

HORSE RACES AT OAKLAND TRACK

Large Crowd Sees Week End Program of Specially Matched Events.

10 RUNNERS COMPETE

Lone Outside Entrant Wins Main Number—Mare Over 20 Adds to List of Victories.

(By I. F. Reizenstein.)
Oakland's live-wire organization The Gobblers, pulled off another interesting program of horse races at its celebration grounds near that town last Saturday afternoon.

Ideal weather prevailed and the attendance was over a thousand, including many from Roseburg. No mishap marred the meet, which was comprised of five running events, each between two specially matched horses.

All of the horses that participated are of Douglas county ownership, excepting one, and this lone outsider, Joey G., hailing from Myrtle Point and ridden by "Shorty" Powell, of that place. It was an easy victor in the main event of five-eighths of a mile over Oregon Dan, owned by Floyd Smith, of Oakland, with Geo. Soule, of Dillard, on his back. Winner's time was 2:10. Joey G. was in front from the start, and kept that position apparently without extending himself, winning by about five lengths.

Powell also plotted to victory Murray Cardwell's Topsy over Sam Smith's El Reno in a half-mile dash. El Reno sprang up lead for the first 300 yards, but from then on it was Topsy's race and she finished about 80 feet to the good. Time 57.55.

About the same description answered for the three-eighths event between Ed Young's Blue Diamond Powell up, and L. Eggleston's Peanuts, a 15-year-old nag who has spent most of his career following eyebe hands. Ridden by his owner, Peanuts got away in front and kept the lead until rounding the first turn, when he was overtaken, passed and easily beaten by three lengths. Blue Diamond's time was 45.25.

Of even more ancient vintage than Peanuts was another entrant on the card, F. J. Smith's Oregon Boss, whose actual age not even her owner seemed to know.

Some of the times among the spectators recalled the old lady's appearance at racing meets at district fairs as far back as 18 years. In a one-quarter mile dash against Henry the Third, a young horse owned by Roy McNabb, Boss showed that, notwithstanding her age, she still possessed much of her pristine spirit by carrying Sule to his only victory of the day. The temperamental old rarer balked for a spell before she would consent to start, and when she did get away she was two lengths to the bad and apparently a sure loser, which she doubtless would have been had Powell been able to keep his green nag next to his original position at the pole. At the home stretch turn, Powell's untrained mount swung clear to the outer edge of the track and Soule, taking advantage of this opportunity, urged Boss to a supreme effort. The game old mare electrified the crowd by responding with a sudden and wholly unexpected burst of speed, taking the pole and crossing across the finishing line by little less than a length ahead of Henry. Time 29.1.

It took two heats to decide the three-eighths race between L. W. Hogan's Midget, ridden by Carl Morris, of Oakland, and Lee Mober's Della B., on whom Powell lost his second race of the day. In the first heat, the horses got an uneven start, but went the distance in earnest because they failed to notice that the starter had not dropped his flag as a signal to go. Despite a getaway of nearly two lengths to the good in the initial heat, Della B. finished second, albeit a very close one, after closing a thirty-foot gap in the home stretch. In the next heat, the horses ran the closest race of the entire card, hardly more than a length separating them at any time, Midget winning by about the same margin as before. Her time was 45.

It was announced that efforts would be made to program another batch of races next Saturday in connection with the meeting to be held there on that day by the Douglas County Farm Bureau, at which Governor Pierce and other state notables will be present.

FIRE TRUCK TESTED

The local fire department took the new state fire engine out yesterday to make tests on small mains. From a four inch main on East Lane street where the hydrant pressure was 50 pounds, sufficient to throw a stream 54 feet without the pump, the engine delivered a stream with a pressure of 200 pounds, which carried up for 174 feet. Practically the same showing was made on hillside mains on Winchester street. The poorest showing was made on the West Side where friction losses in the mains have always made pressure low, but even there the pressure was boosted more than 50 per cent. The city will probably require a main to be laid from the reservoir across the river to connect in at Laurelwood to give better fire protection to the valuable residence district on the west side.

CONFERENCE AT LONDON IS OVER

ference would mark a renewal of the entente cordiale. "We must continue to work for the peace of Europe and for friendship between the peoples of the world," he added. France and Great Britain must be united to settle the problems which are still outstanding."

BRUSSELS, Aug. 18.—The successful London conference was due greatly to the work of Mr. Kellogg, the American ambassador. Premier Thoinis is quoted by the London correspondent of Et-oile Belge, as having said:

PLYMOUTH, Vt. Aug. 18.—President Coolidge was plainly cheered today over the successful conclusion of the international conference in London, called to put into operation the Dawes reparations plan.

