TERRIFIC GALE HOLDS EAST IN GRIP 48 HOURS

Deaths and Disaster Follow in Wake of Destructive Storm.

Gale Passes Out to Sea After Holding Atlantic Coast in Icy Grip for Two Days.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Leaving in its path a mounting toll of deaths and disaster the great gale which for 48 hours held the Atlantic seaboard in icy grip appeared today to have passed out to sea.

Ten known dead, many missing, huge property losses to shipping and wholesale damage ashore was the toll in this section.

Today, while saving agencies were mobilized to search the sea for missing craft and missing men, the wind abated. Weather forecasters predicted milder temperatures with possible rain or snow in adjacent districts. It was 29 degrees above zero in New York City before noon.

Tragic tales of the storm have begun to drift into the news channels. A barge skipper died of exposure at the end of a rope which was hauling him from the water to safety aboard a United States revenue cutter.

A wealthy man dozed in his automobile in a garage and died there, a poor man froze to death in an Elizabeth tenement while his son was out looking for work.

Scores of fishermen and rum-runners caught in the gale, abandoned sinking small craft and were rescued by coast guards.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 18.—One death from the cold weather which swept the Ohio valley yesterday bringing with it the first snow of the season was reported here today. The body of an unidentified man was found buried in the snow on the banks of the Olentangy river. Apparently he had frozen to death.

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—A wintry blast with a high wind and a temperature dropping nearly to zero in parts of New England has brought death to two men, distress to ships along the coast from Maine to Cape Cod and delay to trains.

Three barges, bound for Rockland, Maine, were adrift today. Captain Albert Peterson of Brooklyn, N. Y., died in the freezing water when made fast to a line shot to his barge from the coast guard cutter Ossipee.

One ship was reported ashore and two schooners off Cape Cod were riding the heavy seas with their sails in tatters and their anchors cut. There was one death in Boston from exposure.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 18.—The wave of winter weather which swept over to New York state Sunday night wrought havoc with both harvested and unharvested crops, according to reports. Farmers reported generally that produce customarily left in the fields or stored outside had been ruined.

ROCKLAND, Maine, Nov. 18.—The death list from the storm off this port yesterday was brought to four today when searching vessels returned here and reported they could find no trace of three men forming the crew of the barge Hopatcong, which foundered off Monhegan Island, Captain Peterson of Brooklyn, N. Y., died last night as the coast guard cutter Ossipee sought to rescue him from his barge, the Canisteo.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—Governor Pierce today issued a requisition on the governor of Colorado for the extradition to Oregon of Edmund A. Zoehert, who is wanted in Morrow county on a charge of embezzling public funds. George McDuffee, sheriff of Morrow county, will go to return the prisoner to Oregon.

BUTLER NOT RESIGNING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—William M. Butler announced today he would not resign the chairmanship of the republican national committee when he takes his seat next month as a senator from Massachusetts.

There were indications that this decision was reached after a conference with President Coolidge with whom Mr. Butler has been in consultation since his arrival here yesterday.

CAN OWN NEWSPAPERS

SEATTLE, Nov. 18.—Graduates of the University of Washington school of journalism can own their own newspapers after finishing their courses under a plan announced here today by Dean M. Lyle Spencer, director.

Dean Spencer, who has been financing the scheme, said it has been in operation for some time and that seven newspapers in Washington have been purchased by graduating students.

When the newspapers are purchased, Dean Spencer said he becomes owner of 51 per cent of the stock, the graduate student buying the remaining shares and paying for it over a period of years. In addition to dividends on the stock, the student is paid a salary for operating the paper and eventually may purchase the controlling interest, said Dean Spencer. Payments on the 51 per cent of stock are made by the deposit of dividends.

ACCUSED OF SLAYING

LA GRANDE, Nov. 18.—A warrant was sworn out here this morning against Newton Gamble in connection with the slaying of William Wigglesworth Monday night at Union, Oregon. The coroner's inquest at Union late last night failed to fix the blame for the killing. The district attorney however, ordered Gamble detained.

The district attorney gave as his reason for holding Gamble that the marshal at Union and a citizen of that town stated that Gamble's daughter had told them her father shot Wigglesworth. She denied this at the inquest.

Gamble and Wigglesworth were neighbors and friends of many years' standing. They were accustomed to playing cards together, and no evidence has reached officers that there had been any ill feeling between the pair.

