New Treatment for Varicose Veins and Ulcers

Swollen veins are dangerous and often burst. Sufferers are advised to get a two-ounce, original bottle of Emerald Oil (full strength), at Nathan Fullerton's and start to reduce the veins and bunched at once. Physicians recommend Emerald Oil: It is used in hospital practice and a small bottle will last a long time, because it is very concentrated and a little goes a long way. Apply night and morning with a soft brush as directed until the swelling is reduced to normal.

So marvelously powerful is Emerald Oil that swollen glands and even returns from Portland—A. C. Ross, who has been spending the past two or three days in Portland returned to this city last evening. Mr. Ross is a clerk in the Hotel Grand.

NEW ROAD PROJECT IS BEFORE COURT

Petitions Presented for Two New Road Projects to Open Up Umpqua Park Addition.

The Umpqua Park came to the forefront again today with two new road propositions before the county court. For several years the county court has heard first one project and then another, and now there are two more up for consideration and disposal.

Stanley Taylor has presented a petition asking for a road across the river with an undergrade crossing at the railroad trestle. This it is claimed would open up the old ford, and a ferry could be used to provide transportation across the stream. His proposition is backed by a long petition and a resolution adopted by the Umpqua Park Community League, an organization, which, according to its own statement, is made up of approximately 80 per cent of the residents of Umpqua Park addition. The petition asking for the undergrade crossing and ferry contains 51 names.

Other residents, headed by S. D. Evans, the principal owner of the Umpqua Park land, petition for a road along the side of Mt. Nebo as originally considered, leading from the main center of the park through the Bryant and Lindsay—lances to the old Lane street bridge site. This is the road which the court originally intended to build but which was held up while the city endeavored to raise funds for a bridge across the river at Mill street.

As both petitions have been presented in proper form with the bonds of the petitioners, the county court will recess to appoint viewers to go over both propositions and determine the one which should be adopted, if, in the opinion of the viewers, the county should take action at this time.

JAPANESE STAGE BIG DEMONSTRATION

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.) TOKIO, June 5.—The greatest anti-American demonstration so far in the Japanese campaign against the exclusion clause of the new United States immigration law, tonight climaxed Tokio's day of public demonstrations.

Today had been made a public holiday for the state celebration of the wedding last January of Prince Regent Hirohito. That left the crowds free to gather and watch the passage of the regent and his bride through the streets and the departure of the retiring American Ambassador, Cyrus E. Woods.

But tonight marked the high point of the holiday. A throng estimated at 25,000 persons jammed its way into the great wrestling hall at Ryogoku, the largest roofed assemblage place in the orient. Fiery speeches, bitter resolutions, all expressing the most intense opposition to the bar to Japanese immigration into America were in order. The meeting resulted in inauguration of the Kogunin Taiheikai of which an accurate translation is "national association to direct American policy."

The phrases "We must punish America for the sake of world peace," and "This is a matter for all the Asiatic races" were in many of the speeches.

Kalatro Mochizuki, a member of parliament and proprietor of an English news agency, proposed to the meeting that May 25, the day on which President Coolidge signed the immigration bill be observed annually in Japan as a "day of national humiliation."

A resolution passed declared in part: "America's anti-Japan movement, worse than disregarding international morality is fostering racial conflict. We, the Japanese people, can not submit to this situation and will oppose exclusion to the end."

At the conclusion of the meeting contribution boxes were placed at the exits bearing placards reading: "Patriotic contributions invited for maintaining the punitive movement against America."

HEAVY FOG SLOWS DOWN FOREST FIRES

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.) SALEM, June 5.—A heavy fog in-coast last night assisted much in slowing down the forest fire menace according to information received by State Forester F. A. Elliott from L. M. Martin, district warden for Lincoln county. Martin reports the situation under control, but says a logging slash in the Blodgett tract is now on fire. This tract is operated by the Pacific Spruce Corporation.