He has shown considerable interest in the negotiations in which this country was represented by Ambassador Kellogg and Colonel James A. Logan, and he has said he believed the accomplishment of the conference the greatest since the signing of the Armistice, with the possible exception of the Washington Conference. He sent a message of congratulation to Mr. Kellogg expressing satisfaction over the results.

Rested from his trip from Washington by two days spent largely in relaxation, the president was up early today and about the farm yard with his father at the family home here. Planning only a complete rest for his vacation he had no program for the day or the week.

John Coolidge, the president's father, told visitors at the home he had gotten in most of the crops, but remarked "I probably will find something for Calvin to do."

poems on this witness commanding him to appear before the grand jury tomorrow. Until they found him, it was announced, his name would be withheld. Meanwhile the district attorney was prepared to go before the grand jury with McCoy's alleged confession to his sister Mrs. Jennie Thomas, his own admission that he was in the apartment when a bullet killed Mrs. Mora, and the testimony of friends of the woman who said she feared McCoy would kill her if she quit him.

Since the day of his arrest on suspicion of murder when he told police that Mrs. Mora shot herself in his presence and that his wounding of three persons in a shopping district shooting affray several hours later was due to shock and grief over her death the one time "Dean Brummett" of the prize ring has sat sullenly in his cell, observing the advice of his attorneys not to talk about the case.

Tomorrow, the district attorney predicts, the grand jury will indict McCoy for the murder of Mrs. Mora, notwithstanding the verdict of a coroner's jury which last week admitted itself unable to decide whether the wealthy antique dealer's wife died by her own hand or by the hand of another.

judgment against Crowell for $100 for damages received in an auto accident. Crowell could not pay the judgment and Harper had him confined.

Ray Compton, Crowell's attorney, today filed a petition under a statute seldom called into use, which provides that where a man jailed for civil judgment can show that he has nothing upon which execution can be made, must be released. Crowell convinced the court that he has no property other than that exempt from execution and consequently was released from jail.

Moore's Returning

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Moore and daughter will return next Monday from an extended stay in the east. Mrs. Moore has been studying music in the licechwood school of music at Jenkintown, Pa., and has been awarded the advance certificate of the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music. She was joined there by Mr. Moore and together they have been touring the east visiting all of the larger cities. They will stop at Jamestown, North Dakota on the way back to visit Mrs. Moore's brother.

ORPHEUM STAR IS COMING TO ANTLERS

Miss Gene Metcalf, a former Orpheum star, is coming to the Antlers theatre with the King 1924 Revue which will open Wednesday for an engagement of five nights, presenting a new show each evening consisting of light comedies, exotic dancing, specialties, big time acts, and in fact everything that goes to make up an entertaining and diverting entertainment. Miss Metcalf is the prima donna and is assisted by a capable cast of characters. Among these are Eddie Hayward, juvenile; Lew Marshall, comic; Irene Noblett, soubrette; Marjorie King, ingenue and specialty dancer; Miss Ver Lyman, period and acrobatic dancer is a feature of the revue which has been playing to capacity business in all the larger cities in the Coos Bay district. The Coos Bay Times says: "Another big audience greeted the King 1924 Revue last night. A splendid performance was given by the company, Miss Marjorie King especially pleasing the audience. Miss Metcalf won great applause with her singing and Miss King made a hit with her "Dance Allure." King's Revue is something worth while—consisting of clever comedians, classy dancing and novelty numbers—and entertainment of clean fun."

Other dailies are equally as generous in their comment on the shows presented by this company and Manager L. A. Goux feels that the patrons of his theatre will appreciate an entertainment of this kind and pack the local play house to the doors each night.

LA FOLLETTE THANKS LABOR FOR SUPPORT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Expressing confidence that "in the end we shall be victorious," Senator La Follette, independent candidate for president declares in a letter to the non-partisan political campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor his appreciation and that of his running mate, Senator Wheeler of Montana, for the endorsement of their candidacy by the organization's council.

"Although it may be branded as radical by the forces we are fighting," he said, "the ultimate objective of the independent campaign in its essence is conservative since its is a policy of conservation of human rights."

This aim, he asserts, "has never been more accurately or fittingly described" than by the statement in the message notifying him formally of the council's endorsement of government to its sole rightful purpose—the service of the masses of the people."

HARTH'S TOGGERY WAY RECEIVES PRAISE

"That the practice of giving credit to tributary sections of the county for products grown, or for natural resources in advertising used by firms, is highly spoken of in the August number of the Pacific Northwest Retailer, which speaks of Mr. Harth's advertising in this wise: "One way to make friends of the residents of the smaller towns in a territory, is to print in your advertising something that will appeal to their civic pride. For example, Harth's Toggery, of Roseburg, Oregon, runs a panel in its advertising which is used for information like this: "We know, but do you know—that Tillard, Douglas County, grows train loads of melons each season. And they are luscious, too, as well as the earliest in Oregon."