The property because of its situation is very valuable for business purposes.

PLAN NEW ASSOCIATION

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 18.—Progress toward its goal of welding 30,000 practicing journalists throughout the country into an association similar to that of the legal and medical professions was announced here today by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, meeting in annual convention at Indiana University.

PLAN REFORESTATION

SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—A plan to encourage reforestation in Oregon by relieving the timber land owner of the tax burden of standing timber will be presented to the state legislature by the state forestry board, which is discussing the plan in a meeting here today.

It is said that the denuded timber land in Oregon now is not reforested for the reason that an annual tax is imposed on standing timber, although the timber brings no financial returns to its owner until it is mature enough to harvest. About 60 years is required for its development to that stage.

The plan to be proposed would make a small fixed value on the land for tax purposes, pending development of the timber, and when the time arrives to cut the timber, to levy a severance tax on the product, but to eliminate the annual tax on standing timber.

MAN WHO TRIED TO IMPEDE WAR GIVEN AMNESTY

Joseph Caillaux, Former Premier of France, Is Restored Rights.

Man Who Was Banished Will Probably Be Given an Office in Government of France.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
PARIS, Nov. 18.—Joseph Caillaux, former premier, who in October, 1918, was found guilty of having "impeded prosecution of the war" was voted amnesty by the senate today 167 to 117.

The amnesty was adopted by the chamber of deputies last July.

Louis Malvy, former minister of the interior, convicted of communication with the enemy during the war and banished from France for three years, was voted amnesty by 195 to 62.

The vote on the Caillaux case, after only two hours discussion in the chamber, was a surprise alike to the friends and foes of the ex-premier, who had expected a long and acrimonious debate lasting for perhaps weeks.

The vote was taken after a stirring speech by Premier Herriot, who pleaded with the senators to let bygones be bygones.

"France is strong enough to be able to withstand divergencies of opinion," he said. "Let us bury forever in oblivion the quarrels and political differences which during the war appeared to be sources of danger." From a legal standpoint, argued the premier, Caillaux had never been convicted of treason or even "intelligence with the enemy," but had been condemned under an antiquated clause inserted in the French penal code at the time of Napoleon's continental blockade in order to prevent French citizens corresponding with the enemy.

The amnesty restores Caillaux to full civic rights. He now may run for parliament and hold office. Upon well informed authority it is said the government intends to make him "financial adviser" to the ministry of finance.

He is declared by his friends by no means to have said his last words in French politics.

The announcement of amnesty to the former premier whose case long gave rise to bitter disputes among Frenchmen in all walks of life, estrangement of friends, duels and rioting in the streets, caused hardly a ripple on the surface of the life of Paris today.

FOSDICK SUSPENDED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—After months of controversy which according to Presbyterian ministers has "afflicted the whole country and broken up friendships," the New York Presbytery has decided, with only two dissenting votes, that Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick's services as special preacher at the First Presbyterian Church must end March 1, 1925, and that in the meantime he may continue to fill the pulpit.

DISCUSS CONDITIONS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 18.—The country cannot live half prosperous and half poverty-ridden, Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, said in an address here today before the district meeting of the absolute inter-dependence of the component parts in the outstanding fact of the society.

In an attempt to study the fluctuations of labor in connection with equalizing conditions between good and bad years, he said, the railroad had recently organized a committee of executives.

"If the railroads could go into the market for cars and locomotives and could spend large sums of money in repairing and building on their equipment and other facilities in a bad business year and not have to make such large expenditures in a good business year."

NEW COUNCIL STARTS WORK

Mayor Houck Organizes Committees and Makes Appointments.

OLD OFFICERS KEPT

No Changes Made in Appointive Positions—New Mayor Expresses Aims For Future.

Roseburg's new city council met last night, and started off their administration with a bang, in a short snappy meeting. Mayor Houck in a brief talk outlined a few of his aims for the future, and asked for expressions from the council. He made the appointments to special offices, retaining the same persons who have been serving in the past, expressing satisfaction with the city organization and making no changes from the former list of appointive officers.

The old council, with Mayor Rice in the chair, opened the meeting and disposed of a few minor matters of routine business. The election results were canvassed and the new councilmen were declared elected and were sworn in, with the exception of F. A. Reidel, who because of illness is still unable to attend.

