ROSEBURG, OREGON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1924

THE POWER OF ROOTING.

In school and college sport, the contestants who battle on the football gridiron or baseball diamond are not the only contending forces. A great deal is supposed to depend on the rooting from the supporters of the contesting teams. The organization of cheering is an important element in the battle. A good cheer leader is apt to be quite as much exhausted at the end of the contest as any of the players. If he loses "pep" and snap and enthusiasm, the crowd feels the lack of his stimulating power, and cheering lags, and the players complain that they did not get good support. It is frequently said that one reason for the poor success of athletic teams is that they fail to get heartening support from their comrades. It may be thought that cheering is a very intangible kind of thing, and some may doubt if it makes much difference in the way games come out. But the players will testify that it makes a very real difference to them. The familiar yells of their student associates, the favorite old songs, the voices of friends giving them encouragement, put heart into players, revive their drooping spirits when things go wrong, and make them feel that victory is possible and that they can and will attain it. If rooting makes such a difference in these sports, it is highly probable that this same force is a factor in the struggles of people after they leave school. The folks who try to put over any kind of community effort will testify that it is. It is hard to make headway in an atmosphere of silence and indifference. The applause of friends and townspeople, who show appreciation of good efforts, will do a great deal to encourage all who are trying to make better cities and towns, and to give our people the best of modern advantages.

Over in England it is customary to howl down speakers who appear at public rallies. In the United States this rarely happens. Our political managers would quickly disavow such an act. They would realize that this discourtesy would hurt their cause far more than anything an opposing speaker could say. This feeling of fair play is held by many people who have no special refinement. Perhaps it comes from athletic traditions, the feeling that good sportsmanship demands that all contestants have a fair chance. Now if this feeling of fair play could be carried one step further, so as to condemn the public men who utter untruths and misrepresentations, it would be a wonderful thing. Some day the speaker that stretches the truth in the interest of his own cause will be seen to be doing his own party more harm than any attacks of opponents could.

The figures of railroad operation for September show that while the income was one per cent under the corresponding expenses last year, the operating costs were eight per cent lower. This was partly due to reduction of maintenance expenses, but not wholly so. The railroads protest against the public demand for lower freight charges, and say that even now they are not earning a fair dividend. It would help their position wonderfully with the public if they could get their operating costs down so that they could be placed on a secure financial basis, and permit the freights on certain farm products to come down. It would help a lot to accomplish these ends, if railway managements and employes could work together enthusiastically and harmoniously to bring railroad operation to the height of efficiency.

A man recently returned from a four days' trip, and remarked that three different people had apparently attempted to cheat or rob him. A necktie had disappeared from his unlocked grip left in a hotel room, and in two cases the totals of his bill in restaurants had been added up to a sum larger than was correct. Possibly the latter two cases were errors, but short changing is becoming a common trick. Which goes to show that when you go away from your own home folks in Roseburg, who know you and desire to deal squarely with you, it is advisable to pull your eyes open somewhat wider.

The publication of income taxes will give cause for sharp differences of opinion and much heated debate. There is one idea, however, to which all parties to this dispute should be able to agree. The more disposition the people show to make honest tax returns, and the more obligation they feel to render a fair account of their income and pay the government all they ought to, the less of a demand for publicity there will be. The demand for publication of these figures is no doubt considerably encouraged by the feeling that many people show a spirit of evasion.

Real estate dealers say that when you sell a man a home you create the strongest defense there is against bolshevism. Once a man acquires title to a piece of property, he finds that there are many better things to do than to agitate for a red government. He can see how thrift and energy can improve his position every day. As he pays off the mortgage on his house, as he makes it more valuable by improvements, his satisfaction with his happiness increases and he becomes a more useful citizen. The bolshevists will make no progress in a country of home owners.

The News-Review covers Douglas county like a blanket—when it comes to circulation. That is why this paper gets wonderful results for its advertisers.

"LARGEST" PRE-HISTORIC BRUTE IS AGAIN FOUND

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The remains of a gigantic prehistoric animal, probably twice the size of the Carnegie diplodocus, has been discovered in Tangayika, Africa, and officials of the British natural history museum are negotiating with the discoverer in an attempt to secure them.

Sir Sidney Harmer, director of the museum, told the Morning Post the bones were finely preserved, and gave an idea of their size by saying that while the upper arm bone of the diplodocus was 2¼ feet long, the corresponding bone in the Tangayika dinosaur was seven feet.

RAPIDS OF THE UMATILLA WILL BE POWER BASE

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 13.—The Umatilla Rapids Association here yesterday passed resolutions committing the organization and the cities and towns from Portland to Lewiston to a program for river improvement that provides for dam construction and river canals between the Celilo locks and Lewiston.

The first unit in the proposed program will be the construction of the dam at Umatilla Rapids. This will flood the Rapids of the Columbia to the mouth of Snake river, reclaim a large area of arid land in Oregon and Washington, provide a bridge for crossing the river and will generate electrical power that will make the government the largest wholesaler of electrical current in the country.

The association will take up the matter of finding a market for this power which isregarded as important in presenting the claims of the association before congress.

DIVORCE AND MARRIAGE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The department of commerce announces that, according to returns received, there were in the United States, for the calendar year 1923, 1,222,825 marriages performed and 165,139 divorces granted. For the calendar year 1922, 1,129,045 marriages and 148,815 divorces were reported.

The increase in marriages reported for 1923, with one county lacking, over the number reported for 1922 is 94,780, or 8.4 per cent. Nebraska is the only state in which there was a marked decrease in 1923 and this is due to some extent to an amendment to the marriage law in 1923 requiring the posting of the application for marriage licenses for a period of 10 days before the license is issued.

The divorces reported for 1923, with three counties lacking, show an increase shown for the state of Washington is due to a change in the divorce law in 1921 which caused a considerable decrease in the number of final decrees entered in 1922, the first year in which the new law was in effect.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Kentucky.

CROWN PRINCE ELECTS TO LIVE AS "GENTLEMAN"

OELS, Germany, Nov. 13.—It was just a year ago today that former Crown Prince Frederick William crossed the Dutch Frontier into Germany and tomorrow will mark the first anniversary of his reunion with his family here.

The year has been an eventful one in Germany's effort at reconstruction and the politicians have made many attempts to enlist the returned exile in party activities, but apparently without success.

Many rumors have been circulated as to his probable adoption of some calling aside from his work as gentleman farmer on his Oels estate but these have all been denied.

His eldest son has entered the office of a large exporting house in Hamburg.

BERLING, Nov. 13.—The engagement is announced of Princess Joachim of Prussia, widow of the former Kaiser's youngest son, to Herr Bienert, a Saxon land owner.

MANUSCRIPTS OF ORIENTAL ORIGIN SENT TO AMERICA

LONDON, Nov. 13.—A priceless collection of 447 Oriental manuscripts, many of them of utmost rarity and some dating from the eighth century, has been presented to the University of Michigan by a friend of that institution who refused to let his name be made public, and has been forwarded to Ann Arbor by way of London.

More than half the manuscripts many of which belonged to the Sultan Abdul Hamil, are written in Arabic, while the others are in the Persian and Turkish languages. Many are caligraphic and some of the Persian manuscripts contain illuminations of superior quality.

The principal portion of the manuscripts belonged to Abdul Hamid, and was sold and exported when the young Turks came into power. The late J. Pierpont Morgan secured an option on them, but his fatal illness intervened and another purchaser could not be obtained until they came to the notice of the University's unnamed benefactor.
