INCOME TAX FORMS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 8.—Blank forms for the use of individuals in reporting incomes for the year 1924 of $5000, and less, derived from wages, salaries and commissions, were mailed today by Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, to every person who filed a return of income from the same sources a year ago. Envelopes were addressed to 47,000 taxpayers.

Persons, any part of whose income for 1924 was derived from business or profession, farming, sale of property or rents, regardless of the amount, will be required to use a different blank. The use of this larger form will be required, also, in cases where the net income was in excess of $5000, whether from salary, business, profession, or other taxable sources.

Forms for this class of taxpayers also for corporations, partnerships and fiduciaries will be mailed as soon as a delayed shipment is received from Washington. Collector Huntley expects to complete the distribution of all income tax blanks within the next ten days. In view of the fact that every individual, firm and corporation that filed a return last year will be mailed blanks this year, he asks taxpayers to be patient for a few days pending the receipt of their blanks.

There is also available at Collector Huntley's office a supply of blank forms for the use of employers in reporting salaries, wages and commissions of $1000, or more, paid during 1924 to any employe or other person. In fact, all other necessary blanks incident to the preparation of income tax returns are available at the internal revenue office in the custom house.

Under the 1924 revenue act, returns of income must be filed by every single person whose net income last year was $1000 or more, or whose gross income was $5000 or more, and by every married couple whose joint net income was $2500 or more, whose gross income was $5000 or more. Married persons not living together, such as divorcees or persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons, as are widows and widowers.

There is no change in the exemption for single persons, which is $1000. Married persons, living together, and heads of families are allowed an exemption of $2500, regardless of the amount of their net income. In addition to his personal exemption, the taxpayer is also allowed a credit of $400 for each dependent but this credit cannot be claimed for the husband or the wife, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

The normal tax rates under the 1924 act are 2 per cent on the first $4000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents, 4 per cent on the next $4000 and 6 per cent on the balance. The surtax rates range from 1 per cent on net incomes between $10,000 and $14,000 to 40 per cent on net incomes in excess of $500,000.

Taxpayers may file their returns immediately and pay their tax in full, or they may avail themselves of that provision of the law which permits them to pay the tax in four equal quarterly installments. Returns, accompanied by the payment of at least one-fourth the total tax, must be filed with Collector Huntley not later than March 15. Taxpayers will find it to their advantage to file returns early for by calling at Collector Huntley's office they can have the assistance of experienced deputies in preparing their statements of income.

1000 LAND INQUIRIES.

The Land Settlement Department of the Portland chamber of commerce reports the receipt of 1000 direct inquiries for December from a contingency of prospective land settlers now located in different parts of the United States. It is also reported that the Los Angeles branch office of the Land Settlement Department is having a very active inquiry with regard to land opportunities in Oregon and anticipates a number of new settlers starting for Oregon in the near future.

A Silverton business man reports 28 families as having settled in or near that community in the last five years, all from the district surrounding Fosston, Minn. inquiry disclosed that one family came first and found conditions so favorable that through their recommendations 27 other families have become Oregon citizens.

J. C. Karns, McLeod, Alberta, shipped a carload of household goods and farm implements to Stayton, where he has purchased a 380 acre farm. It is reported the consideration was $20,000.

Earl Beebe, Paul, Idaho, has purchased 240 acres at Myrtle Creek, and is now located there with his family.

George Clark, Ocean Park, Calif., has purchased a farm north of Salem on the Pacific Highway and is now occupying his new home.

Chicago Land Co. of Grants Pass report 21 new settlers since October on their holdings in the Grants Pass Irrigation Project.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

DISCUSSES CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

Editor News-Review:

According to C. H. Bailey, the local grange is in favor of the Child Labor amendment. Will the Pomona grange please answer these questions:

Do not the compulsory school laws of the different states prevent child labor in factories? No factory is going to employ adult laborers eight months in the year, discharge them, and hire children the other four months.

If the compulsory school laws can't be enforced, how can we expect enforcement of the child labor law, if ratified?

