

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and will do it. Also it will aid digestion and furnish welcome refreshment to mouth and throat.

WRIGLEY'S after every meal

PRINCE OF WALES ENJOYS BIG CROWD

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

YOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The prince of Wales began his day this afternoon having retired in the early morning hours after an evening spent at the home of one Miss Long Island neighbors. It was the second occasion since his landing when he has left the J. Burden home to spend an evening in company of only Major D. Metcalfe, his secretary and two American friends.

The members of his staff who were with the prince last night were in bed at 11 o'clock this morning, according to members of the household. Nor had the prince arisen at that hour. It was reported that the prince had dined at the home of Devereux, Milner American polo player, and returned to the Burden home at six o'clock this morning.

Inspector Charlton of Scotland Yard, who guards the prince closely excepting when he goes on one of his trips of diversion from formal duty, said today that the first time the prince ever had been in such close contact with a crowd.

He said the prince got quite a thrill from the experience and remarked that it had been "rather good fun."

After getting beyond the jungles of India, the aviators experienced no trouble. Proceeding July 2 they made a hop of 500 miles from Allahabad to Umbrella and the same day made another short jump to Multan. July 3 they flew 475 miles to Karachi, their last stop in India, where they were again delayed by engine trouble. Leaving Karachi they followed the coast line, but they could not avoid the jungles east of Delhi. Here for seven hours, according to a story by Lieutenant Wade, the aviators flew over the tree tops, fighting the winds and were able to see plainly the wild beasts below. On one occasion, he said, a tiger was seen and he could have shot him if he had a gun.

machines. During the time a series of festivals in their honor was held in Tokio.

Resuming on June 1 the squadron winged its way 350 miles to Kushimoto and the next day went another 350 miles to Kagoshima, the last stop in Japan. The aviators thus completed the first flight over the Empire of Nippon ever made by United States army men.

Lieutenant Smith, who had been acting commander since the elimination of Major Martin, was formally appointed commander June 3 and the next day had his first bit of "commander's luck" which had followed Major Martin from the outset. Leaving Kagoshima June 4 Lieutenant Smith's plane developed engine trouble and refused to ascend. He directed Lieutenant Wade and Nelson to make the hop of 610 miles across the China Sea to Shanghai and he followed the next day, covering the distance in one hour and 15 minutes less than his companions required. A stretch of 555 miles to Amoy was covered June 7 and the next day they flew 300 miles to Hong Kong.

After a day's rest in Hong Kong the three planes made 500 miles June 10 bringing them to Haiphong and the next day a flight of 800 miles landed them at Tourane. Here Commander Smith experienced more engine trouble and a delay of five days was necessitated while a new engine was installed in his machine.

On June 16 the aviators reached the nearest point to the equator, when they flew from Tourane to Satcon, a distance of 630 miles. The route then led them to Bangkok, Siam, 675 miles away, which they covered on July 18 and two days later a flight of 450 miles to Rangoon, Burma, was made. One of the planes upon descending collided with a cargo boat, damaging the wings, which necessitated a delay of five days for repairs. The 445 miles from Rangoon to Akyab were covered June 25 and the next day in going to Calcutta, a distance of 400 miles, it was necessary to make a ten-minute detour out to sea to avoid a storm.

The flyers remained in Calcutta until July 1 and in the meantime Commander Smith suffered a broken rib in a fall from a culvert on the flying field. However, he accompanied his companions on the flight to Allahabad, 475 miles distant. The flyers had little or no difficulty in Cochin China, where they followed the coast line, but they could not avoid the jungles east of Delhi. Here for seven hours, according to a story by Lieutenant Wade, the aviators flew over the tree tops, fighting the winds and were able to see plainly the wild beasts below. On one occasion, he said, a tiger was seen and he could have shot him if he had a gun.

ATTITUDE ON KLAN MAY BE REVEALED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—For the first time since his acceptance of the republican nomination, President Coolidge had an opportunity today to get a comprehensive report on the political outlook from William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee whose recent stay at national headquarters in Chicago, preceded by a visit to eastern division headquarters, has given him a broad view of the general situation.

The republican nominee said recently that he had no public speaking engagements on his list. Since then however, he has accepted an invitation to speak before the Holy Name Society convention here September 2 and some political advisors have expressed the opinion that if he intends to make any declaration on the Ku Klux Klan he will do so at that time.

At the meeting with Mr. Butler this morning, the president received a report from Senator Watson of Indiana, who has been speaking in the western states.

Mr. Watson said the president's election was assured, but there was "grave doubt," as to the outcome of the senatorial situation and that a hard fight must be made to retain the republican senate majority. There are fighting chances, however, the senator said, to take seats from the democrats in Oklahoma and Kentucky and to defeat the farm-labor senator from Minnesota, Magnus Johnson. Likewise, Mr. Watson felt the chances were even for the election of republican senators in Colorado, West Virginia and Delaware in all of which states hard contests are in prospect.

WHEELER SCHEDULE IS VERY CROWDED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—Senator Wheeler, vice-presidential candidate on the La Follette ticket visited his boyhood home at Hudson early today to renew old acquaintances and memories. His speaking schedule today fixed only two engagements both in the evening hours, at Biddeford, Maine, and Portland, Maine.

Monday's four speeches two of them in the open air, demonstrated to the committee managers for the La Follette ticket the necessity of conserving Senator Wheeler's strength for the long strain of campaigning until November. His advisors urged that not more than two speeches a day be scheduled for the future, and preliminary programs were modified accordingly.

campaign address was begun today by Charles G. Dawes, while republican campaign managers set to work mapping out another speaking trip for the party's vice-presidential candidate.

The whole question of the number of speeches to be made during September and to what cities will be discussed at a conference within a few days between Mr. Dawes and Representative Saunders of Indiana, head of the republican speakers bureau.

Mr. Dawes is leaving to the national committee almost complete supervision of his speaking itinerary, but he has determined to make one request, and that is that he speak within the next few weeks in Wisconsin, the home state of Senator La Follette, independent candidate for president.
