used the dance drama "Mood the Mist at the court house lawn last night, sponsored by Miss Flo Adams of the Henline Conservatory The majority of the dances were in-terpretative in character, and the most difficult presented as yet by Miss Adams' pupils, and were given with an exceptional grace and skill by the charged over favores.

A number of the pupils of Miss Elise Robinson's Dunning classes at Klise Robinson's Dunning classes at the conservatory were also presented in recital last might before an inter-ested audience at the M. E. Church. The performers were all rears, but their numbers showed the result of intellisent work, and training. The second Dunning recital will be an event of tentalit at the M. E.
