CONGRESS IS QUIET

All Government Departments Closed—Hughes Is Guest of Pan-American Union.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1.—The doors of the White House were opened wide today for the customary New Year's reception. AUDIBLE RINGING SYSTEM INSTALLED

A new audible ringing system has been installed by the local telephone exchange and is now in use. Western Electric Engineers have been working for several days making the changes necessary for this system, and have now completed the task. "We wish to call to the attention of our telephone subscribers one feature of the method of operation now in use in Roseburg which differs from the method of operation in use prior to December 31, 1924, says manager John H. Farrington. When you have given the desired number to the operator and the connection is completed to the desired line, you will hear a burring sound which is caused by the mechanical operation of the ringing machine which is used to ring the bell at the called station. This is called "audible ringing."

DRILLING FOR OIL IS BEING RUSHED

According to a statement made today by W. L. Cobb, general manager of the company drilling for oil at Leeper Dome, west of Oakland and Sutherland, the work is progressing most satisfactorily. Some few weeks ago the drill went through a sandstone formation and oil was encountered. This was at a depth of about 525 feet. Water was encountered at that depth in so great quantity that it became necessary to suspend drilling and case up the hole. This was successfully accomplished. In his interview today Mr. Cobb stated that 602 feet of casing has been put in, effectually shutting out the water. At that depth a bad crevice was found in the formation, but the drill succeeded in passing the obstruction with a perfect hole. "At a depth of 502 feet," said Mr. Cobb, "there were showings of oil, we were showing it, but they have, or may, not their hard earned cash into this enterprise, shall not in any degree be misled. However, the prospects are much better than we expected at so shallow a depth."

TO START POULTRY FARM WEST OF TOWN

H. C. Boyle and wife, of Cavitt Creek, were in Roseburg today. They are completing arrangements to move on the 45-acre place which they recently purchased west of Roseburg. The tract is located on the Looking Glass road, about 3 miles west of town and will be used as a poultry farm. It formerly belonged to O. S. Thacker, of Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Boyle have been conducting a poultry business on Cavitt Creek, but for some time have been planning on moving closer to town. Mrs. Boyle is teaching the school near Peel, and will not be able to move in until her term is finished, but Mr. Boyle will start operating the place soon after the first of February.

WILL ERECT GARAGE BUILDING SOON

The house until recently occupied by F. F. Patterson, located just south of the Dodge Bros. garage, has been sold to D. W. Elmore, and is being moved to the foot of Lane street. The property on which the house was located is owned by Hugh Harrison, local automobile mechanic and garage man, who is arranging to construct a modern concrete garage building on the land. Mr. Harrison has not yet completed his plans for the structure which he expects to erect, but proposes to put up a building which will adequately store his repair and machine storage as well, although he has not yet definitely decided that.

PENN. QUAKERS TO BE FED TO CALIF. BEARS

Strange Part Is, They Are Anxious to Be Exposed to 'Em.

EXPECT BIG CROWD

Fifty Thousand May Witness Gridiron Clash—Threatening Weather Not to Hinder.

(Associated Press Lead Wire.)

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 1.—A plan was announced today to make a Berkeley holiday. The California Stadium was the arena and the gatekeepers were ready to throw victims to a hungry lot of Bears, with a throng of spectators looking on in heartless glee. But the strange part of it was that these Quakers were eager to be exposed to the Bears. They did not fear the creatures. In fact, they had no intention of being intimidated.

Less metaphorically, the card was as follows: University of California, alias the Bears, undefeated in five years, played two He games this season—vs. University of Pennsylvania, the Quakers. Owing to this season's play, one of the three best teams in the east.

Aside from the outcome of the game, the most uncertain element was the weather, which was threatening to provide rain. Owing to the recent rains the field was likely to be somewhat soggy, though it was said yesterday that a dry night and morning would put it in fairly good shape. A mild temperature was predicted. The California management expected 50,000 if Mr. Plevins stayed away. More than 40,000 seats had been sold yesterday. Len Young's Pennsylvanians who arrived Tuesday and had final secret workout yesterday, were not in the best of shape, because of the long journey and because of the adverse weather since Thanksgiving. They were handicapped further by the loss of several stars from injuries, on the other hand, Coach Andy Smith's Bears had fewer men on the medical list than at any time during the season. There was doubt whether a pad and a guard could start, but they were not badly hurt, and capable subs were trying on their shoes. Pennsylvania had a slight advantage in weight, averaging 184 and 1-4 to 178 for California, but this element, unless overwhelming, counts for little in present day football. Prophets of the game held the teams to be closely matched. The kick-off was scheduled for 2:30.
