ROSEBURG, OREGON, FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1924.

TWO KINDS OF TALK.

There is a widespread feeling that there is too much talk and too little action, that many people win power and favor as a result of their plausible and voluble talk, while what the community needs is more the work of the silent and thorough folks who prefer deeds to words. While there is much truth in this point of view, yet many useful people have been much given to conversation. In many cases, talk is a form of substitute for action and efficiency. A person may not be able to do things well, but by his gift for fluent talk he may be able to make an impression and get credit or even fame that he could not win by the merit of his achievement. People of that kind enjoy talking, for it raises them to a level above their real deserts. There are folks however, who talk a good deal, who do it merely to draw other people out. They are never boastful, are in fact rather modest, but they feel a persistent desire to get the results of other people's experiences and observation. Some of our most noted public men and business leaders have been of that type. They were always circulating about among the people, trying to get impressions and ideas and facts out of the ordinary run of folks. Every new personality that one runs across may be a mine of new experience, into which one can delve to see what nuggets of truth one can find. The returns are wholly disappointing in many cases, yet some persons do not weary of the search. Such folks may spend too much time in mere talk, but if it is done from the investigating rather than the boasting and bluffing spirit, they may become keen observers of life, and develop practical judgment from their many contacts.

Claimed that young people should be better chaperoned, and the young crowd would probably consent if the chaperones were near sighted and deaf.

Claimed the old fashioned strap method should be used on the children, but perhaps the children are more likely to use it on the parents.

Formerly the students were said to be pursuing their studies, but nowadays they seem to be pursuing the pigskin more actively.

The parents who ask "where is my wandering boy tonight?" don't usually have to ask that inquiry until after he gets a best girl.

Many of the politicians have very old fashioned ideas, but anyway the historical societies will be interested in them.

The town boosters of many places are crowing so loud that they may get taken for the town roosters.

LABORER CRUSHED TO DEATH BY LOG

MARSHFIELD, June 26.—Crushed between a rolling log and a fallen tree, Emil Kobonen, 37, was fatally injured at the Black creek logging camp near Lakeside at 3 p. m. yesterday, dying as he was being extricated from the logs. His body was almost severed at the abdomen and was terribly mangled. It was his eighth day on the job.

Kobonen was imprisoned for almost an hour after the accident and talked freely to fellow workmen who strove frantically to release him. He died instantly however, when the pressure against him was released as the saw cut through the giant log. His life could not have been saved under any circumstances as his spine and hips were broken.

BRITISH EMIGRANTS ASSURED OF HOMES AND EMPLOYMENT

LONDON, June 27.—It is reported that the cabinet has approved an extended scheme of migration from the British Isles to Australia.

For some time Senator Wilson, representing the Australian commonwealth government, has been in consultation with the Overseas Settlement committee on details of the scheme, which includes provision for a loan to Australia of about $1,000,000 to assist the federal government in the carrying out of development work as a preliminary to the acceptance of immigrants.

The new scheme is based on plans for entire families to go out and settle in Australia, and arrangements will be made in advance to insure that an immediate home and employment are available.

EXPENSE OF SEAT BRINGS PROTEST FROM BALDWIN

LONDON, June 27.—A frank statement that financial demands upon parliamentary candidates and members of Parliament were becoming too heavy was made by former Premier Stanley Baldwin in a recent address in which he declared that he had expended more than $15,000 in elections during the last three years.

"Many men are poorer since the war," Mr. Baldwin said. "I myself am one of them. Too many demands for money should not be made upon members of Parliament and candidates."

Diseases traced to constipation are many —get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

Why does constipation breed other diseases? Because it floods your system with dangerous poisons. And the longer you suffer, the more poisons accumulate. That is why constipation should be relieved at once.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed. They know it brings results because it is ALL bran. And only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective in relieving constipation.

ALL bran — Kellogg's — sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts as nature acts. It makes the intestine function naturally and regularly. If eaten regularly, it will bring permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation—is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns your money.

Eat at least two table-spoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful Kellogg flavor—so crisp and nut-like—so different from ordinary bran, which are most unpalatable.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. And by all means try it in the recipes given on every package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbed, made in Battle Creek, is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

A BEAUTIFUL THOUGHT OR TWO
The robin sits upon a twig And strains its little throat, Which illustrates the difference Between a bird and goat. A goat, you see, keeps on the ground And seeks no lofty seat, And when it sings it doesn't sing But merely bleats a bleat.

The rose unfolds its lovely self And sets sweet scenes afloat, And that, of course, suggests again The rose is not a goat. A goat, you see, is not a bloom And, though it's aromatic, You simply couldn't call it sweet And that's a fact emphatic.

The truth and nothing but the truth, Which you should learn by rote, Is nothing in this whole wide world But goat can be a goat. And so the robin is a bird And roses, they are flowers, And you and I should be content With any lot that's ours.

The college sheiks are gradually accustoming themselves to village life and some have actually appeared on the main stem wearin' a hat.

Ed Young and Ralston Bridges, a couple Oakland gobbler of whom there are no than-whomers, yestiddy made arrangements to have the drum corpe over to the Oakland July 4th celebration and the two aforementioned individuals promised the local celebrities board and lodging for the day as compensation which is fair enough considerin' the appetites of the corpe. They are the thirteenth gang we ever hooked up with.

OREGON GIRL FAILS TO GET ON WARSHIP

LOS ANGELES, June 26.—Plans of Pauline Jenkins, 17, of Roseburg, Ore., to go north on a battleship have gone awry. Pauline is back in juvenile hall from where she escaped some weeks ago. She admitted, officers said, that some sailor friends agreed to smuggle her aboard a dreadnaught leaving San Pedro today, but the police found out about the proposed trip and captured the girl.

PASSERS-BY

By Orpha Collins
There is an old requested seat Where I love to sit: And watch the figures on the street, As to and fro they flit.

The trim young girls with dainty feet Are always tripping there. The mothers too with babes so sweet, And children passing fair.

The school boy comes with laugh and shout, The business man sedate, A pale young clerk goes scurrying out: The grocer's boy runs late.

A feeble tottering aged one Moves slowly down the way. In life his race is almost run It may end e'er the day.

The old, the young, the grave, the gay: I view them one by one, As thus they pass along the way At dawn or set of sun.

And think of how the Father's eye Darts on each mortal fall; Who, on life's path goes flitting by, What love that watcheth all!

for coffee in place of cream

THOUSANDS of housewives no longer buy expensive double cream for coffee. They have discovered that Borden's Evaporated Milk is very good indeed, and far less costly. It has a body and a richness that is like cream. It gives coffee the appetizing color that rich cream gives.

More than that, it can be kept on hand. Regular cream sours very quickly. But you can always have Borden's Evaporated Milk ready for the stray guest or the extra occasion.

whose direction this phase of Legion work is being carried out.

Mr. Powell's statement was based on the hundreds of requests which have been pouring into the Community and Civic Betterment bureau, a division of the Americanism commission.

"While we have many reports concerning posts which have already assumed some community responsibility, it is surprising how many Legionnaires are planning campaigns for betterment of conditions about them," Mr. Powell declared. "Requests for direction along these lines are received daily, and indicate that constructive work for their neighbors is the principal aim of this great group of ex-service men."

"There is no intention on the part of the Legion to supplant any agency engaged in work of this character, but to offer our broad membership as an agency equipped to align all community endeavor."

Advice furnished by the bureau will extend to every phase of community development and civic betterment, Mr. Powell said.
