ROSEBURG, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1925

GETTING MONEY OUT OF PEOPLE.

There is a certain type of folks who watch with a careful eye any of their acquaintances who have money. They have business schemes in which they want to induce existing or prospective friends to invest. Or they find them convenient when they want to borrow money.

In the passing of Frank Neuner, whose funeral occurred in this city today, the hearts of many of his dear friends were greatly saddened. Those who knew him most intimately, who had enjoyed his friendship and knew the full worth of his many fine traits of character were his closest friends.

There are some people who feel that two political parties are almost more than the United States can stand, considering how parties will act at times. Such folks wonder how the Germans can possibly get along with at least 10 distinct political organizations, no one of which was able at the recent elections to get much more than 25 per cent of the total vote.

Business men are trying to determine why it costs so much to get an article from the factory doors or the farm fields to the home of the consumer. The latest attempt to reduce these costs is started by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, by calling a conference for scientific inquiry into this problem.

A NEW WAY TO TELL AN OLD, OLD STORY (Gem. Mo. Times)

"On the night of October 2, a stranger made his appearance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Somerville, in a pitiful condition. He was barefooted and had not enough clothing to hide his nakedness. He appeared to be utterly exhausted and was unable to speak. To judge his age, one had only to look at him. His head was entirely bald and his teeth were in his mouth to gnaw the bone of charity. Mr. and Mrs. Somerville kindly took care of him, and rendered 'first aid' by providing him some comfortable clothing, and succeeded in getting him to take a small amount of nourishment. He now is gaining slowly in strength; but is not yet able to talk or tell where he came from. He weighs eight pounds."

CO-OP IDEA WILL BE BROADCAST

(Associated Press Local Wire.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Recommendation that the National Council of Farmers' Cooperative Association undertake development of a national system of education on the co-operative movement, was made in an address prepared for today's session of the organization's convention here by Walton Petteet, secretary.

Mr. Petteet urged an educational movement that would reach "down through national, state and local leaders to farmer members of co-operatives and to the general public."

He advocated appointment of a committee to consider the entire subject and reported to the national council at tomorrow's business session.

Asserting that inefficient management was often a result of failure of directors to understand the rudiments of sound business practice and inability to pick real business executives for co-operative units, Mr. Petteet suggested as a remedy a "system of self-education in co-operative marketing by and for American farmers."

MRS. SCOTT WILL PREPARE DEFENSE

(Associated Press Local Wire.) ALPENA, Mich., Jan. 7.—With Mrs. Edna James Scott, preparing to gather additional evidence in her defense against the divorce action of Congressman Frank L. Scott of the eleventh Michigan district, and Mr. Scott himself resting here for a few days before resuming his duties at Washington, Alpena today was returning to a semblance of normal.

The suit which began last week was adjourned yesterday until March 10 to permit Mrs. Scott to obtain additional depositions.

Mr. Scott, who charges his wife with extravagance, last night denied that the picture of ray bizarre parties among congressmen as painted by Mrs. Scott is an accurate one. He said that their married life had been happy for eight years, a circumstance he attributed to the fact that they moved among congressional circles, avoiding what he described as the "fast set" of Washington, into which he charged, his wife later was precipitated.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, constipation, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. Six and sixc. jars and tubes.

On the Nation's Business

A SLEET, storm snaps wires in New England; a blizzard falls a line of poles in the Western ranges; a flood overwhelms a valley community; a prairie cyclone sweeps away everything in its path;—wherever the emergency, men and materials are rushed to the spot in order that telephone service, vitally important at such a time, may be restored. And the mending of every break restores to telephone users, everywhere in America, a particular path for the passage of his voice.

Whether sudden calamity comes from an Atlantic gale or a Texas "twister," its damage must be repaired at once, because it cripples some part of a communications system that is nation-wide. Because America has universal service, the telephone truck speeding to a scene of disaster is truly "on the nation's business," and the implements of its workers are weapons welded in the nation's cause.