Reports from Roseburg say that conditions in that district are fair and a Klamath Falls report states that the situation is under control at present.

of John King, Sr., today and Captain David Petrie of the Lowell police was injured while pursuing John King, Jr., who was arrested and charged with the slaying.

Father Gibrade had gone to the King home to make a call. What led to the shooting was not learned. After the priest was shot, the younger King ran from the house with a gun in his hand and rushed into the woods nearby. The Lowell police at once started in pursuit.

As they approached the woods there was an exchange of shots and Captain Petrie fell with a bullet in his body. King was slightly wounded and other officers captured him. The man under arrest is 37 years old.

ROTARY MEETING TODAY

A spicy program was rendered at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today. The club was also favored with the presence of Governor Robert A. Booth, who passed through this city today on his way north. Dexter Rice made a fine talk on the second paragraph of the Rotary club of ethics after which he introduced Mrs. L. B. Moore, and daughter, Maxine, and Jimmie Goodman who rendered several musical numbers which were a great pleasure to the members assembled. Charley McElhinny had composed a clever song which was rendered at intervals during the meeting. He had written a stanza embodying the name of each member of the club and it was a howling success. Today's meeting was termed "Pep Day" and the boys all had a good time.

CYRUS E. WOODS IS GIVEN AN OVATION

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.) TOKIO, June 5.—Cyrus E. Woods, the retiring American ambassador was the central figure of an ovation when he left Tokio this morning by train to board the President McKinley at Yokohama for home.

Crowds jammed the station, filled the plaza fronting the station and "banned" as the ambassador, with his aged invalid mother-in-law, Mrs. Marchand, on his arm, made his way through the throng with difficulty with the aid of police.

The ovation was surprisingly large and hearty in view of the anti-American tenor of public feeling.

H. B. JOHNSON IS GOING TO ASTORIA

H. B. Johnson, for the past two years principal of the Roseburg high school, announced today that he has accepted a position as high school principal at Astoria, and will go to that city this fall to take up the work there. The new position which he has accepted pays a much better salary than the Roseburg school, and is considered an exceptionally fine advancement.

Although Mr. Johnson's many friends in Roseburg greatly regret his departure from Roseburg, they are pleased to learn that his ability in his profession has been so well recognized and that he has been able to secure such a good position.

During his time in the Roseburg high school he has done much to improve the efficiency of the school and under his direction many notable achievements have been recorded. He has been exceptionally well liked by the teachers and students alike and many expressions of regret have been heard over his departure.

City Superintendent M. S. Hamm today expressed his regret over Mr. Johnson's departure and praised the service which he has given while employed in this district.

Mr. Johnson leaves next week for Eugene where he will attend summer school. He is giving up his home here and his family will accompany him to Eugene. They expect to make a short visit in Roseburg following the summer school and before the Astoria schools are opened.

DOW WALKER TRIAL FOR BRIBERY IS ON

(Associated Press Licensed Wire.)

PORTLAND, June 5.—Prosecution and defense in the trial of Dow V. Walker, former county commissioner, before Circuit Judge Campbell on a charge of taking a bribe to vote Robert E. Kremers in an engineer of the three proposed trans-Willamette bridges, outlined their plans of attack and counter attack today.

Deputy District Attorney George Mowry said that the state's case would rest on circumstantial evidence.

Part of this evidence will have to do, he said, with Kremers' banking transactions and with a large sum he kept in cash in a safe deposit box. It will also bring out a secret agreement between Kremers and his partner, Ira G. Hedrick, he declared.

Robert F. McGuire, for the defense, indicated that the defense will admit many of the facts to be presented by the state as evidence but will add to them certain further facts that will clear Walker.

The defense indicated that its case rests on evidence that Walker did not favor Kremers but finally voted for him as a compromise measure, and after his qualifications had been approved by the local chapter of the American Society of Engineers.

With the flatfooted declaration that Kremers obtained his appointment bribery, Mowry began his opening statement.

"This job was bought by Robert E. Kremers," he declared.