And if laws can't be enforced, why have them?

Just where are the factories situated in which children work from 9 to 11 hours a day, and also at night? Please give the names of the cities and also designate the factories, where this is done. I have been trying, for some time to find out, and have come to believe they exist only in imagination. There used to be such factories, but the enactment of the compulsory school laws have done away with child labor.

Should boys of 16, 17 and 18, not assist their parents to keep the home fires burning? Often they are abler physically, to work, than their parents.

If boys at that age can claim exemption from labor, what will become of them? Will they be satisfied to sit around homes with their hands folded? Or will they be found on the street corners, in the pool rooms and cigar stores, and employed generally in Satan-found mischief?

Men and women of Pomona Grange, do you never allow your own almost-grown boys and girls to help out occasionally, how can you consistently back this amendment?

The Philadelphia Presbyterian says: "The training of children in industry, from their earliest years, without oppression, is of the utmost importance to the nation, the family and the individual. Nothing can be more perilous to the rising generation than for them to feel that the state protects them from work, and that idleness is their right."

The habit of industry must be acquired before the age of eighteen, or it never will become a habit.

Members of Pomona Grange, how many of America's great men passed their childhood in idleness? How about our president? How about Lincoln, our greatest man? Can you name any great man who did not acquire his habit of industry as a child? Jesus Christ himself worked at the carpenter's trade when twelve years old. Did any of these suffer mentally, morally or physically, because of their childhood labor?

Can the government be more kind, loving and merciful to the child than the parent? Can the government be a better judge of what is good for the child, than his own father and mother? Granted, there are parents who abuse their children. But they are rare, and there is already a law for prevention of cruelty to children.

Grangers, will not this amendment, if it becomes part of the constitution, result in "race suicide?" Already there has been much agitation in our country about the falling off in the size of the families in the past fifty years. How can the present-day farmer be expected to support a family of from five to twelve children in idleness until they are past their eighteenth birthday?

Mr. Bailey says something about it being silly to suppose there will have to be officers to enforce this amendment, if passed. Does he suppose it will work automatically? The money, in the end, to pay for government work, always comes from the pockets of the governed. It will hit the farmer particularly hard. Deprived of the help of his children, with the things he has to buy, going higher (because the labor unions can then more safely go on a strike, having helped to eliminate the possibility of their employers replacing them with young men of seventeen and eighteen), and with this added drain on his resources, the struggle for existence will be harder than ever.

A business man of Portland remarked, in my hearing, not long ago that the western farmer was easy to manage—he believed just what was told him. (He was speaking of a certain referendum then up to the people). I resented the remark bitterly at the time, but I wonder if he isn't partly right.

Grangers, use your own brains. Don't believe anything anybody tells you until you have thought the matter over carefully. And don't be too sure that "those wonderful arguments about Bolshevist origin" aren't correct.

And remember, that those children, 1,000,000, or one in twelve—is it possible that a country with 125,000,000 inhabitants has only about 12,000,000 children? Are mostly employed in light labor on the farm, instead of in factories.

FARMER.

SOME NEW YEAR'S THOUGHTS

"Forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before. I press toward the mark of the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.—Eph. 3, 13 and 14.

Turning the proverbial new leaf,

Looking both ways—Back from whence we come; Forward to thing unknown

There are times when a good forgettery is a blessing,

Only He can look joyfully forward who can look peacefully back on wrongs righted, victories achieved and happy anticipations based on glorious victories won.

Memory is a blessing to a good man, A curse to an evil one.

Evil deeds of youth a skeleton in the closet of old age.

Every life has its mistakes, so may every life have its victories,

It is easy to be brave when others are with you, but it is hard to stand alone.

Many a life kept from good deeds by memory of evil deeds

If God forgives and covers our sins why dig them out?

Too much living in the past paralyzes activities as too much living in the present narrows the outlook: our real life is in the future: Beyond the horizon lies our true life.

All failures are retrievable: "I can do all things God being my helper."

A noble life is builded on "Redeeming the time."

