BILLIARD EXPERTS ARE HERE TONIGHT

Mrs. Bertha May King, the world's lady billiard champion, and her husband, W. W. King, one of the foremost billiard experts and fancy shot artists, will provide entertainment for members of the Elks lodge at the regular meeting this evening. Mr. and Mrs. King have made a number of trips across the United States playing in the larger cities, and this year are stopping in some of the smaller cities and exhibiting their skill with the cue.

Mrs. King is the undefeated lady pocket billiard champion of the world, and in matches with her husband of ten defeats him, although he is classed as one of the leading male experts of the country.

Their exhibition today will be given in the Elks club rooms at 9:30 p. m. and will furnish entertainment in addition to the regular lodge meeting.

MRS. GRACE SIMPSON DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Grace Simpson, a well known resident of Roseburg, died yesterday in San Diego, where she has been spending the past month at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. M. Dodd. Mrs. Simpson became ill only a few weeks ago, and went to California in the hope of benefiting her condition, but became steadily worse. Her son Mark and his wife, left this city Friday on receipt of a message announcing her serious condition, and wired back to friends last night that she had passed away. Mrs. Simpson had resided in the city for more than 25 years, and has many friends who are grieved to learn of her death. She is survived only by her son, who is now in San Diego. The funeral services will be held there.

G. O. P. PLATFORM FINALLY FRAMED

Favor Measure to Place Agriculture on a Basis of Economic Equality.

ADOPTED LAST NIGHT

Document Condemns Those Who Strive to Besmirch the Names of the Innocent.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Enactment of measures to place agriculture on a basis of economic equality with other industries and government assistance in the reorganization of the marketing system and in diversification of crops are promised in the platform adopted last night by the republican national convention.

A declaration for rigid enforcement of the law but without specific mention of prohibition is a feature. American adherence to the world court as recommended by President Coolidge is endorsed.

The document condemns those who "strive indiscriminately to besmirch the names of the innocent and undermine the confidence of the people in the government."

Scientific readjustment of railroad rate schedules with a view to encouragement of agriculture and basic industries without impairment of railroad traffic is favored.

Election of senators and representatives who believe in republican principles and acknowledge party responsibility is urged.

This appeal constitutes the concluding plank which declares that the government functions best when the president is supported "by a majority in congress of the same political faith, united by party principles and able by concerted action to carry out in an orderly way, a definite, consistent and well balanced program."

Other features of the platform are:

Progressive reduction of the taxes of all the people as rapidly as may be and the placing of the federal tax system on a sound, peace-time basis.

Commendation of the "firm insistence" of President Coolidge upon rigid governmental economy.

Settlement of foreign debts growing out of the war on the basis of the agreement concluded with Great Britain.

Reaffirmation of the belief of the protective tariff bill with a safeguard authorizing the president to adjust duties to prevent excessive taxes and too high customs charges.

Renewal of a pledge to give the wounded and disabled war veteran "that full measure of care guaranteed by an effective administration to which his patriotic services and sacrifices entitle him."

Application of the civil service law to the prohibition enforcement field force and to postmasters in first, second and third class post-offices.

Improvement of the management of the government-owned merchant marine with a view to its ultimate sale to American citizens.

Continuation of the policy of federal cooperation in highway construction.

Effective and efficient development of oil, timber, coal or water-power resources only as needed and only after the public need has become a matter of public record "control with a scrupulous regard and ever vigilant safeguards against waste, speculation and monopoly."

Opposition to nationalization or government ownership of public utilities.

A declaration of faith in the eight hour day for labor and a pledge to continue efforts to eliminate the

New Blue Chimney Burner Faster—More Economical

The remarkable increase in cooking heat and the greater fuel economy of this new burner, are due to its new double-wall, double-draft construction.

The picture above shows how the EXTRA volume of air drawn in through the small holes around the chimney, is converted into an ADDED ring of intense cooking heat. This quicker cooking cuts down fuel consumption.