The new councilmen are Storey Hen, Frank Coakley, Stanley Kidder, M. C. Radabaugh, C. B. Wade, F. A. Reidel, C. K. Allen, and G. W. Young.

The new council was formed, and Mayor Houck spoke for a few minutes asking the support, cooperation, and help of the council and an observance of duty. As members of the council, he stated, they would be subject to much criticism and little praise, and their only reward would be a sense of duty well performed.

He stated that it would be his aim to extend the corporate limits of the city, in order to bring to Roseburg the standing due it among the cities of the state.

"I believe it is safe to say that there are three thousand people living on the outskirts of the city, enjoying the privileges of the city, who are not within the limits," Mayor Houck stated. There is a mutual benefit to be incurred by both the city and these residents by the extension of the city limits. By extending north the railroad lands are taken in, adding a great deal to the taxable property, and making possible a greater income with no additional burden.

"The tax increase to those coming into the city would be very small, as the reduction in insurance rates would almost completely offset the city tax levy."

"The incoming districts would receive money for road improvement not now available. This is especially true in Riverside, where none of the money raised in that district can be spent on the dedicated streets. The law provides that each municipality shall have a separate road district, and that 70 per cent of the money raised (Continued on page two)

COOLIDGE ON THE JOB

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Coolidge has waived aside suggestions of some friends that he take a vacation, now that the campaign is over, asserting that it is understood that not only is he in the best of health, but feels he will keep in better condition by sticking to work.

The president's decision is understood to have the endorsement of his physician Dr. James F. Coupal, who at first was thought to be among those advising a short rest. Close friends explain that Mr. Coolidge feels more at ease when working and also regards it as his duty to remain as close to his desk as is necessary to keep in immediate touch with government problems.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—General G. Dawes, vice-president elect is practically out of danger, after his operation for hernia, according to a bulletin issued by his physician Dr. H. W. Parks at the Evanston Hospital today. There are no signs of complications, the bulletin said. He is able to smoke his pipe and read.

MORE PIERCE TAXES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Or., Nov. 18.—When he received information yesterday that Attorney General Van Winkle had held that the receipts of the state income tax may be included in the state tax levy for 1924 before the six percent limitation is applied, which means a great amount of available funds for the state, Governor Pierce intimated that he would have injunction proceedings instituted to prevent the tax commission from levying on that basis.

The governor also said that he will not drop his plan to have a tax placed on cigarettes and motion picture tickets and an additional one cent tax on gasoline.

FARMERS COME THROUGH FOUR YEARS LOSSES

Depression Is Ended Says President of National Farmers' Union.

BETTER LEGISLATION

Four Billion Loss Was Suffered by Agriculture Since 1920-21, and Many Lose Homes.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 18.—For four years farmers of the country have suffered cruelly and sustained losses which can only be absorbed in their capital account, but they are now coming out of the depression, President Charles S. Barrett, declared in his annual address here today, before the National Farmers' Union.

A $40,000,000,000 loss was suffered by agriculture since 1920-21 and in a single year, 1,200,000 farming people were driven from their homes and forced to take refuge in the city he declared. Those facts constitute the real reason for the exodus from the farms and explain, he said, why many state and county officials have found it so difficult to collect taxes during the last four years and why there has been so many foreclosures.

"It is clear that in some manner our own federal government has been to blame," Mr. Barrett asserted. "It dismantled its war machinery without making provision for readjustments, but it encouraged farmers to continue their maximum efforts to produce, even into the grip of 1920. Then came the fear at Washington of inflation tendencies, that was followed by a drastic depression policy inaugurated by the federal reserve board, then the crash came. On top of this came the raising of freight rates for which the federal government was responsible, and which put farmers of the middle west at a great disadvantage by forcing them to pay peak prices to transport products to markets whose value had shrunk alarmingly."

Matters which the union will undertake at Washington include: "Passage of the 'Truth-in-Fabric' bill.

"Legislation to protect farmers' interests by providing for truthful and adequate branding, labeling and advertising of seeds, feeds and fertilizers when shipped in interstate commerce.

"Legislation to provide more adequate market reports of the department of agriculture, both at home and abroad, and to give certain foreign representatives of the department of agriculture the rank of agricultural attaches.

"Prevention through legislation if possible, discrimination by manufacturers, financial and commercial interests, against farmers who wish to buy collectively on the wholesale quantities.

"Revision of the Each-Cummins act in order to obtain lower freight rates on agricultural products."
