EIGHT MILLION HEAR OPERATIC STARS ON RADIO

John McCormick and Lucrezia Bori Broadcast for First Time.

IS THEATER DANGER

Producers Declare Radio Is Menace to Theater and Effort Will Be Made to Combat It.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Radio listening history was made last night when John McCormick, tenor, and Lucrezia Bori, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera company, sang into the microphone of station WEAJ, which was linked up with seven other stations in the east, to an audience estimated from 6,000,000 to 8,000,000.

It was the first time that internationally famous artists have been broadcast in this country. It is generally agreed that last night's audience was the largest ever reached by a purely musical program, being exceeded only by some radioing during the last presidential campaign. The theatrical men declared that the patronage of nearly every theater in New York City was affected, although the Metropolitan Opera House, where Miss Bori is one of the stars, reported a sold-out house with Maria Jaritz in "Fedora."

Only a handful of the biggest theatrical successes of the season faced capacity houses, while many established successes played to rows of empty seats. The theatrical men were unanimous in their conviction that radio was largely responsible.

"Radio constitutes the greatest menace that the theatre has ever faced," William A. Brady, producer, declared last night, adding that the theatrical profession to face the new danger, stood in need of unity of action under a "trust" comparable to Will Hays of the motion picture industry or to Judge Landis of the baseball association.

Frank Gillmore speaking for the Actor's Equity Association of which he is executive secretary, declared that radio is "a terrible menace to the actor." An open meeting of Equity has been called, he said, to rouse the theatre as a whole to the concerted action against the encroachments of radio.

BILLY MCCLINTOCK DIED OF TYPHOID

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The coroner's chemist has found that William N. McClintock, known as the "millionaire orphan," died of typhoid fever. Coroner Oscar W. Wolf, announced today.

The findings corroborated that of the pathologist employed by William D. Shepherd, foster-father of the young man, who was left the bulk of the $1,500,000 estate by young McClintock's will.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—The chemical examination of the stomach of William Nelson McClintock, the "millionaire orphan," has disclosed nothing abnormal, Coroner Wolf announced today.

The coroner's statement apparently brings to an end the official investigation into the death on December 4 of the former Dartmouth college student who left the bulk of his $1,500,000 estate to his foster father, William D. Shepherd, an attorney.

We consider the coroner's statement a complete exoneration of Mr. Shepherd's law partner, Ralph Stell, said, when informed of the coroner's announcement.

Mr. Shepherd has declared he would take prompt legal action against the persons he considers responsible for the investigation and which he declared had been directed against him.

FRANCE HAS A NEW PLAN TO PAY OFF DEBT

New Face Put on Highly Troublesome Situation by Scheme.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PARIS, Jan. 2.—France's formal submission of a plan for settlement of her war time debt to the United States has put a new face on what hitherto has been a highly troublesome situation. The Washington government desires for the present to make no comment on the step pending a careful examination of the French note, but there is manifest gratification that the settlement discussions have produced a concrete proposal from Paris. Hitherto French officials not only have refrained from making any such proposal, and thereby providing a basis for objective negotiations, but there has been some apprehension over reports that instead the debt might be repudiated. The possibility now is regarded as definitely removed.

There is much gratification, too, over simultaneous reports from London that Great Britain might look with approval on a Franco-American settlement giving Paris more lenient terms than those accorded London in the Anglo-American agreement, these reports however, still lack official confirmation.

Still another element of uncertainty in the debt tangle appears to have been eliminated by a British embassy statement today flatly denying that Bank of England officials who recently arrived in New York were sent to this country on an official mission.

The French note did not reach Washington in time for consideration at today's cabinet meeting. It was said at the French embassy that no word of it had been received there, and state department officials likewise declared it was not included in the batch of official cablesgrams which accumulated there over the New Year holiday.

The cabinet did receive and consider informally however, intimations that had reached officials here in advance of the note, showing in skeleton what the French proposal might be expected to contain.

This outline whose details are guarded with the greatest care, is understood to have been communicated to the state department by Ambassador Herriek after his recent conference with French Minister Clementel.

It is not known here whether the proposal made to Ambassador Herriek was more complete in detail than information which he has forwarded to Washington thus far. In the meantime, it is assumed cable exchanges are in progress to clear up this point and all attempts at a decision are withheld.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Officials here apparently see hopeful tendencies in the New Year dispatches from Great Britain regarding war debts although they have received thus far no communication indicating the willingness of the British government to appoint specifically indulgent terms for France.

When shown a story published in London to the effect that Great Britain had assured the United States she would not stand in the way of a Franco-American settlement on terms more lenient than the Anglo-American agreement, high officials of the state department authorized the statement that no such assurance had reached Washington either officially or unofficially.

