that black raspberries should be pruned back 4 to 6 inches in the latter part of May. The young shoots are usually approximately two feet high at this time. The experiment station points out that this causes branching and fruit bud formation during the rest of the summer.

Oregon berry growers find the grape hoe to be one of the best tools for cultivating close to the berry vines. This tool saves both the horse and the plants, so the experiment station finds. The implement has several attachments all fastened to an arm. This enables the operator to cultivate nearer the vines than the horse is able to walk. The grape hoe is easily guided with the disk wheel which is fastened at the end of one of the handles.

Seeding to clover and rape in June is the surest method of obtaining a clean stand of clover in Oregon, as shown by experiment station results. It is very essential that the land be plowed early and thoroughly cultivated before seeding. This method will conserve the soil moisture, causing a surer growth of the clover crop.

Facilities for sprinkling seed beds of broccoli have been installed by several successful growers in Oregon. This is insurance against dry weather in early May the experiment station finds.

Powdery mildew of apples is difficult to control in Oregon, according to experiment station results. Repeated applications of lime-sulfur in the spring combined with the pruning of affected shoot tips will gradually reduce the extent of damage resulting from the disease. There is a distinct advantage in adding a spreader to the mildew spray.

LD CONVENTION COMPARED WITH NEW

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Automobiles will travel over roads where the horses, ox teams and mules were used; palatial hotels will supplement the very best type of steamboat and in other ways the Republican National convention at Cleveland will compare Ohio's last Republican convention in 1876 at Cincinnati, but in many respects the latter city holds a slight edge over the very latest thing in political conventions.

The average cost of sleeping accommodations for one in a first-class hotel here in June will be from $2.50 to $3.50, while the rates of the Commercial Hotel in 1876 show that the fair price paid by the convention that nominated Katherine B. Hayes 48 years ago.

The largest number reported to have slept at a single hotel at the Cincinnati gathering was nearly 1,000 at the Grand Hotel. "The average of the Burnet house for five days was 875, and that of the Gibson house for three days nearly 900. The largest number at the St. James was on Wednesday night, when 583 strangers slept in the house. The Arlington's highest number at one time was nearly 300, and the Walnut street house about the same. The Crawford House entertained from 250 to 300, and two or three other hotels had 150 or so," the Commercial said in 1876.

Two of the hotels here have 1,000 rooms each, and each room can accommodate several persons. Over the same Ohio that was traversed in June 1876, by creaking carts and loving oxen, airmail planes will fly in June, 1924. The pilots looking down, will glimpse roads black with motor cars. The passage of the planes will be heralded by the government radio station at Cleveland.
