Nearly 700 Treaties Registered with League

GENEVA, Aug. 21.—With the meeting of the fifth annual assembly of the League of Nations on September 1, this year, the latter will be able to ascertain that one of the most important and successful functions of the League is the registering of international treaties and agreements.

The annual report of the secretariat to the assembly of the League will show that to date over 620 treaties have been registered with the secretariat for publication to the entire world.

This provision of the covenant which was inserted for the purpose of breaking up secret diplomacy, secret treaties, and secret alliances, has been lived up to in the most rigid manner not only by members of the League but by non-members as well.

Germany, for example in the period between May 19, 1923 and May 19, 1924, has registered 12 treaties with the secretariat.

While the United States has not felt called upon as a non member of the League to register her treaties for publication, nevertheless the object of this clause of the covenant is fully attained by reason of the fact that virtually all of the states with which the United States has concluded treaties or agreements since the close of the war are members of the League, and the latter have filed with the secretariat all treaties concluded with the United States.

In fact several have gone so far as to file their treaties with the United States that were concluded before the war.

The loyalty with which the Leaguers are carrying out this obligation with the League of Nations is indicated by the fact that the number of treaties registered has increased steadily ever since the League was organized.

During the first year of the League's existence a total of 142 treaties were registered. During the second year, 151; during the third year 161, and the year just closed 189.

Leaguers have shown themselves especially sincere in registering their treaties of defensive alliance which in the past were always guarded with the utmost secrecy and which were at all time looked upon as a constant menace to the peace of Europe.

Now, thanks to the League's obligation to register treaties the world has the full text of such agreements as the Franco-Belgian-Polish-Slovakian defensive alliances; the Little Entente various treaties; the Italian-Serbian treaty of mutual defense and the Italian-Slovakian treaty of cordial collaboration.

Even the treaties concluded at the Washington conference for the limitation of naval armaments have been registered at the secretariat by the various signatory powers, other than the United States.

Besides these great political treaties, the other treaties registered are of the most varied character with the result that the treaty registration department of the League can very aptly be termed the clearing house of international governmental activities.

Amongst the varied treaties registered are those for the protection of industrial, literal and artistic rights for the suppression of the white slave traffic; for the suppression of traffic in opium; for the transportation of merchandise by international railways; the various conventions of the Madrid International postal conference; the various conventions of the Barcelona transportation and communication conference; commercial and navigation treaties; extradition conventions; frontier delimitations; limitations of armaments; economic and financial agreements; treaties regulating aerial navigation sanitary conventions; arbitration treaties and a score of other objects.

In the domain of arbitration alone, there were filed during the past year treaties of arbitration between Austria and Hungary; between England and Italy; between Chili and Peru; between Hungary and Roumania; between the United States and England; between the United States and Norway, and between Spain and England.

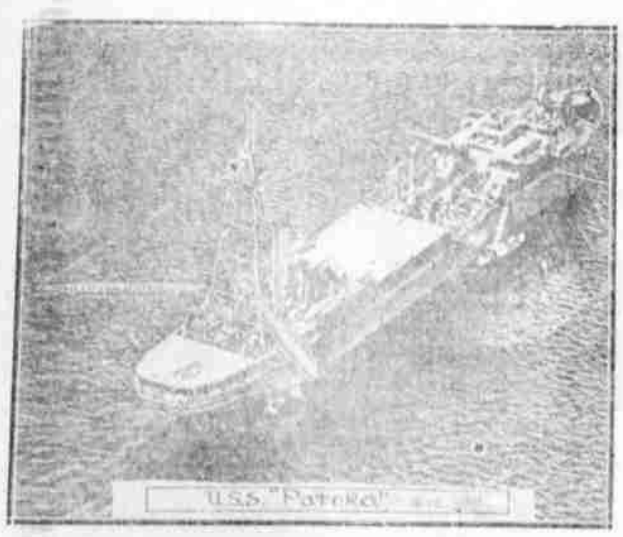
During the past year the number of treaties filed by individual states was as follows: Australia, 4; Austria, 2; Belgium, 3; Bulgaria, 3; Chili, 1; China, 6; Denmark, 25; Esthonia, 1; Finland, 18; France, 2; England, 39; Greece, 1; Hungary, 5; Italy, 7; Japan, 1; Latvia, 9; Norway, 5; Holland, 16; Peru, 1; Poland, 8; Portugal, 3; Roumania, 2; Serbia, 6; Sweden, 21; Switzerland, 4; Czecho-Slovakia, 14; Germany, 12.