At the same time the failure of the British foreign office to deny that such a suggestion might be forthcoming was noted with great interest. During their recent intricate stages the debt discussions have been kept entirely confidential, but officials evidently have hoped for some development to clear the air early in the New Year.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Here is a rare chance of settling once for all the problem that has vexed the world since peace was declared and stood in the way of the economic recovery of the world, says the Morning Post in commenting upon a communication which according to its Washington correspondent, Great Britain has made to the United States with reference to settlement of the French debt.

REPORT BY JIM STARRETT WILL BE DISSECTED

Bad School Loan Charge Is Declared False By Many.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 2.—J. V. Starrett, of Roseburg, a special investigator for the state land board, filed a report yesterday in which he estimated that losses to the state from bad loans of school funds in the past would aggregate $500,000. Governor Pierce and State Treasurer Myers are inclined to place credence in the report, but state officials of different political faith do not.

Prior to the election it was the contention of republicans that the stories of heavy losses from the school fund loans were for political purposes to boost the candidacy of Mr. Myers for state treasurer.

Starrett's report is in the nature of a final summarization. He claims the heaviest losses will be in Harney, Malheur, Wallowa, Klamath and Lake counties. Mention is also made of "suspicious losses" resulting from loans of many years ago. Another cause of losses is said to be the failure of irrigation schemes to live up to expectations. He urges that an immediate effort be made to ascertain whether a state's mortgage has priority over that of bond holders in irrigation districts. He declares there is still opportunity to save the state many thousands of dollars.

Starrett made a number of reports prior to the election and investigation of these by persons not politically friendly to Governor Pierce and State Treasurer Myers led to ascertain that the reports were untrue. Some of the investigations were made by residents of counties where heavy losses were claimed in the reports.

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 1.—State officials, with the exception of Governor Pierce and State Treasurer Myers, declared tonight that they placed little or no credence in the report of J. V. Starrett, special investigator for the state land board, that losses of county school funds due to questionable loans, in aggregate more than $500,000. The report was filed here today. In many instances these officials referred to the report as political, apparently an effort on the part of the administration to bolster up false charges made against Thomas B. Kay, state treasurer-elect, during the recent campaign.

At the request of disinterested persons, J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, last October made an investigation of charges that the irreducible school fund was depleted to less heavily because of questionable loans. In a public letter after the investigation Mr. Churchill branded the charges as false and declared that apparently the school fund was in good shape. Similar statements were made by Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, and Mr. Kay, who was elected independent investigation.

Mr. Starrett has been in Salem for several days and it was reported that he prepared his so-called final report in the offices of the state treasurer. It was reported that in view of the valiant service given by Mr. Starrett in behalf of Governor Pierce and State Treasurer Myers, he had been promised a position in the state bonus commission. His appointment will have the opposition of the secretary of state and George A. White, adjutant-general.

WIFE WAS TOO FRIENDLY WITH THE HOTEL CLERK

(By Associated Press.)

ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 2.—Testimony intended to corroborate charges made by congressman Frank D. Scott that his wife received the clerk of a Washington hotel in her apartments late at night was given at the resumption of the hearing of his divorce suit here today by Miss Jane Kennedy for fifteen years private secretary to Mr. Scott.

Miss Kennedy on direct examination testified that she was on friendly terms with Mrs. Scott and on numerous occasions was an overnight guest at her apartments. On one of these occasions, she testified, Mrs. Scott asked her if she would not like to meet the clerk of the hotel.

"She told me he was a nice boy and admired her apartment," Miss Kennedy said, "then she stepped to the telephone and asked about some bills."

Mrs. Scott later explained, Miss Kennedy testified, that her inquiry about bills was a "conversational code."

Her next overnight visit at the Scott apartment, Miss Kennedy said, was about a fortnight later and it was on this occasion, she testified, that Mrs. Scott introduced her to the hotel clerk. The introduction she said, was made when Mrs. Scott said she went to the lobby desk to inquire for the mail. "When we left him," Miss Kennedy continued, "Mrs. Scott said 'come on up when you get time.' We went back up and when it got to be 1:30 and he did not come, she said, 'Jane, you're a hoodoo, be afraid of you.' I asked her if she wasn't afraid, people would see him when he came in. She said 'no; he's careful and always walks up and down the hall to see that nobody observes him.'"

On another occasion Miss Kennedy testified, Mrs. Scott told her the hotel clerk was becoming jealous of an army officer referred to as "Jazbo."

"She told me," Miss Kennedy said, "that the clerk one night walked in after she had gone to bed and she had fallen asleep and knew nothing until his kiss awakened her."

