ROSEBURG, OREGON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1924.

THE GIRL OF TODAY.

Ideals change, and the most admired types of girlhood and womanhood are subject to alteration also. Formerly the young men used to spend hours debating as to which was the prettiest girl in their crowd.

The grade football team of this city will go to Medford tomorrow, supposedly for the purpose of walloping the youngsters of the southern city in a game to be played at that place.

Usually the fellow who does the least in this old world is the individual who does the most back-firing. Nursing imaginary grievances has ruined a lot of "spoiled" men.

Put a ring around December 10—Wednesday—on your calendar. This is the day and date of the bond issue to be voted on by the taxpayers of this school district for a new high school building.

The psychologists are trying to eliminate fear, and if they can abolish the fear of work, they will do a great job.

The early morning hours being considered extra healthy, some folks stay up all night so as to get the benefit of them.

Don't be a slacker next Wednesday and pass up the bond election. Get there and mark a ballot.

While the public admires flowers, some of these roses in people's cheeks look a bit overdone.

"What will I buy her for Christmas" is worrying a lot of the boys about this period of the year.

The holiday spirit is already permeating the atmosphere.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

BY BERT G. BATES

GOOD EVENING FOLKS—"Radio rash" is a new disease. They've found it in Europe and it's caused by the head-sets rubbin' on the ears of the listeners.

Johnny Dowell, local Burbank, has returned from the metrop. where he says he joined the "Order of Sheiks" but he doesn't look it.

A German butcher is on trial today for killin' 27 men and sellin' the flesh as sirloin steaks. We wonder if any of the victims were hoodlums thus causin' complaints on tough meat.

Well, folks, we can be glad we're livin' out here in God's country where a tornado doesn't come trottin' along every day or two and take away our roofs.

The latest fad in society is to take their dogs to the barber shops for a hair-trim. We don't mind waitin' our turn for a sweet young damsel to get her locks shorn, but gol-dingin' if we can stand in line behind a bunch of airdales.

The Ump. Chiefs met last night and on acct. of the absence of the pipe of peace they all took a chaw of terbaccer.

This Christmas seals are bein' sold today and one feller called up our sanctum and wanted to know how many a feller oughta stick on his back to cure a case of tuberculosis.

The bobbed-hair craze was started by Delilah.

We heard some of feller with yeller whiskers rantin' and ravin' today about the perfume some wimmen squirt on themselves but gosh we'd take any Woolworth perfume in preference to the aroma his pipe broadcasted.

We'll bet any guy in the village two partly used cakes of Palmolive soap agin his last year's derby that many a bank account will be overdrawn durin' the next two weeks.

The legion auxiliary will give away a hope chest full of linen at the dance Satidny night and we wouldn't be a dern bit surprised to see some confirmed batch walk away with the bacon.

In the summer-time we'd hate to be the ice-man but this time of the season we'd dislike very much bein' in the boots of the mailman.

Some wisecracker sent ye ed. a new joke book today and when we opened it, we found an Espee timetable.

For all kinds of floor coverings try Powell's.

Mr. S. E. Hodgen, Hodgen Riverwater Milling Co., Portland, Oregon. Dear Mr. Hodgen:

We have just completed feeding to 100 lbs. of Calf Meal received from you and find that the calves have done splendidly and at a very reasonable cost. We are going into this winter business and expect to use tons of this kind of a baby feed. Think that the calves did equally well with those who have prepared a well balanced calf meal. We will send you, in a day or two, a certificate of one of the calves that we have been feeding this meal.

Yours very truly, Clifford A. M. Shoresley, Manager, CARNATION MILK FARMS.

WHAT GOOD SCHOOLS MEAN TO THE COMMUNITY

Essays, Emphasizing the Value of Schools and of Education, Written by Some of the Young Students Attending the Roseburg Grade Schools, in Observance of Education Week.

Since the beginning of educational institutions, schools have played a major part in determining the quality and aggressiveness of the citizens of the community in which the schools are located. Because communities supporting good schools have been places of attraction for men of high ideals and means who have had children to be educated. This attraction will continue, and around the school will gather a community of adults who are interested in high ideals, their country's welfare and the welfare of their posterity.

If good schools are maintained they will be the means of producing, of the younger generation, in that good schools provide a place for small children to profitably spend their time away from bad influences and danger. After the children are old enough to pursue the grade studies, they are taught to centralize their thoughts and to cooperate with their teachers and fellow students. In good schools students are trained for their lives work by learning the principals of meeting economic problems. They are trained to correctly speak and write the language they use, which, when combined with the various organizations and societies, tend to develop social grace and leadership.

Wilson, whose true name is said to be A. L. Chance, was sentenced from Ontario, Malheur county, Oregon, four or five years ago to serve 15 years for forging a $1500 check, according to the officers. He served a little more than three years and was paroled, partially because of ill health.
