LITERARY DIGEST VOTE IS PROBED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—While its process servers sought witnesses wanted in connection with efforts to corroborate sensational but as yet secret stories regarding the alleged misuse of funds in the republican campaign, the senate campaign fund investigating and committee stood today in recess.

Another as yet unexplored field which probably will be entered upon next week is the amount and source of the funds collected in the Pittsburgh district for the republican national committee.

More important than education or recreation is the education of the young one's teeth.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

PATRICIA CLEVE protests to her husband. ANDREW CLEVE, a young lawyer, that he has made her a tamer of other women's husbands.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT XXVI—PATRICIA THE REFORMER

PATRICIA stared at the slip of paper. What could it mean, this scribbled notation of Keith's name and his partner's?

She came down to breakfast the next morning looking weary and distraught.

"My dear, you don't eat anything," Carol protested.

"I'm ashamed to be anything else," murmured Patricia, persistent, keeping her eyes from Carol's generous curves.

"No—but I'll make up for it, and you'll get your diet," she said.

"Well, dieting's bad for you; it'll ruin your health," insisted Keith, helping himself to more waffles.

"I don't diet; I just eat sensibly," Patricia retorted.

"I'm—yes, I guess you do," he admitted reluctantly.

"The equipment of this train is entirely new—on a faster schedule than any train heretofore between these points.

gave us well-balanced diets, including the things we ought to have.

"We all belong to a woman's club that has a gymnasium and a swimming pool and we put in an hour there every day, or in outdoor exercises—riding in the park or walking; we vary it, so that it won't get monotonous.

"Oh, yes. But I began doing it after I'd been talking to Andrew's secretary one day and reading an interview with Lillian Dick.

"No, but even if I had, I'd do as one or two women I know do, and manage to get what exercise I ought to have.

"America wants peace, as the normal, the right, the assured estate in a world from which a wisergeneration shall have forever outlawed aggressive war."

The president detailed the instances of America's aid to stricken countries of Europe, Russia and Japan, in charities, donation, cooperation and loans and asserted that the policy adopted by this government is the one most likely to promote peace and good will toward us among other nations.

Over one hundred members of the business and professional women's club met last night at the Heinlein studio to perfect the organization.

The formation of gymnasium and reading clubs and other such organized activities, was discussed, and although these will not be a part of the main club, yet they will be fostered, encouraged and supported.

The women of the city are quite enthusiastic over the organization, believing that it will be productive of much real good in the community.

COOLIDGE MAKES TALK AT BANQUET

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—International cooperation, applied according to the Golden Rule, was summed up as the foreign policy of this government by President Coolidge in an address last night at the Near East Relief association's Golden Rule dinner.

Today's program gave the president an opportunity to rest somewhat from the strenuous activities of the last few days, during which he has delivered three speeches, including one of the most extensive he has made.

Tomorrow night, however, he will address by radio, a meeting in New York of the Federated Societies of Jewish Charities.

"The hope and aim of America is to help Europe help itself," Mr. Coolidge declared last night.

WHITE HISTORY OF THE ESKIMO RACE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.) SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—A comparative history of the Eskimo race is to be written by Knud Rasmussen, Danish explorer and leader of the first Arctic expedition to Denmarc, declared Rasmussen here today after his arrival yesterday on the steamship Victoria from Nome, Alaska.

Rasmussen's party traveled more than 20,000 miles along the Arctic coast of Canada and Alaska by gassing, scooping, dog team and on foot, studying, learning and taking motion pictures. "I have positive proof of the origin of the Eskimo race, but I regret that I cannot make public my discoveries at present," said Rasmussen. "I have proved that one can travel from Greenland, through the Canadian Arctic, Alaska, and to the coast of Siberia, and be understood by an Eskimo tribes in a common language."

There are not more than 40,000 Eskimos in all the tribes from Greenland to Siberia, in the vicinity of the North pole I found several tribes which had never before been visited by white men.

More than 2,000 feet of motion picture film were taken together with a number of stills, showing some of the things experienced by the party.
