TODAY'S SESSION ANSWER TO PUZZLE

day and night—when the 101st ballot was put off until today.

Smith leaders today decided to split up their vote and permit delegates to ballot for their own preferences. For the present it was believed a majority of the votes would go first to Underwood.

Governor Smith, who was present at the conference today fully approved the plan. George Brennan of Illinois, announced the decision, among others present at the conference were Franklin D. Roosevelt, Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, Norman E. Mack, of New York and Joseph K. Guffey of Pennsylvania.

The Smith crowd was determined that no eleventh hour movement by the McAdoo forces should nominate Meredith.

"Any time that we want to unite on a man the Smith forces can be brought together," said Brennan. "Weary and only half awake, the democratic national convention reassembled today to gather up the pieces from last night's explosion and attempt to reassemble them into a body."

McAdoo supporters were awaiting a word of formal withdrawal from Governor Smith before proceeding to organize to increase their strength elsewhere. An organized contest was opened between John W. Davis, who was riding a rising tide as the session adjourned early this morning and E. T. Meredith, of Iowa, former secretary of agriculture in President Wilson's cabinet, to whom Mr. McAdoo's leaders were attempting to deliver most of the McAdoo strength. At the beginning of the session today there was an undercurrent indicating a split for Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, whose supporters expected to draw strength from several states, including New York, Ohio and Illinois.

When the remaining McAdoo women delegates came into the convention they came noisily, but with some fight left. They distributed leaflets pointing out that while Mr. McAdoo released his delegates he

ALL OUT OF SORTS?

So Was This Roseburg Woman Who Tells Her Experience.

All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Roseburg case is one of many:

Mrs. J. D. Bishop, 318 Fullerton St., says: "My kidneys troubled me a lot and I felt tired and run down. I had a continual dull ache across my back and could hardly keep going. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. Doan's Pills helped me wonderfully. The backache and tired, worn out feeling left and my kidneys were regulated." Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Bishop had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

had not actually withdrawn.

"We will stand by him to the end," said the women defiantly. Today's session began with a prayer by the Reverend Wm. Wilkinson of Trinity Church—"The Bishop of Wall Street."

It was in quite a different atmosphere that the convention met today. The marching, singing bands of McAdoo women waving flags and intoning that they intended to stay until Christmas for "Mack—ee—doe" were absent. There were scores of empty chairs in the delegates and alternate sections and canvases of their forces by delegation leaders showed that few of the delegations were up to full strength. The convention was running from today onward at the expense of the democratic national convention.

Apparently the musicians were still on full pay for they tackled William Tell for the 41st time with enthusiasm and gusto. Meredith workers were busy on the floor carrying the word from the McAdoo people and the plans were for Georgia and Texas, which have been solid McAdoo delegations, to go for Meredith on the first ballot today. There were some votes for Davis in Texas, but it was being held under unit rule. Georgia, it was said, was ready to break the unit rule but the majority was expected to follow the McAdoo advice for Meredith. Massachusetts, which has been voting 377 for Smith and 21 for McAdoo was, in a predicament. The religious league and the Klan had made things troublesome for the delegates from that state and for the effect at home at least, they intended to stick with Governor Smith for a time.

Governor Davis of Kansas was not convinced that he was out of it and was trying to recover his delegation from John W. Davis, of West Virginia. The availability of a dirt farmer on the ticket was being discussed to his advantage.

The first ballot of the day was the 101st, an unheard of and undreamed of record. California, which had been solid for McAdoo split her vote giving Chairman Walsh 19—the majority of St. John W. Davis, picked up Delaware's six; Dr. Murphy, of Florida, one of Bryan's several candidates, got four of the Florida votes. Georgia split for the first time giving McAdoo 11, and five to John W. Davis. Idaho's eight went solid to Davis. E. Houston, former secretary of the treasury, Senator Walsh of Montana and Underwood picked up scattering votes in various states as the roll call proceeded.

Maryland got on Davis' band wagon on this ballot and gave Governor Ritchie 16 to the West Virginian. Governor Ritchie himself announced the ballot.

New York split giving the bulk of her vote to Underwood. He got 863.

The Connecticut changed her vote and gave 11 of her 14 to Underwood also.

When New Jersey broke up, 16 of its votes went to Underwood and 12 went to Glass. In North Carolina John W. Davis picked up 29.

In Ohio he got 23 more. John W. Davis, of West Virginia, sprang into the lead in today's balloting, with Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, close behind him.

In the break up of the McAdoo and Smith forces which began on the 191st ballot today, the West Virginian sprang into the lead and many of the Smith votes were turned to Underwood putting the Alabamian second.

E. T. Meredith of Iowa, to whom many of the McAdoo captains were attempting to deliver their strength, was a slow third.

On this ballot—the first of the day—the new order of candidates was John W. Davis, 216; Oscar Underwood, 299.5; E. T. Meredith, 139.

This was a gain of 113.5 for Mr. Davis, and a gain of 187 for Underwood. It was also a gain of 54.5 for Meredith. But it was a loss of 230.5 for Smith and a loss of 138 for McAdoo. There was a continuing drift to John W. Davis of West Virginia, as the balloting progressed. It carried him to a new high mark with Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama still following closely behind.

Attempts of the McAdoo forces to bequeath their strength to E. T. Meredith, of Iowa, were not successful and some of the most steadfast McAdoo battalions in the long fight flopped over into the Davis column on the 192nd ballot.

The Smith strength during the ballot was being split up and going largely to Underwood.

On the 192nd ballot the leaders stood:

John W. Davis, 415; and 4-6; Underwood, 307; Meredith, 66 and 1-3; Walsh of Montana, 123.

THE LAST BALLOTS

McAdoo	52	21	11
Smith	121	41	72
Davis	316	415	638 1/2
Underwood	229	307	108
Meredith	139	66	15 1/2

YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN RECORDS prove ZEROLENE increases gasoline mileage

For years this company has claimed that Zerolene, because it lubricates better, enables the average car to go about five percent farther on a gallon of gasoline than when other oils are used.

A few weeks ago this claim received the most remarkable confirmation in the results of the annual Los Angeles-Camp Curry (Yosemite) Economy Run. Six out of the seven trophies offered, including the sweepstakes, were won by Zerolene-lubricated cars. The sweepstakes winner, an Overland Model 92, driven by Joe Bozzani, travelling the 400 miles of desert and mountain roads, averaged 29.36 miles to the gallon of gasoline—an achievement which the 1924 contest rules made all the more remarkable as they forbade coasting or stopping the engine.

The following extract from Mr. Bozzani's letter shows how Zerolene stood up under the grueling conditions of the contest:

"In the Overland cars the oil lubricates the transmission units as well as the motor. Yet in spite of the terrific heat encountered while travelling through the Mojave desert, when the ultimate check was made I found greatly to my surprise, the gauge showed absolutely no use of oil whatsoever. "Gentlemen, I think this is remarkable. I attribute my success in winning the 1924 Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes greatly to the use of Zerolene in the motor and Red Crown in the tank."