LINER IS AFIRE IN DELAWARE BAY

LEWES, Del., Jan. 2.—The Clyde liner Mohawk, with 200 passengers aboard was afire off Brandywine light in Delaware Bay, near here today. Passengers were in their life belts and momentarily expected word from Captain James Staples, the ship's master, to take to the lifeboats. Five tugs were standing by.

The fire is believed to have started in the afterhold of the Mohawk. At 6:30 a. m. a radio message was received here stating that the fire had spread to the after salon. Later messages gave assurance, however, that the flames were under control.

The Mohawk was on her way from New York to Jacksonville, Fla., but lashed by a 40 mile an hour gale she was compelled to put into Delaware Bay last night.

An earlier message to the Clyde Steamship company's agent here said a fierce gale which swept down on the ship in driving snowstorm, prevented three boats, intent on rescue work, from taking off the passengers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—The port captain of the Clyde Steamship company said today he had been informed that the fire in the cargo of the Steamship Mohawk had been extinguished and that the vessel would make Delaware breakwater at noon with all passengers aboard.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—A radio message to the Philadelphia navy yard stated that the passengers of the Mohawk had been taken off the steamer and were landed at Lewes, Del., to continue to their destinations.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

LEWES, Del., Jan. 2.—The Clyde liner Mohawk with 200 passengers from New York for Charleston and Jacksonville, caught fire in one of the wildest storms of the present winter off the New Jersey coast last night and ran into Delaware Bay to save the passengers.

The blaze which started in the after hold, spread rapidly and all passengers were ordered to get ready to leave the ship.

The last radio report stated that the fire was under control and that the passengers would be landed at Lewes and returned to New York or sent to their destinations. So far as is known there were no casualties.

The Mohawk left New York New Year's Day about noon. The fire was discovered when the ship was seventy miles south of Sandy Hook. A high northeast gale, accompanied by snow was blowing. Captain J. M. Staples acted promptly and decided to run for the Delaware capes, at the same time sending out calls for assistance.

The Mohawk will return to New York and unload her general cargo. The steamer carries a crew of eighty.

Though Crowley's toe and his effective carrying ability made him scintillate alongside of his fellow-members of widely heralded cavalry quartet.

RUTHLESS RIDE OF 4 HORSEMEN IS DISASTROUS

Stanford Hopes for Championship Trampled Beneath Notre Dame Hoofs

(By Associated Press.)

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 2.—Trampled wreckage of Stanford's football hopes covered the turf of Rose Bowl Field today, grim evidence of the ruthless ride of the four horsemen who yesterday led Notre Dame to a 27 to 10 inter-sectional gridiron victory.

Yet it was by no means the smashing impact of an overwhelming force that confronted the Stanford University players. They, for the Indiana invaders, had the advantage of weight and power, and the ten points they were able to tie up were torn from the enemy by sheer charging strength.

East outwitted west. Notre Dame was always where Stanford had been but was not. Such was the story.

By all the rules of football mathematics Stanford should have won. Coach Glenn Warner's men gained 164 yards from scrimmage; Knute Rockne's swift South Bendians registered 17 first downs; Notre Dame made seven. Stanford completed 12 out of 17 attempted forward passes; Notre Dame completed three out of seven.

Notre Dame netted 48 yards with forward passes; Stanford gained 146. Rockne's men were penalized four times, for a total of 30 yards, while Warner's suffered but a single 15 yard penalty.

But one mistake may wreck a ton of statistics and there were several Stanford mistakes. Notre Dame took advantage of all of them and won.

The easterners opened, mostly, Rockne starting the game with his second string men. Stanford showed this aggression steadily as they trotted on the field and whistled for his four horsemen. They trotted on the field with their first string companions, but the first period did not end until Cuddeback had scored a place kick for Stanford.

In the second period Notre Dame scored by driving the ball over the goal line after repeated gains through the cardinal defense. Layden, one of the four horsemen, carried the ball. Crowley failed to convert. After that Stanford's mistakes opened the door of opportunity and there was always some one waiting to leap across the threshold.

First Layden intercepted a Stanford pass and intercepted seventy yards to the creak line, Crowley converting. In the third period Solomon, Stanford's quarterback, fumbled a punt on his own 20 yard line. Huntstinger shoved him aside as he tried to recover, picked up the piskin and ran unopposed to a touchdown. Crowley again converting. In the same period Stanford scored again and for the last time, when Walker passed the ball over the line of Shipley after the hefty Nevess had shoved his way to Notre Dame's eight yard line.

Stanford came close to another touchdown in the fourth period but lost the ball on downs less than a foot from the goal line.

