

ACCIDENTS Will Happen

We can supply you with wrenches and all tools for repairing the car when it goes wrong. Save on repair bills.

All Kinds of Socket Wrenches Ranging from $1.35 per set up.

Can reach any part of the motor or car with these handy tools—indispensable to every car owner.

Churchill Hardware Co.
THE WINCHESTER STORE

DANCE AT TILLER

will be a social dance at Tiller night, June 14th, good everybody invited, come.

C. M. McNeil
PRACTICAL SPECIALIST
of Women and Children a Specialty
Bldg., 327 W. Cass St.
Roseburg, Oregon

uction Sales!

farm machinery special for dates.
JOHN ABEENE
42-F3 Oakland, Ore.

Builder

Carpentry, Building,
Job Work, call

D. Maynard
for good service
7 Umpqua Ave.
Phone 335-R

Rug Special

Rayal $37.00
Laser $34.00
Fusion $30.00
Fusion $40.00
Fusion $48.00
Fusion $48.00
Fusion $48.00

Furniture Exchange

the Income Stops
Have you Prepared
for that emergency?

HN E. FLURRY

Insurance Agency
Rooms 1 and 2
Roseburg Bank Bldg.
153 Roseburg, Ore.

another part of our plan. Our service is We are always glad you call and see how
the "Doorless Cleaning"

Imperial
TRY OUR WAY
277 Our Auto Will Call

LOVE-OR FAME?

by
VIOLET DARE

Author of "The Half-Time Wife"

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

DOROTHY LANE goes to New York to visit.

PERKINS GRANT and try to break into the movies. She meets LAWRENCE FRENCH, a young publicly man, and after a quarrel with Perkins, goes to a girl's club with.

SYLVIA STEARNS and lives
there. Through French she meets

JOHN SEWARD, a famous star, and is engaged as his leading lady in an independent production that he is making. Seward, known as "the great lover of the screen," falls in love with her.

XXII—MY FIRST PROPOSAL.

AT first I could hardly believe that I'd really heard what John Seward said. To think of a motion-picture star proposing to me!

I suppose I must have looked absolutely stupid,
for he laughed
a little even
as he took my hands in his
and kissed them.

"I think I've loved you
from the very first," he told me. "You're so unlike any one I've ever known. I was all but born on the stage, you know, and I've spent my whole life among its people and in the studios. I never knew a real girl till I met you."

But even while he was talking to me, telling me how happy he'd make me, and planning the most wonderful future, I couldn't believe that it was all real. I'd so often gone to the movies with the girls back home and seen him on the screen, and we'd talked about what he was probably like, and how it would seem to act with him and have him make love to you. And now here he was really telling me that he loved me and wanted me to be his wife! Do you wonder that I couldn't believe it?

It was funny perhaps, and yet I couldn't help wishing that I'd never seen him off the screen. You see, he'd always seemed so wonderful then. But now, right up close, I could see lots of things about him that I'd have liked to have changed.
Oh, I suppose it would be that way with Dick Bartholomew or Bert Lyttel or any of them, perhaps. But as I sat there and looked at him, I couldn't help thinking that it was too bad, in a way, that we'd ever met.

WORK STARTS ON JETTY

With preparations all completed, the job of receiving rock on the Umpqua jetty will start in the next few days. Arrival of 15 dump cars from Coos Bay, only is delaying this work.
The contractors, Joplin & Eldon are ready to furnish rock as soon as there is the necessary equipment on the jetty for handling it. The dump cars have been outside the harbor for several days, the bar being too rough to permit safe entrance.—Port Umpqua Courier.

GEORGE SMITH SOLE OWNER OF GARAGE

George H. Smith, of the Roseburg Service Station Garage Company, has purchased the interest of his former partner, Clifford Jenkins, and is now the sole owner of the business. Mr.
Smith will continue the operation of the popular garage in the same satisfactory manner as at the present time, no additions or changes being contemplated. Mr. Jenkins has not announced his plans for the future.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT SUTHERLIN

Services in memory of the deceased members of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodge of Sutherlin, will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Sutherlin Sunday afternoon at 3 o'- clock. Rev. H. L. Caldwell of this city is to deliver the address of the day. A good program has been prepared in addition to the talk to be made by the local minister.

