Roy Sacks, of the Radio Barber Shop, who was a delegate from the local barber's union to the international convention at Indianapolis, returned home today.

Cars Damaged—The automobile belonging to W. D. Stevens, Underwood typewriter company representative, was badly damaged this morning when it was struck by a light truck owned by F. F. Patterson, local contractor. Mr. Stevens' machine was parked at the curb, and the light truck skidded into it, wrecking the fenders and running gear on one side. The entire front end of the truck was damaged.

Relative Local People Dead—Worth Harned, one of the four drowned at Seattle last Sunday, was the son of a woman who is well known to many people who have been residents of the city for a number of years. His mother, Mrs. W. J. Harned, was formerly Nellie Cochran, and for many years was a resident of Roseburg. She has been living in Portland and Seattle for the past 25 years, however. The young man was a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Stoitz, of this city.

Killed Bear—J. A. Campbell, A. Wade, Sam Campbell and Rob Mathews spent a week in the wilds 30 miles above Glide, where they had fine luck hunting. The weather was cold, and for two days and nights snow fell constantly, which was all right for hunting but inconvenient for camp life. The party set four traps and a big black bear and had all they could pack out on their four horses. The bear meat was partitioned among friends, who all enjoyed the delicacy.

LUCKY STRIKE

Cleanliness and Care in Manufacture

Every Lucky Strike factory is a model of sanitation. Read how Alfred W. McCann, the noted food expert describes one of our factories: "White walls and ceilings, floors as clean as freshly chiseled marble, cutting machines and wrapping machines that take away from the human hand all detail and leave nothing to the human supervision but the watchfulness of trained eyes"

Facts About Taxes on Cigarettes

We call particular attention to the statements made in the advertisement adjoining this editorial column. This advertisement, the purpose of which is to win new friends for Lucky Strike cigarettes, incidentally emphasizes the matter of high taxes on cigarettes. To those who are intimate with such matters there is, of course, no surprising statement made. To the general public, though, we believe it will be surprising to learn that nearly half of what they pay for cigarettes goes to the government for taxes. The internal revenue stamp on a package of twenty Lucky Strike cigarettes costs you six cents. On a tin of one hundred the revenue stamp costs you thirty cents. Of this enormous amount of money the cigarette industry paid $182,715,733.92, or nearly two-thirds of the total tax paid by the entire tobacco business. The immediately important point of the foregoing is the following: We believe you will appreciate that when nearly fifty cents of every dollar paid by you for cigarettes goes to the government, you must receive in cigarettes a value in return for your money that is rarely given in any commodity. That the public generally appreciates this great value is shown by the enormous increase in the consumption of cigarettes.

The Tobacco Industry and Taxes

Our reasons for this tax free offer. We know this offer induces men to try Lucky Strikes—it "Wins New Friends." We know that a large percentage of those who get acquainted with Lucky Strikes adopt them. This isn't philanthropy nor propaganda—just good business, as you'll agree. The offer is limited. We cannot afford to keep it up. We make it sensationally generous so as to attract attention. We are not giving money away for the offer accomplishes its purpose: Lucky Strike "Wins New Friends." Our volume increases.

Super-quality

It is only by immense volume that we can produce such an aristocratic cigarette as Lucky Strike at such a democratic price. Its quality is supreme because it has that costly, extra process, toasting, which improves the flavor and adds to the taste of even the finest tobacco that are used in Lucky Strikes. We urge you to participate in this offer—we want you to get acquainted with Lucky Strikes. We know a trial will make you a permanent customer of ours.

EASTERN MEN LOOK OVER TIMBER LAND

James L. Barrett and J. W. Carr, of Newberry, Mich., are here in the interests of a saw mill enterprise that may culminate in the purchase of timber lands near Roseburg. These gentlemen are manufacturers of lumber in their state, and have been on their way to Portland these two days. Carr and Barrett have been out with Scott Stevenson on a preliminary expedition of investigation of timber land east of the city, and if this comes up to their requirements it is believed they will buy the property. At present they have made no statement as to their ultimate intentions of plant, but they came all the way from Michigan to look over the timber being cruised and are giving the land their personal attention.
