TO HOLD HEALTH CLINIC FRIDAY

Tuberculosis Experts to Be in Roseburg and Will Give Free Examinations.

WILL GIVE ADVICE

Clinic Is for Purpose of Diagnosis and Not Treatment—Local Physicians Will Cooperate.

A diagnostic health clinic, particularly for tuberculosis will be held in this city on Friday, June 27, at the court house. The clinic is being conducted under the auspices of the Douglas County health unit and the local Medical Society. Dr. G. C. Bellinger, head of the state tuberculosis hospital, Rowan Wheaton, field secretary and seal sale director of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association, and Miss L. Grace Holmes, director of the Bureau of surveys and clinics of the association, will be present and cooperate with the members of the health unit and local physicians in conducting the clinic.

The clinic will be devoted almost entirely to a study of the tuberculosis situation in the county. It is desired that all persons who have tuberculosis, or fear that they may be contracting this malady, attend the clinic. Any person desiring advice or recommendations concerning this disease are also invited to be present. The clinic will be entirely free and open to everyone. It is not being given for the purpose of treating cases, or prescribing remedies, but is only for the purpose of examination and advice. Persons who fear that they may have a start of tuberculosis, or who have come in contact with cases where they might have become exposed, are urged to be present at the clinic and receive the advice of the physicians who will be present.

Dr. Bellinger, who is at the head of the state tuberculosis hospital, is considered one of the foremost authorities on the coast, and will be able to give some very excellent advice, and assistance. Drs. Sether and Stewart have extended the use of the laboratory for an x-ray examination which may be necessary, so that the clinic will be thorough in every respect. It is expected that the clinic will be well attended and very successful.

Those having cars please be at the Presbyterian church at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to take club women to Mrs. George Bradburns.

Program for Care of Men in Hospitals and Legislative Recommendations to Be Worked Out.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 23.—Thousands of former soldiers, sailors and marines, who served in the World war and were wounded or disabled in the conflict thus entitling them to membership in the Disabled Veterans of the World War Association, were in attendance when the organization's annual six-day convention opened here today.

In addition to the D. A. V. the National Service Star Legion also opened its annual convocate Convention sessions are being held in the Mormon tabernacle with National commander James A. McFarland, of the D. A. V. presiding. Mrs. Schumann-Heink sang "The Star Spangled Banner" at the opening session.

Samuel Woodruff, acclaimed by General Pershing as the greatest American hero of the world war is here with the Indiana delegation.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 23.—Representatives of the men who went through the World War and left the bloom of their health on the battlefields of France, gathered here today for the fourth annual convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. world, proper vocational classification, better care particularly for tuberculosis patients whose illness resulted from exposure while serving their country overseas or at home while wearing the uniform, and reports on the handling of veterans affairs by the many districts into which the work of the United States Bureau has been divided, are among the problems the convention will study, and upon which reports of special committees will be heard.

Western delegates particularly are anxious for the convention to work out a proper program for the care of tuberculosis patients according to the spokesmen from Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain states, Arizona especially is outspoken in its dissatisfaction with facilities now available, which they claim to have found far from adequate. Californians will aid Arizona in bringing this problem before the convention. More homes for aging and dependent ex-service men, of all wars, also will be urged. Legislative recommendations and memorials both to congress and to the veterans' bureau will contain the solutions as the convention sees them.

Seven sessions of the main convention will be held before adjournment Friday night, and two sessions of the Women Auxiliary one on Tuesday, the second and last on Wednesday. The main convention will do its business in the Mormon Tabernacle. Although the last official session of the veterans' convention Friday afternoon, the business of the annual gathering will not be completed until after the meeting and organization of the national executive committee at the Hotel Utah, Saturday morning.

One of the main convention tasks will be the detailed study of the Reed-Johnson bill, passed in the last days of the recently adjourned Congress and signed by the president. This is considered the epitome of veterans' legislation, containing what congress believes to be a comprehensive and just plan for the care and rehabilitation of veterans. The code of regulations putting into effect the provisions of the law is expected to be presented to the convention by General Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau. General Hines will make the principal address at the Thursday morning session.