M. A. Marud of Portland, transmission engineer of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, is spending a few days in the city looking after the interests of the company.

one of his: I couldn't get it away, even though I tried. "And you'll meet all the bunch out there." I wondered why I didn't feel almost too happy to live. But I didn't. I couldn't say why it was that I didn't feel that way, but I knew that something was wrong.

And then, all at once, I knew what it was. Marrying would mean giving up Lawrence French.

I didn't think I was in love with him exactly. But I'd missed him a lot since I left New York. He hadn't written me at all, and neither had Sylvia. And I was anxious to get back and talk things over with him, and have him take me to the movies again, and for bus rides and all that sort of thing. I knew, all at once, that I cared a good deal more for him than I'd supposed I did.

"And you will marry me, won't you, dear, just as soon as we get back to town?" urged John Seward.

"I don't believe I can," I told him,
wondering even as I did so how I dared refuse a man like him. "Somehow I can't be quite sure—I don't
just know."

"Is it because of my having been married before that you hesitate?"
he asked. That was a shock to me;
I hadn't even known that he had been married, and told him so.

"Yes, I was," he told me then, and named the girl—one of the most prominent stars on the screen to-
day. "We were married five years ago, and separated a year later.
We're still good friends—we just didn't get along together. In fact,
I dined with her and her husband
the last time I was in Los Angeles."

"You see, in the motion-picture world marriage isn't always looked upon as it is among other people;
so many things have to be considered—the different way of living
and all that—that divorce seems more natural than it does to people who aren't familiar with those conditions."

"We'll run out to the Coast as soon as this picture's done," he promised, still holding my hand in his, and have him take me to the movies again, and for bus rides and

all that sort of thing. I knew, all
at once, that I cared a good deal
more for him than I'd supposed I
did.

"And you will marry me, won't
you, dear, just as soon as we get
back to town?" urged John Seward.

"I don't believe I can," I told him,
wondering even as I did so how I
dared refuse a man like him. "Some-
how I can't be quite sure—I don't
just know."

"Is it because of my having been married before that you hesitate?"
he asked. That was a shock to me;
I hadn't even known that he had
been married, and told him so.

"Yes, I was," he told me then, and
named the girl—one of the most prominent stars on the screen to-
day. "We were married five years
ago, and separated a year later.
We're still good friends—we just
didn't get along together. In fact,
I dined with her and her husband
the last time I was in Los Angeles."

"You see, in the motion-picture
world marriage isn't always looked
upon as it is among other people;
so many things have to be considered—the different way of living
and all that—that divorce seems
more natural than it does to people
who aren't familiar with those conditions."

"We'll run out to the Coast as soon as this picture's done," he
promised, still holding my hand in

his, and have him take me to the
movies again, and for bus rides and
all that sort of thing. I knew, all
at once, that I cared a good deal
more for him than I'd supposed I
did.

"And you will marry me, won't
you, dear, just as soon as we get
back to town?" urged John Seward.

"I don't believe I can," I told him,
wondering even as I did so how I
dared refuse a man like him. "Some-
how I can't be quite sure—I don't
just know."

"Is it because of my having been married before that you hesitate?"
he asked. That was a shock to me;
I hadn't even known that he had
been married, and told him so.

"Yes, I was," he told me then, and
named the girl—one of the most prominent stars on the screen to-
day. "We were married five years
ago, and separated a year later.
We're still good friends—we just
didn't get along together. In fact,
I dined with her and her husband
the last time I was in Los Angeles."

"You see, in the motion-picture
world marriage isn't always looked
upon as it is among other people;
so many things have to be considered—the different way of living
and all that—that divorce seems
more natural than it does to people
who aren't familiar with those conditions."