Don Miller squeezed through left end for a yard and a half. Baker of Stanford intercepted Crowley's pass and returned the ball four yards to the Notre Dame 30 yard line. On another end around play Ted Shipley gained five yards with two of Rockne's leeches clinging to him. Nevess added 6 yards through left tackle and Ted Shipley flashed around right end for five more. The ball was on Notre Dame's 14 yard line. Nevess cut through right guard for another three yards. Cuddeback hit left tackle for a yard. McCullen replaced Boland at left tackle for Notre Dame. Stanford made a change. Hunt for Neil at right guard. Nevess made a first down, lunging over left guard to the six yard post. Once again Nevess, this time through center to the Notre Dame three yard line. Gloucester came in for Welbel at left guard for Notre Dame. Walker failed to pass through right tackle. Nevess made a first down, again took the ball and shoved through to the one yard line.

Nevess fought his way to within eight inches of the line and Stanford lost the ball.

Then came another Cardinal error. Layden intercepted the pass Nevess had intended for a team mate and galloped 65 yards down

FIRST TOUCHDOWN IS SCORED WITHIN SEVEN MINUTES AFTER START—WAS THRILLING ONE.

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 2.—The University of California football team, undefeated for five consecutive years, was crowned with 1924 post season honors here yesterday when it defeated the University of Pennsylvania eleven, rated as one of the best football teams on the Atlantic coast, by a score of 14 to 0—two touchdowns with added points.

A crowd of more than 50,000 saw the California's outclass, outrun and outkick the Pennsylvanians.

The first touchdown was scored within seven minutes after the game started. The Quaker players interfered with Imlay, on a fair catch on the Pennsylvania 40 yard line. No one touched the ball, so Dixon, California, picked it up and ran 25 yards to Pennsylvania's 25 yard line where he was forced out of bounds. California refused the penalty for the interference and took the ball on the 14 yard line. Three line plunges by John Young, California, shoved over the touchdown and Carlson kicked the goal.

California took the offensive in the second period and by a series of short passes and a 29 yard run by Imlay took the ball far in to Quaker territory. With a touchdown in sight, the gun ended the second period with California on Penn's four yard line.

The Quakers came back with more power in the third period and by subtle reverse plays and heavy line plunges by Field, Leath and Thomas carried the ball after receiving the kick off on their one yard line. On the fourth down with a yard to go, California's defense stiffened and Penn lost the ball on downs and with it a chance to tie the score.

The Californians were able to withstand the famous attack in the fourth period when they broke it up and left the Quakers wondering. Taking the ball on down after breaking up several overhead attacks on the California 45 yard line, the western team swung into an offensive once more.

The Californians on four bucks through the center of the Quaker line like a battering ram, carried the ball from the 40 yard line to a touchdown. The last plunge of ten yards was made right through McKinley, the famous all-American tackle of the Quakers. Carlson's goal kick for California added the 14th and final point of the game.

INCREASE IN P. O. SALARIES IS APPROVED

Senate Committee Recommends Measure for Higher Rates.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The senate post office committee approved today the administration bill providing for increase in postal salaries and rates.

Rate increases recommended by the post office department, however, were reappointed at that second class mail will be charged considerably less than originally proposed.

The bill would be effective on April 15, this year, and terminate February 15, 1926. It provides, however, for creation of a joint congressional committee to conduct hearings in the rate increases and report to congress by the first week of this regular session.

The new measure provides for a flat 1-1/4 cent a pound rate on all second class mail devoted to reading matter, instead of two cents, as proposed by the post office department. The present rate is 1-1/2 cent on all matter except that devoted to religious, educational or non-profit material, which is now charged 1-1/4 cents a pound.

The eight zones for mail with advertising matter are grouped under the new bill into three divisions with rates of three cents a pound in the first three zones, six cents a pound in the fourth, fifth and sixth zones and eight cents a pound in the last two zones.

This results in a slight increase on the first two zones rates over the present law and a reduction in the last three zones from the present law and is less on the latter zones than proposed by the post office department.

The proposed increase of half a cent on drop letters and postal cards is eliminated, but private mailing cards and souvenir postal cards are advanced from one to two cents.

The limit on weight of third-class mail is reduced from eight to four ounces and the rates increased in this class proposed by the department retained.

FACES OF MEN UNDERGO CHANGE

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Conditions of modern civilization are changing men's faces, and making them more handsome, according to Sir Arthur Keith, conservator of the Museum of the Royal College of Surgeons. Diminished use of the jaws is causing changes in the bony frame work of the human face, he said.

Walter Stenham, who compiled the photographic record of the nation's most famous men for the national photographic gallery, declares that in general, men's faces are becoming narrower and more refined.

Men use their jaws less in chewing England's famous old roast beef, he says, even if they use them more in conversation than their reputedly taciturn ancestors.