As regards classification, the treaties registered with the League since its organization are divided as follows: General international agreements, 27; arbitration treaties, 18; commercial and navigation treaties, 98; extradition conventions, 21; postal and telegraphic and telephonic agreements, 68; frontier delimitations, 12; limitation of armaments, 1; economical and financial agreements, 32; protection of minorities, 13; aerial navigation, 19; bilateral sanitary agreements, 1; agreements relative to aliens, 18; transit agreements, 9; political agreements, 10; peace treaties, 15.

One of the latest treaties to be registered with the League was one under which Eoriann granted the constitution of the Irish Free State.

In this case as in the case of all treaties to be registered with the League was the one under which England granted the constitution of the Irish Free State.

MOTHER SHIP FOR U. S. S. SHENANDOAH.



Above is shown an aerial view of the U. S. S. "Patoka," airship tender and mother ship to the U. S. S. Shenandoah, the Navy's huge Zeppelin. She is the first vessel of her type to be equipped with a mooring mast to which the Shenandoah can be lashed. The Patoka will be attached to the battle fleet, towing the Shenandoah by her "nose" until time comes for the dirigible to cast off and seek the "enemy" fleets. She is also equipped to make all needed repairs. Successful moorings of the Shenandoah to the Patoka already have been made at Narragansett Pier, R. I.

MANY VISIT AT BOY SCOUT CAMP

The Boy Scout camp on Wolf creek was a favorite visiting spot yesterday, a large crowd of Roseburg people making a trip to the camp where the boys are spending an enjoyable two weeks. Among those who spent the day at Wolf creek were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Throne, Dr. and Mrs. Sether and daughter, Will E. Holbein, J. I. Love and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Stanton, T. H. Ohlsen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Stanton, J. V. Casey, Miss Florence Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. F. Linton, Mrs. A. C. Kidd, Mrs. A. B. Greenland, Miss Harms, Robert Kidd, J. E. Pickens and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Jones, Mrs. B. W. Kyles.

In the afternoon a baseball team composed of the visitors defeated the regular scout team by a score of 13 to 12.

The boys are having a fine time and are regretting the fact that their camp is to break up in a few days. The boys are being given credit for the work done in camp and a record is being made of all of their individual activities. They are given points for their detail work, and for services in camp, and prizes are to be awarded upon their return. The prizes to be given are as follows:

Most serviceable scout—A year's subscription to Boys' Life.

Best in scout handicraft—A scout knife.

Best in scout service—a neckerchief.

Second best in scout service—A neckerchief.

Best plant collection—A scout axe.

Best kept tent—A camp mirror.

Best animal collection—A scout knife.

Most obedient scout—A compass.

Best in camp attitude—A baseball.

Best instructor—A whistle.

Best in leadership—Safety match box.

Best in cleanliness—A mirror.

Best swimmer—A belt.

Greatest advancement—A mirror.

Autoists will find the Willard Battery station at 122 South Stephens street.

COMMITTEES ARE TO BE ENLARGED

In order to have at least a fair showing at the auto camp each evening the Chamber of Commerce has increased the number of the committees, and the officers of the chamber feel that all assigned to this important work should respond and thus cut down the time required talking to the tourists. This plan of visiting with the tourists has passed the experimental stage for the results obtained have been so far-reaching and important to the city of Roseburg and Douglas county that it would be a lack of good sense to stop these visitations. The committee appointed for this evening is composed of the following: Messrs. George Jones, Otto Goettel, J. M. Judd, W. Good, F. W. Haynes, J. W. Hamilton, Harry Hanlon and Nathan Fullerton. This committee will meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 7 o'clock sharp to receive their badges of identification. Every man is needed as the camp is filled every evening with men and women that desire information regarding this locality.

Tomorrow (Tuesday) evening the following committee will go to the auto camp: Messrs. F. C. Ockelmann, Stanford Jones, M. S. Hamm, H. W. Shaw, S. L. Kidder, E. R. Kenney, Lloyd Crocker and H. B. Yount. This committee will also meet at the chamber at 7 o'clock in the evening ready to go to the camp.