"We'll run out to the Coast as soon as this picture's done," he
promised, still holding my hand in

his, and have him take me to the
movies again, and for bus rides and
all that sort of thing. I knew, all
at once, that I cared a good deal
more for him than I'd supposed I
did.

"And you will marry me, won't
you, dear, just as soon as we get
back to town?" urged John Seward.

"I don't believe I can," I told him,
wondering even as I did so how I
dared refuse a man like him. "Some-
how I can't be quite sure—I don't
just know."

"Is it because of my having been married before that you hesitate?"
he asked. That was a shock to me;
I hadn't even known that he had
been married, and told him so.

"Yes, I was," he told me then, and
named the girl—one of the most prominent stars on the screen to-
day. "We were married five years
ago, and separated a year later.
We're still good friends—we just
didn't get along together. In fact,
I dined with her and her husband
the last time I was in Los Angeles."

"You see, in the motion-picture
world marriage isn't always looked
upon as it is among other people;
so many things have to be considered—the different way of living
and all that—that divorce seems
more natural than it does to people
who aren't familiar with those conditions."

"We'll run out to the Coast as soon as this picture's done," he
promised, still holding my hand in

his, and have him take me to the
movies again, and for bus rides and
all that sort of thing. I knew, all
at once, that I cared a good deal
more for him than I'd supposed I
did.

REEDSPORT PEOPLE WILL BUILD BRIDGE

The ReedSPORT Chamber of Commerce is making plans to construct a temporary bridge over Mill creek, according to word from that city. The county's bridge fund is not sufficient to provide for the construction of the Mill creek bridge this year, but the ReedSPORT people are not going to let that fact hold up the opening of the road and are preparing to build a structure which can be used until the county can find money to do this work.

A committee composed of Spencer Hinsdale, S. D. Chapin, W. P. Reed, J. H. Napier and George W. Staples has been appointed to investigate the cost of driving piling at the bridge site, and if this is found practical a cheap bridge of timbers will be built and will be used until a permanent structure can be obtained.

LOCAL ODD FELLOWS TO INITIATE ELKTON CLASS

At last night's meeting of Philtarian lodge, I. O. O. F., it was decided to accept the invitation of Elkton lodge to confer the first and third degrees on candidates of that lodge.
The local delegation, which will be made up of about 50 Odd Fellows, will go to Elkton next Saturday, June 21, taking the equipment and paraphernalia necessary for the degree work, and will initiate the two classes which the Elkton lodge has ready.
This event will doubtless be attended by many other Odd Fellows and will be one of much interest. During the meeting last night the resignation of Berry Foster as a trustee was accepted, and M. M. Miller was appointed in his place. Mr. Foster is leaving town for the summer.

REEDSPORT GIVES WAY TO OAKLAND CELEBRATION

Hoping to secure cooperation of the valley towns in a celebration of the Fourth of July in 1925, the ReedSPORT chamber of commerce, at the meeting June 6 decided to drop plans for a celebration this year and to get back of the Oakland Gobbler's celebration.
It is expected that as the result of the action of the chamber, Oakland and valley towns will reciprocate and unite in making ReedSPORT's 1925 celebration a big affair.

Arrangement for the ReedSPORT three-day celebration have not advanced to such an extent as to preclude change or plans. Sentiment of the merchants was that ReedSPORT should wait until 1925 for its celebration and should get behind the Oakland celebration this year as the ReedSPORT ball team is slated to be there for two days.—Port Umpqua Courier.

LOCAL NEWS

Arundel, piano tuner. Phone 139-L.

This is a Studebaker year.

Band concert Sunday at Bandon by the Sea.

A range or cook stove for every kitchen at Powell's.

Within 3 hours you can now flivver to Bandon by the Sea.

A fine bunch of used rifles, some have new barrels. All sizes and guaranteed at Powell's.

Wanted—dry Casaca bark. We pay highest prices. Berger's Bargain Store.

See our used dish and cooking utensil department at Powell's.

