SUNDAY AT THE
— CHURCHES —

Services will be held at the Green school house on Sunday afternoon as usual. Sunday school at 2 p. m. Rally Day will be observed by the American Sunday School Union and will be marked by a short program. Preaching services at 3 p. m. will be conducted by Rev. McCullagh, of the Presbyterian church.

International Bible Students Ass'n.—Study at 939 W. First St. every Sunday at 10:30 a. m. The subjects for study will be the "Ransom, and the Atonement." Who were the responsible men that incited the mob against Jesus? To what did the civil power yield in sentencing Jesus to death?
And which was more reprehensible, the civil, or the ecclesiastical power, in this case? All interested in Bible study are invited to come and study with us.

Bible Standard Mission, Jackson street, opposite News-Review. Rev.
L. F. Burror, pastor. Regular services at 7:30 this evening, tomorrow evening (Saturday). Young People's meetings, also at 7:30. Our young people's meeting has been growing in interest and attendance has been increasing. A delegation from Canyonville will be present with their orchestra and a good time is anticipated. Regular services Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. The subject for the afternoon will be "No Cross, No Crown." In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Sin of Neglect." Also regular services Tuesday and Friday evenings at 7:30. We earnestly solicit the prayers and cooperation of all Christian people, and extend to you a hearty invitation to attend these services. You will feel at home here in these old-fashioned gospel meetings. Before you invest, investigate.

Lutheran Services. Lutheran services at the Episcopal Parish House, 214 E. Cass St., at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Subject for the sermon: "The Two Great Questions for the Christian." You go to political meetings to listen to the discussion of the great problems and questions confronting the political world. Why not also attend a meeting where the questions for the Christians are answered; questions so great, that in all eternity you will hear the consequences of the various answers that you give. Are you sure that you have given the right answer? Come and find out. Last Sunday we had a nice attendance.
Come again Sunday, and let us try to increase the number. Bring your friends. Strangers are cordially invited. H. H. Young, pastor.

Robt. LaFollette Jr. Says

O'CONNOR ANSWERED

Replies to Charges Made by Shipping Board Man and

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) LA FOLLETTE SPECIAL. Enroute to Sioux Falls Oct. 17.— South Dakota is the next objective of Senator Robert M. La Follette as he continued campaigning today in the northwest. The independent presidential candidate, intends to follow up with an address today at Sioux Falls, the attack he made on President Coolidge last night to a Minneapolis audience.

Mr. La Follette declared Mr.
Coolidge owed his nomination as vice-president to "fate and misleading propaganda," with reference to his attitude and actions during the Boston police strike, and his elevation to the presidency to the death of President Harding.

The Wisconsin senator charged the president failed to "clean house" after it was disclosed that some members of the cabinet were guilty of dereliction of duty, criticized the appointment of C. Bascom Sloop as his secretary and declared Mr. Coolidge gained the support of the reactionary elements of the republican party by a "false plea of economy."

Robert M. La Follette, Jr., who is accompanying his father, issued this statement today as the candidate's train traveled toward Sioux Falls.
"My attention has just been called to a statement at Buffalo, on Wednesday, by Thomas V. O'- Connor of the shipping board, in which he challenged any one in "absolute authority" in the progressive campaign to deny that a large amount of money has come through Mexico from Russia to help the La Follette-Wheeler ticket.

"In the vocabulary of the progressives 'absolutely authority' means the people. But so far as the campaign contributions are concerned I have absolute knowledge and I emphatically deny O'Con-nor's statement. I denounce it as a willful and malicious campaign lie. It is another loose and untruthful statement made by desperate Coolidge henchmen. If it were anything else than a campaign canard, O'Connor would have placed alleged evidence before the Borah committee now in session in Chicago and not have given it out at Buffalo.

"I am telegraphing Frank P.
Walsh requesting that he subpoena O'Connor before the Borah committee and put him under oath and require him to testify of two points. First, as to his alleged evidence of campaign contributions to the La Follette-Wheeler campaign from Russia or from any other foreign source, directly or indirectly secondly, as to O'Connor's payment of railroad fares, hotel bills and entertainment of the hired audience of fake labor leaders delivered to O. White House to listen to President Coolidge's Labor Day address. I want to know from whom he got his authority to hire his audience and pay the freight on it both ways, and where he got the money to pay the bills."

HOW TO KEEP SOON
BIRDS OVER WINTER

Food and shelter will keep a great many of our little song birds here all winter. The Amer-that birds go south in winter chiefly because they cannot get food enough during those months in the northern states and that many would stay with us all winter if we would but give them the assurance of food and shelter.

If one is clever with tools, splendid little feeding tables (bird cafeterias, with sheltering roofs can be made. Sometimes they are constructed with a wire so as to turn with the wind and so give shelter at all times. Scientifically designed ones may be bought of any of the bird house companies. I have used the small protecting roofs of the first floor of our home for feeding stations. If your home happens to have any of these little roofs beneath an upstairs window you will find that if it is in a sheltered place it makes a pretty good feeding station. The food may be put out easily from the upstairs window and you will get a great deal of joy out of watching your little guests during the winter months.

Do you know that thirty-six species of birds attack the codling moth? And do you know that the codling moth does more damage to apples and pears than all other insects combined?
Do you know there are forty species of little birds which live largely upon destructive plant life?
More than fifty species feed upon caterpillars.

That great friend of the birds, Joseph H. Dodson, tells us that a single yellow-throated warbler will consume ten thousand tree lice in a day.

Let's begin now inviting our bird friends to winter with us.
Establish your feeding stations and be sure that no little bird ever comes there for food and finds the cupboard bare. Give him assurance that the table will always be set. Have two feeding tables if you can, so the robins cannot rob the little birds; if you have but one there is danger that the little ones hanging around to get their breakfast after the robins are filled, may give it up and go away hungry, especially if it is cold weather.

And when winter is on be sure to make them glad they stayed, by putting out plenty of food, especially seed, don't forget the nest. Don't forget either to guard the cats closely. And protect the small birds all you can from that raucous voiced pest we have had washed upon us—the English sparrow. He is destructive and filthy, and, next to the cat, is our songster's bitterest enemy.
