ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1924.

THE LEARNING SPIRIT.

It is a mystery how some people can have any idea of getting on in the world, considering how they fail to show any purpose to improve the quality of the service they give.

The world is full of quitters, who when things go against them will say "Tain't no use." That is why the bleachers yell when a bunch of ball players, after facing defeat, yet refuse to give in one inch, but play with increased energy.

Hallow'en was once celebrated by the young people as a time when they tried out quaint tests to determine who their future husbands and wives would be.

Every victory of the socialistically inclined that results in municipal or state ownership and operation, represents an entering wedge in the attempt to force open the doorway to paternalism and make the people work for the state instead of having the state serve the people.

The general purposes of the labor government of England have not been viewed with too much favor in this country. Yet it is generally admitted that they have done something to bring about a more peaceful outlook in Europe.

One of the most "stirring events" of these times occurs about 6:30 a. m., when the housewife stirs up a good mess of muffins.

The people who demand absolute equality can find it well exemplified in the almshouse.

PRUNE PICKIN'S SOLID SOUTH IS DAVIS AUDIENCE

BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS— A flock of fellers From the metrop Dropped in on us today And shook a festive paw But refrained From discussin' Whether Roseburg Or Portland Is the real Rose city.

GOES TO KENTUCKY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21.—John W. Davis went out of Tennessee today to carry his campaign into Kentucky and then back to Indiana and Ohio.

Some of the village spell-binders will compete with the outsiders at the army tonight and it is hoped the audience will give the home town boys some encouragement.

Congressman Hawley was in our sanctum this a. m. and instead of wearing a silk top hat like we see congressmen do in the movies, he had on a regular Is-man derby.

The drum corps escorted the Portland aggregation up the main stem this p. m. and they certainly did beat a wicked sheep-skin.

Portland's Bull Run aqua pura will have nothin' on the oratory tonight.

The local sheiks had been competing from the upstate guys today and many a side-burn was put to shame by the well-groomed toupees of a successful business man.

Why do boosters insist on singing in falsetto?

The visitors were taken through all of the local industries except the home brewin' plants.

Bill Holbein, seek of the local chamber of com. had on a red ribbon which identified him as a member of the receptacle committee.

We'll bet the "help" of those Portland business men are havin' a great time this week.

Thank hevings, the visitors were not candidates for any office.

A couple shots of Umpqua cider will make these Portland fellers forget their home and fireside.

You guys from the metrop may grow swell roses but ours haven't any thorns on 'em.

They called themselves a "trade excursion," but we wouldn't trade one square inch of Umpqua valley terra firma for the hull dinged Willamette valley.

Even if the Portland papers don't mention us, we're still on the map and datin' business at the same ol' stand.

We're dern proud of our damsels and we don't mind you fellers admirin' 'em.

There ain't no traffick cops in our village to bother ya."

and sublime achievements of the human race."

Jackson and Wilson Davis declared, have been set up as great milestones of American history because of the qualities they personified.

As Jackson broke the shackles of financial monopoly, so too did Woodrow Wilson build on new foundations a monetary system that knows no other equal.

Turning to a discussion of campaign issues, Mr. Davis asked his audience to apply to them the Jacksonian test.

"Call these gentlemen from Washington," he said, "and ask them first of all: 'have you been honest?'"

Cries of no, no, came from the stands and Mr. Davis replied: "That is not the answer they make. They say 'no, in spots.'"

Mr. Davis said that Fordney-McCumber tariff bill was the most tainted statute ever written.

Schedules of the law Mr. Davis declared, were written by privileged and interested parties who received high rates of duty on products in which they personally were interested.

He attacked the "flexible provisions," of the tariff act saying they gave unto the "king's hands" the right to raise or lower tariff rates fifty percent.

The report of the federal trade commission on sugar which has been given to President Coolidge, recommending reduced tariff on that commodity, Mr. Davis added, had been ignored by the chief executive.

"It looks as though nothing will be done with it before the presidential elections have passed," the nominee said, adding that such practices as he charged appeared "peculiarly abortive in their effect upon the legislative process."

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—Coach Enoch Hagshaw was grooming his team today for the Oregon Aggie contest at the stadium here Saturday.

The Huskies have started practice under arc lights with a white football. Special attention was being given to offense and defense plays.

Pacific and Gonzaga, who remained idle last week end, are to be seen in action Friday, the former meeting the college of Idaho at Forest Grove, Oregon, and the latter playing Multnomah at Spokane.

Whitman, another Northwest conference eleven in action last week, is to face Oregon Saturday.

Washington, Oregon Gonzaga and Idaho and Oregon Aggies are tied for first place in the northwest conference race, having won all games this season. Following are the standings:

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Tied, Pct. Washington 3 0 0 1.000, Idaho 2 0 1 1.000, Oregon Aggies 1 0 0 1.000, Wash. State 1 2 0 .333, Oregon 1 0 1 .500, Willamette 0 1 1 .500, Whitman 0 2 0 .000, Pacific 0 2 2 .000, Montana 0 2 0 .000

SEATTLE, Oct. 21.—Harold Schidler, University of Washington halfback, playing his first year of college football leads all players with 50 points in both the Pacific Northwest intercollegiate and Pacific Coast intercollegiate football contests in scoring according to figures compiled here.

Schidler has converted more try-for-points than any other player having 12. The other points were made by kicking two field goals and making seven touch downs.

Wilson, Husky half back, is second with 36 points, six touch-downs and Gutterman, purple and gold quarterback is tied for third with Earl, University of Southern California back, with 30 points five touch-downs.

Most of the scoring has been made by backfield men, which indicates that a running offense has held sway during the first games of the season.

In compiling the following standing of the leading ten players of both conferences, all games were used:

Table with columns: Player Team, TD, Yds, Pts. Schidler Wash. 7 12 50, Wilson Wash. 6 8 30, Gutterman Wash. 5 8 30, Earl U. S. C. 5 0 20, Kelly Montana 4 0 20, Bogue Stanford 4 0 20, Dixon Calif. 3 2 12, Sweet Montana 2 5 8, Hawkins U. S. C. 2 11 8, Schultze Ore. A. 2 2 8

The children include quadruplets—two boys and two girls—born during the war, for whom M. Poincaré, who was then president of France, King Albert of Belgium, King George of England and the Empress of Russia were godfathers and godmothers.

M. Poincaré induced the academy and the multi-millionaire founder of several such annual prizes to waive the rules which limit the awards to families in which the parents are under 40 years of age. Dubreuil is 35.