Try our store for barzains in linoleum and congoletum, Powell Furniture Co.

Goggles! A splendid glass in any color you may desire for eye protection from the sun's glare.

Lloyd Crocker.

For the maintenance of a good complexion we can safely recommend our lemon cream and soap.

Lloyd Crocker.

We have a Myers electric pumping system on our floor and would be glad to demonstrate it to any one interested. —Wharton Bros.

Orders taken for broccoli plants, grown from imported seed, $4 per thousand, 10,000 up, $3.75. Fred Schmidt, Dillard, Ore.

MEFORD-ROSEBURG freight line leaves Tuesdays and Fridays for Medford, arrives Mondays and Thursdays.
For information Phone 66 or 362.

This is a Studebaker year.

Mr. William R. Stevenson and Miss
Bertha Jones were united in marriage this morning at the parsonage of the M. E. Church, by Rev. Joseph Knotts. Relatives witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Robinson is a student at the University of Oregon, and Mrs.
Robinson has been teaching school.

Just received, some nice new rugs.
See me quick. Judd's Furniture Exchange.

PROTECT THE BIRDS.

Protect the birds.
That eat the insects.
That destroy the forests.
That preserve the waters.
That feed the streams.
That fill the reservoirs.
That irrigate the lands.
That produce the crops.
That supply the markets.
That provide the foods.
That nourish the people.
Who make the laws.

—Our Dumb Animals.

We must look after the birds and
do it now, if we are going to protect our country from the destruction of insect life. Remember well known authorities agree that cats kill more birds than all other animals combined. Roseburg has an army of stray cats that have no name. They belong to and are loved by nobody. Do you want the cats or the birds? Have you asked your councilman to vote for the ordinance restricting cats? The Council meets next Monday night.
Get in a word for the birds at once.
FLORENCE AIKEN HANKS.

This is a Studebaker year.

Classified Section

ALL NEW ADS ON BACK PAGE

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—By owner house and lot, 114 North Flint Street.

FOR SALE—Roll top desk and small safe. Phone 573-R.

FOR SALE—1923 motorcycle, and side ear. 521 East Lane St.

FOR SALE—New red oats hay in the field. By H. A. Wilson, Melrose.

FOR SALE—Fordson tractor and disc plow, $300. G. S. Johnson, Wilbur, Ore.

FOR SALE—Child's high chair, crib, and sulky. Vista Ave. Phone 504-J.

FOR SALE—Fine young white sow, to farrow July 18. E. F. Strong, Oakland. (Rice Hill).

FOR SALE—One Stover Feed Grinder, nearly new. Fine condition. $50.
Farm Bureau Exchange.

FOR SALE—4 passenger coupe. Good running order. 4 new cord tires.
Broadway's Garage. Price $200.

FOR SALE—$300 buys a Dodge in first class condition. Good rubber.
Can be seen at Broadway's Garage,
No. Main St.

FOR SALE—At sacrifice (am leaving). The Golden Rule Barber Shop.
Will pay for itself in 6 weeks. A growing business. See owner at 618 North Winchester St.

FOR RENT

HOUSE FOR RENT—Call 143-L, or see F. A. Fields.

FOR RENT—Sleeping room, bath, hot and cold water. 401 South Main

FOR RENT—Five room furnished cottage, modern. Phone 212-J. Mrs.
Clar. Beauty Studio.

FOR RENT—6 room furnished house, 235 South Flint St. Inquire 604 West Lane St.

FOR RENT—3 sleeping rooms $2 and $2.50 per week. Large white house at auto camp ground.

FURNISHED—sleeping room for rent. Two blocks south of Grand Hotel, 119 Mosher St.

FOR RENT—9 room furnished house with barn and garage. Riverside Addition. Inquire Roseburg Cate-teria.

GLLENDALE COUPLE MARRIED

Mr. William R. Stevenson and Miss
Bertha Jones were united in marriage this morning at the parson-
age of the M. E. Church, by Rev. Joseph Knotts. Relatives witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Robinson is a student at the University of Oregon, and Mrs.
Robinson has been teaching school.