All business and professional men who value a new dollar should make it a point to visit the auto camp when asked to by the Chamber of Commerce. The money is down there, and all it needs to get it is to show common courtesy to these people.

NEW OBSERVATIONS OF MARS FRUITLESS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Nothing that was not already known has been developed during the current observations of Mars, according to Professor Edwin B. Frost of the University of Chicago, director of the Yerkes observatory. Reports of discoveries of the presence of light, water and vapor have merely verified results of former observations, he said.

Astronomers have known for some time of the existence of water and atmosphere on Mars, Professor Frost said. No foundation for a belief that life exists on Mars, beyond a possible lichen growth has been developed, he declared.

Observations at Yerkes observatory, which has the largest refractory lense in the world, have so far resulted in no new information regarding the planet or its satellites, according to the director. He has hopes of the traces of a third moon may be found during the coming month.

OWEN D. YOUNG IS NAMED TEMPORARY HEAD DAWES BOARD

PARIS, Aug. 25.—Owen D. Young of New York is to serve temporarily as agent-general under the Dawes reparation plan, probably for three months, during which time he will get the staff well organized and break in his permanent successor. In this work he will be aided by Rufus C. Dawes, brother of General Dawes and Henry M. Robinson, who like Mr. Young, served on the expert committees which drew up the plan.

Seymour Parker Gilbert, Jr., recently under-secretary of the treasury, is mentioned for the permanent post of agent-general, but in reparation circles, it is said, the selection has not yet been finally made.

Officially the Dawes plan is inoperative, pending ratification by the French and German parliaments and signature of the agreement which has thus far been only initialed by the negotiators.

The French senate will probably vote tomorrow, but the German Reichstag session is likely to last until next Thursday.

The appointment of an American as a voting member of the reparation committee is understood to be still uncertain. James A. Logan, Jr., the American observer with the commissions is favored for the place, but he refuses to discuss the suggestion, and it is known that many of his friends believe his considerable influence might better be exercised, by continuing in his unofficial capacity, leaving any other American to assume the voting power.

Rufus Dawes and Mr. Robinson will probably be the only important appointees to be named by Mr. Young, as the various countries will choose their representatives and the total personnel of the agency-general will not be large.

LARGE FIELDS ARE ENTERED IN RACE

HELENA, Mon., Aug. 25.—Montana's state wide primary election will close tonight with one of the largest fields entered since the enactment of the primary law, voters will choose nominees for one United States senator, two representatives to congress, and complete state and county tickets.

Intensive campaigns for congressional and gubernatorial nominations reaching to every city and town apparently have centered the interest in these contests. United States Senator Thomas J. Walsh is unopposed for the democratic nomination to succeed himself with four republicans seeking this nomination. Thirty-eight republicans, filed, creating contests for 11 of the 13 constitutional offices, while forty democrats registered for ten of these offices.

This is a Studebaker year.

CALIFORNIA VOTERS TO BALLOT TUESDAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—California will hold its biennial primary election tomorrow to eliminate candidates for the offices of representatives in congress, state senators in the odd numbered senatorial districts, assemblymen, delegates to the September state conventions on the holdover senatorial districts, chief justice of the supreme court, associate justices of the supreme court, and associate justices of the three district courts of appeal.

The registration for the election is 1,621,453 and is the largest in the history of the state. The republicans lead with 1,034,597; the democrats are second with 367,277, the socialists third with 19,544 and the prohibitionists fourth with 19,059. Those who declined to give their party affiliations number 129,508, and the miscellaneous are listed at 1,068.

For the first time in a decade there is more than casual interest in the legislative tickets. The so-called progressive elements have campaigned to some extent for the nomination of candidates who will be favorable to the return to policies initiated by former Governor Hiram W. Johnson as opposed to the policies of the present state administration.

THOROUGHBREDS ARE MOVED TO KLAMATH

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Aug. 25.—The first move of California thoroughbred cattle into the Klamath country as a result of a campaign to stimulate dairying in Langell valley, was evidenced today when a herd of over 100 head from Shasta valley were driven through this city, according to J. H. Kelley, who is fostering the movement. Today's influx is the first of 500 head soon to be brought here.

A cheese factory has been erected at Bonanza, east of here and it is expected will be in operation in the next thirty days. Dairymen intend to standardize their product and hope within the next few months to see the industry assume sizeable proportions.
