ROOSEVELT THINKS SMITH STANDS HIGH

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York July 7.—Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that after the New York delegation had been informed of the proceedings of the conference held by representatives of the many candidates the consensus was that Alfred Smith had attained the most formidable position of the many contenders. "The convention has reached a point where factional differences must be laid aside and all join forces for the good of the party," he said. "That can only be attained by nominating the man who can win. Many delegates voting for McAdoo realize his weakness. The best solution is to nominate Governor Smith. The principal strength now being shown by McAdoo is in the unit rule delegations. Many of these delegations were instructed for McAdoo months ago."

The yields are spotted, owing to local rains. Fall grains look fairly well, considering the limited moisture, but spring crops are in poor condition. Crops in the dry sections will run from 40 to 50 per cent. In the irrigated sections products have been slow in growth owing to the cool nights. In the Willamette valley general production is spotted. The early potato crop does not promise a good yield and the late acreage depends almost entirely on what the rainfall may be. The grain crop will be about 60 per cent of last year. The southern part of the valley has had far more rainfall than the northern part. The general production in Hood River is fair. The early frosts damaged the pears to a considerable extent, and the apple growers state that frost rings may result in quite a little damage to the apples. Cherries are about half a crop. In general there will be about the same yield as last year. The cherry crop of the Willamette is large, but the price is poor. Four cents has been the highest price paid, and many have been sold for less. With one cent per pound for picking and with the added expense of boxing and delivery charges the growers have not received very profitable returns. Fruit companies have been buying very carefully and in small lots, and many canneries have refused the Bing and Lam-