Just received, some nice new rugs.
See me quick. Judd's Furniture Exchange.

Protect the birds.
That eat the insects.
That destroy the forests.
That preserve the waters.
That feed the streams.
That fill the reservoirs.
That irrigate the lands.
That produce the crops.
That supply the markets.
That provide the foods.
That nourish the people.
Who make the laws.

—Our Dumb Animals.

We must look after the birds and
do it now, if we are going to protect our country from the destruction of insect life. Remember well known authorities agree that cats
kill more birds than all other animals combined. Roseburg has an army of stray cats that have no
name. They belong to and are loved by nobody. Do you want the cats or the birds? Have you asked
your councilman to vote for the
ordinance restricting cats? The Council meets next Monday night.
Get in a word for the birds at once.
FLORENCE AIKEN HANKS.

This is a Studebaker year.

Mr. William R. Stevenson and Miss
Bertha Jones were united in marriage this morning at the parson-
age of the M. E. Church, by Rev. Joseph Knotts. Relatives witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Robinson is a student at the University of Oregon, and Mrs.
Robinson has been teaching school.

Just received, some nice new rugs.
See me quick. Judd's Furniture Exchange.

Protect the birds.
That eat the insects.
That destroy the forests.
That preserve the waters.
That feed the streams.
That fill the reservoirs.
That irrigate the lands.
That produce the crops.
That supply the markets.
That provide the foods.
That nourish the people.
Who make the laws.

—Our Dumb Animals.

We must look after the birds and
do it now, if we are going to protect our country from the destruction of insect life. Remember well known authorities agree that cats
kill more birds than all other animals combined. Roseburg has an army of stray cats that have no
name. They belong to and are loved by nobody. Do you want the cats or the birds? Have you asked
your councilman to vote for the
ordinance restricting cats? The Council meets next Monday night.
Get in a word for the birds at once.
FLORENCE AIKEN HANKS.

This is a Studebaker year.

Mr. William R. Stevenson and Miss
Bertha Jones were united in marriage this morning at the parson-
age of the M. E. Church, by Rev. Joseph Knotts. Relatives witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Robinson is a student at the University of Oregon, and Mrs.
Robinson has been teaching school.

Just received, some nice new rugs.
See me quick. Judd's Furniture Exchange.

Protect the birds.
That eat the insects.
That destroy the forests.
That preserve the waters.
That feed the streams.
That fill the reservoirs.
That irrigate the lands.
That produce the crops.
That supply the markets.
That provide the foods.
That nourish the people.
Who make the laws.

—Our Dumb Animals.

We must look after the birds and
do it now, if we are going to protect our country from the destruction of insect life. Remember well known authorities agree that cats
kill more birds than all other animals combined. Roseburg has an army of stray cats that have no
name. They belong to and are loved by nobody. Do you want the cats or the birds? Have you asked
your councilman to vote for the
ordinance restricting cats? The Council meets next Monday night.
Get in a word for the birds at once.
FLORENCE AIKEN HANKS.

This is a Studebaker year.

Mr. William R. Stevenson and Miss
Bertha Jones were united in marriage this morning at the parson-
age of the M. E. Church, by Rev. Joseph Knotts. Relatives witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Robinson is a student at the University of Oregon, and Mrs.
Robinson has been teaching school.

Just received, some nice new rugs.
See me quick. Judd's Furniture Exchange.

Protect the birds.
That eat the insects.
That destroy the forests.
That preserve the waters.
That feed the streams.
That fill the reservoirs.
That irrigate the lands.
That produce the crops.
That supply the markets.
That provide the foods.
That nourish the people.
Who make the laws.

—Our Dumb Animals.

We must look after the birds and
do it now, if we are going to protect our country from the destruction of insect life. Remember well known authorities agree that cats
kill more birds than all other animals combined. Roseburg has an army of stray cats that