SCIENTISTS SHOW PROGRESS IN 1924

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, January 1.—Scientists attending the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science ushered in the New Year today with further disclosures of scientific progress that pointed the way to important accomplishments in the dawning year. Scores of papers, many dealing with highly specialized and abstract subjects that hold only suggestive interest for the layman, were prepared for today's various sectional meetings of the convention.

"Temperamental temperatures" as a mark of American weather was discussed in a paper by Dr. Willis I. Milham, professor of meteorology at Williams College, the problem of why the weather has abnormal streaks of long duration, has not yet been solved he said, but some progress has been made in that direction.

Volcanic eruptions that throw a veil of fine dust between the earth and sun, and changes in the sun itself as shown by the number of sun spots and the amount of heat conveyed to the earth's surface, were among factors believed to be of material influence, he said.

Simple Mixture Best For Constipation

Simple buckthorn bark, magnesium sulph. c. p., glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adlerika, is excellent for constipation. It often works in one hour or less and never gripes. The pleasant and QUICK action of this efficient intestinal evacuant will surprise you. Adlerika helps any case gas on the stomach, unless due to deep-seated causes. Often removes matter you never thought was in your system. Nathan Fullerton, druggist.

Herewith is the solution to puzzle No. 61.

A Hint for Beginners

The cross-word puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise or downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.

YREKA WILL OPEN BIG RACE TRACK

YREKA, Jan. 1.—With the purchase price of $11,000 raised in three months by popular subscription throughout Siskiyou county, the title to the historic race track and fair grounds a mile and a half south of Yreka will be formally transferred this week from its owner, Mrs. Flora A. Lewis, to the Siskiyou County Fair Association.

The transfer means that for the first time in 20 years or more the track will again be the scene of racing. Different from its heydey 50 years ago, the track will not only be the scene of fast horse races, but a secondary track, for automobile racnig only, will be constructed around the edge of the saucer, giving Siskiyou county the fastest mile and a quarter earth track in northern California

Work will begin just at once as soon as the formal transfer has been made. Suitable buildings to replace those that are in questionable conditions will be constructed and the buildings belonging to the association on the be moved to their new sites.

The track is in prime condition, and with a little grading and clearing it will be in prime shape, as at different times it has been used by horsemen for training purposes.

CHURCH ORGANIST AND DEACON SPLIT OVER 'THE ROSARY'

(From The Siskiyou News)

"The hours I spend with thee, dear heart," well remembered lines from "The Rosary," proved too much of a strain on the peace and serenity of the long association that has existed in Yreka between W. Earl Smith, newspaper owner and church worker, and "Professor" Thomas Hood, press correspondent, teacher of pianoforte and church organist. The twain are now asunder.

The introduction of a quarrel that had been smouldering, even while the ties of business and religious endeavor were yet strong, came with the interpretation on the organ of Ethelbert Nevin's "The Rosary" at a recent service at the local Methodist church. Prof. Hood played the classic with all the musical fervor he could command. Listeners in the congregation might almost imagine that they themselves were "counting them (the beads) over every one apart," a veritable string of musical pearls, as they sounded forth inspirationally from the touch of the master's hand.

"And There a Cross is Hung"

This, as it proved, was too much for Deacon Smith, who, according to Hood, knows as much about music as a croaking bull frog does of a heavenly choir, and the former called the latter to severe account when they next met in Smith's place of business.

"How dare you introduce those Catholic church numbers in our services," Smith wanted to know, or in words to that effect.

Hood denied the aspersion. He told Smith that "The Rosary" was not the property of the Roman Catholics—that it was written by a Unitarian, and much else. Smith was too ignorant to know, Hood avered.

Roll on, Oh, Organ, Roll

Smith then announced that he would brook no more of the professor's insults and that he could not tolerate his religious heresies. Hood would have to quit the organ and also quit his job as press correspondent for Smith's paper.

"Pay me off," shouted Hood.

"I'll do so," replied Smith, sitting down and writing out a check, which Hood is said to have glanced at once, torn up and thrown in the deacon's face.

"Hood is in a state of mental decline," Smith told a Siskiyou News representative. "He used to be a pretty good sort, but he has slipped a cog mentally, a case of doddering senility, I might say. There was no objection on my part to the playing of "The Rosary." That number had been marked off the program, but the old coot sat down and played it anyhow."

On the other hand Hood says that Smith is a fourflusher, a fraud and a few other things, if all reports be true.

And all because "The Rosary" was played at a recent gospel service here in "Little Old Yreka."

Used in the Finest Homes

Upson Board is the nearest perfect lining for every wall and ceiling, new or old

A WALL or ceiling of Upson Board will never crack or fall. And it can be finished in a hundred pleasing and artistic ways.

Just as Upson Board is being used for every ceiling and wall in the finest new homes, so also it is unexcelled for covering old plaster walls and ceilings.

But do not confuse Upson Board with ordinary wall board. It is harder and stiffer — nearly twice as strong. And, unlike brittle, absorbent plaster board, it is neither difficult to apply nor costly to decorate.

Telephone us today for samples and full particulars.

Upson Board is easily and quickly applied to walls and ceilings.

The new Super-Surface Upson Board has a pebbled surface which gives the soft, velvety finish so desirable with flat paints. The reverse side is perfectly smooth.
