PREPARATION FOR BUSINESS

The idea used to prevail that education was not necessary for business, and that anyone with a kind of money making genius could jump in most anywhere and achieve success. But to-day the idea is spreading that anyone's chances of business success are greatly improved by making adequate preparation for it. A big lift to this form of training has now been given by Geo. F. Baker, by a munificent gift of $5,000,000 to the Harvard school of Business Administration. No doubt this liberal offering will inspire many others to give liberally to business schools. The so called self made man is often able to work himself up from small beginnings with but little education. Sometimes he is naturally such a broad minded man that he seems to educate himself as he goes along, and comes out a good all-round man and fine citizen. Some men have such a keen bargaining and trading instinct that everything they touch seems to turn to money. Yet many of these men deeply regret, as they get up in life, that they did not have a more thorough education. They welcome the chance to put their sons through colleges and fine business schools. As great industrial enterprises figure more and more, it becomes more difficult for a young man to work his way up. Without special education, it may take him many years to learn the things that the young man trained in a good business school acquired in a short time. People are needed who have both general culture, so that they are fitted to become community leaders, and scientific training in business methods so that they are able to grasp accurately the large commercial problems of the time.

The problem of extending trade is solved by three lines of effort: first, various forms of advertising; second, personal effort and acquaintance; third, superior service. This newspaper has discussed various forms of retail advertising. Much can also be said about the pulling power of personal acquaintance. In some places, if people from surrounding country come into the stores, no one seems to know them. They are handled in a machine way, and they do not feel at home. There is no pulling power of friendship to bring them again. In other places, and this is characteristic of the stores of Roseburg, some one is apt to recognize them. The proprietor cultivates a memory for faces, and greets a lot of them personally. Also his clerks are trained to learn people's names, particularly those from the outlying country, and try to build up personal relations with them. It's a wonderful help in extending trade.

Patience has its limitations, and the man who knocks should not be surprised to get a few in return.

There is plenty of make-believe, so the person who seems to be having a good time may not be happy.

The ingenuity of many persons is chiefly exercised in getting them out of trouble.

A popular indoor pastime is to work at making the pay envelope stretch.

The crowd is always with the winner, unless there is a game loser.

DISPOSING OF GREEN
Cyrus Green was seldom seen
Where men had work to do;
He spent his days in idle ways
And thus to manhood grew.
Some were grieved and others peeved
To see the lazy hound
So frankly shirk all forms of work
To sit and loll around.
The neighbors tried to stir his pride
And make him get a job,
But not a thing they said could sting
The feelings of the slob.
And so he balked and loafed and talked
On subjects dull and drab,
For Cyrus prized and exercised
A mighty gift of gab.
But endless words not even birds
Can substitute for meals
And feeding Cy with food so high
Brought forth some fervent squeals.
The township knew not what to do
To rid itself of Cy
Until, distraught, it hatched a thought
That raised its spirits high.
Now Cyrus Green is often seen
With statesmen spic and span—
The township sent the lazy gent
To be a Congress-man.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenrhu, to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Nathan Fullerton, Roseburg, Oregon, can supply you.

This New Treatment Never Fails to End Piles

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

Nathan Fullerton dispenses MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in the original box or can get it for you on short notice. Mail orders accepted.

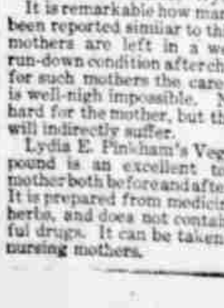
BEFORE TWINS WERE BORN

Was Very Miserable. Felt Lots Better After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Wyocena, Wisconsin.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my twins were born because my sister used it and recommended it to me. I was so I could scarcely go about my daily work I was in such misery. But after I began taking the second bottle I was feeling lots better. I took three bottles and a half before I was confined and finished the bottle while I was in bed. I got up feeling fine and have taken care of the twins alone ever since. I recommend the Vegetable Compound highly and will sing its praises in the future." —Mrs. IDA GERRITZ, Wyocena, Wis.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in a weakened and run-down condition after child-birth, and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother both before and after child-birth. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken in safety by nursing mothers.
