Hollywood Actress Elopes

NITA NALDI

Great indignation was shown by Nita Naldi, film star from California, when reporters found her aboard a Europe-bound steamer and wanted to photograph her. She didn't like her holiday interrupted, she said, but later smilingly consented to a snapshot. The reason for the pout was explained when it was learned she was sailing to wed a Cleveland banker whom she met seven years ago while she was a chorus girl.

Antlers Theatre.

The Allan Dwan Paramount production of "Big Brother," a Rex Beach novel, which will be shown at the Antlers theatre tonight and tomorrow, is supplemented by a cast of worthiness and repute.

Heading the list of popular players, who bring the famous story to the silver sheet, is Tom Moore in the role of Jimmy Donovan, the leader of the car barn gang on New York's lower east side. It is doubtful if Moore ever had a more appropriate role. Edith Roberts, whose recent return to the studios after an illness finds her in greater popularity than ever, plays the feminine lead. There is Raymond Hatton, also featured in the role of a dope fiend; Mickey Bennett, the talented seventeen-year-old player, Charles Henderson, Joe King, Paul Panzer, Neil Kelley, William Black, Milton Herman, Florence Ashbrook and Yvonne Hughes play in support.

Liberty Theatre

The Liberty theatre is to be congratulated on the excellent entertainment this week. The featured attraction is the Selznick photodrama, "Missing Daughters"

The story concerns the dangers and pitfalls which lurk in the cabarets and cafes frequented by the pleasure-seeking flappers of today. In "Missing Daughters" three very pretty and exceedingly indiscreet maidens are kidnapped and carried by airplane across the Mexican border. Their subsequent adventures make the audience sit on the edges of their chairs and gasp.

Husband Stole Son, She Says

Mrs. Charles Bliss

Mrs. Charles Bliss

"She's still my wife," was the answer of Charles Bliss of Tulsa, Okla., to charges of his wife that he stole their four-year-old son. She is known on the stage as Beryl Brown, Chicago opera star.

The Rev. Dr. Lawrence M. Light, pastor of the Methodist Church at Ins, Ill., under arrest at Mount Vernon, has confessed that he killed his wife with arsenic and that he had previously murdered Wilford Sweetin by giving him the same poison. He gave Sweetin the poison when the latter was ill and declared he slew both "to end their suffering." Light denied he killed the pair so as to be able to make love to Mrs. Elsie Sweetin, as had been rumored. Mrs. Sweetin is ill over the affair. She denied caring for Light and declared she always loved her husband.

Pauline Starke have the leading feminine rules and very attractive and convincing they are in them. Rockcliffe Fellows is the rescuing hero and while this is entirely different from the part he played in "Flapper Wives," he gives an equally pleasing characterization.