Many distinguished guests are here or are expected to arrive to attend the sessions. Among them are Captain Samuel Woodruff, acclaimed by General Pershing as "the outstanding hero of the world war," Madame Schumann-Heink, world famous singer, who was the central figure at the opening session this morning, singing "Taps" and "The Star Spangled Banner," accompanied by the Tabernacle organ and the 38th Infantry Regimental band; General Hines; several congressional medal of honor men, United States Senators Smoot and King of Utah, and Governor Charles R. Mabey of Utah.

Today's session, opened by National Commander James A. McFarland, was largely a get-together affair. Tomorrow morning the veterans parade swings through the streets, and then in the afternoon business will begin with the appointment of committees. Election and installation of officers will take place at two sessions Friday. Addresses by distinguished visitors on topics pertaining to veterans will be features of all seven convention sessions.

LAVISH PROGRAM FOR CONVENTION

Novel Stunts Arranged for Entertainment of Those Who Will Attend.

GIVE DANCE ON LINER

Plenty of Opportunity for Frolics to Be Sandwiched in Between Sessions—Excursions Planned.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, June 22.—The fertile minds of prominent New Yorkers, republican and democrat, who head welcome delegations for the national democratic convention are hatching novel stunts so rapidly that program directors have forsaken the idea of compiling a fixed schedule of events.

Thus, instead of a list of imposing mass functions for the 2,500 delegates, alternates and their families and friends, there have been arranged scores of less ponderous entertainments. These will be of an informal nature, so planned that they need not be disrupted by a change of the convention business program, but can be sandwiched into the visitor's schedule whenever opportunity for a little frolic is presented.

It is intended, for instance, to hold a reception and dance aboard one of the largest American ocean liners some night during the convention. Inasmuch as the Leviathan will reach port on the sixth day of the session, the party probably will be held aboard her at her pier in the Hudson River.

There will be pilgrimages to the former home of one of the Democratic party's most historic characters, Samuel J. Tilden. His famous estate, "Greystone" is now possessed by Samuel Untermyer, who has offered to throw open the beautiful grounds to authorized delegations of convention visitors. A thousand private automobiles have been volunteered for the transportation of pilgrims over the scenic highway bordering the Hudson, to "Greystone."

It is expected that few of the 200,000 or more visitors to New York City during the convention period will return home without having at least one picture of themselves taken here, but it has remained for the Nebraska's delegations' reception committee to assure its guests that they will be caricatured by famous cartoonists, United States district attorney Hayward, a republican, heads the Nebraska entertainers. On his committee are John Cassel of the Evening World and Claire Briggs of "When a Fellow Needs a Friend" fame. They have been pledged to caricature every Nebraskan who will pose for them.

Another spectacle in which all the delegates may participate will be a "mermaid fishing contest" at the Briardlife Manor pool. Visitors are asked to bring casting rods and fishing tackle. The mermaids who will be nationally known swimmers and diving beauties, will be the fish. The game will be to hook and land them. Prizes will be awarded the most successful angler.

Although most of the spontaneous entertainment to be furnished by welcoming committees for states and territories will be without program, the city will lavish part of the $200,000 it has appropriated upon huge formal functions.

There will be a reception for 5,000 persons in Washington Square the night before the convention; at least one grand ball in which all may participate; a mass festival at Coney Island; an excursion to the military academy, West Point and numerous other large-scale entertainments. The crowning feature of the formal program will be a parade of the police, fire and other departments, an imposing event of annual occurrence which this year was postponed until convention time. It will be accompanied by an army, navy and marine demonstration on land, water and in the air. If the police search those who enter Madison Square Garden for the convention, it will be for piccolos and

Porch Traffic

PICTURE the number of people that in a year's time mount your steps, and cross your porch! This heavy traffic makes obvious the need of a tough, elastic and durable paint that will withstand severe usage. And the exposure of your steps and porch to the elements means that the paint used on them must also resist the action of sun and rain.

BASS-HUETTER Porch and Deck Paint fully meets these requirements. It is made in a wide range of colors, is easy to apply and dries quickly to a firm, hard surface. Full instructions for its use are in every can.