NEED OF ROAD TO SMITH RIVER IS EMPHASIZED.

Need of a road to Smith River has been evidenced more this winter than in many years past, according to L. A. Blackwell, rancher of that community, says the Port Umpqua Courier. Mr. Blackwell was a business visitor here on Wednesday.

Mr. Blackwell has very reliable data on which to base his contention that a road to that district is of vital importance. Just before Christmas, while that section was completely isolated from the outside world as the result of the unusual freeze-up, Mr. Blackwell had to walk 15 miles in order to get some turkeys on the market. He experienced great difficulty and it took two days of hard labor to get to Reedsport.

Demoralized transportation conditions might have resulted seriously to any families in that section during the ten day period of the holiday season, in the event of serious illness.

Efforts of the Smith River people in the next year will be directed toward securing a road which will enable transportation to this city.

Whisk brooms—have you a good one? Special this week at 29c, 49c, 59c and 69c. Be sure and get one. They are invaluable in the home. Lloyd Crocker.

Whole-souled hospitality and "wonderful western coffee"

THE West has long enjoyed the reputation of being the home of heart-deep hospitality . . . and that wonderful western beverage—Hills Bros. Coffee.

When they invite you to come for breakfast, and serve you with Hills Bros. Coffee, you know for sure that the tradition is well founded. Just break the vacuum seal of a tin of Hills Bros. Get that sense-thrilling aroma! Lift a cup to your lips and taste that inimitable flavor! Yes, the West may well boast of this wonderful coffee.

That none of this rich flavor may escape prematurely, Hills Bros. seal it permanently in vacuum. The coffee is still fresh days, weeks, even years later—whenever you break the seal! The world's finest coffee, without a doubt. Hills Bros. Coffee is economical to use.

KIWANIS CLUBS TO ERECT MEMORIAL TO LATE PRES. HARDING

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 8.—Active work on a granite and bronze memorial to the late President Harding which will also symbolize the friendship between the United States and Canada will be started within a short time by the Kiwanis clubs of both countries. This memorial is to be placed in Stanley Park, Vancouver, B. C., the scene of the late President's last address.

The design of Twizell and Twizell, architects, associated with Charles Marega, sculptor, Vancouver, was officially approved by the International Kiwanis Council which has just concluded its annual meeting in Chicago.

The memorial will be in the form of a combination seat and monument, 37 feet wide and 11 feet high, placed in front of towering trees. This type of memorial was decided upon as being more suitable to the site, because any shaft monument would be dwarfed by the giant fir trees of Stanley Park.

The seat will be within a few feet of the pavilion from which Mr. Harding delivered his last address during his Alaskan trip, and will be fronted by a shallow pool of water which will reflect the memorial.

In the center of the memorial which will be erected from light gray Canadian granite, from Granite Island, about 65 miles from the park, will be a bronze plaque bearing a profile bas relief of Mr. Harding and an extract from his Vancouver speech which will read as follows:

"What an object lesson of peace is shown today by our two countries to all the world. No grim-faced fortifications mark our frontiers, no huge battleships patrol our dividing waters, no stealthy spies lurk in our tranquil border hamlets. Only a scrap of paper recording hardly more than a simple understanding, safeguards lives and properties on the Great Lakes, and only humble mile-posts mark the inviolable boundary line for thousands of miles through farm and forest. Our protection is in our fraternity, our armor is our faith; the tie that binds more firmly year by year is ever-increasing acquaintance and comradeship through interchange of citizens; and the compact is not of perishable parchment, but of fair and honorable dealing which, God grant, shall continue for all time."

On either side of this bronze tablet will be female figures in bronze representing Canada and the United States, holding the shields of these two countries and with an olive wreath between them signifying peace. At the extreme ends of the memorial will be bronze American eagles.

It is planned to have the Premier of Canada and a high official of the United States attend the dedication of the memorial which symbolizes the friendship of the two countries and the cooperation of the Kiwanis clubs in objectives of civic service common to both. The memorial will prove a potent factor in further inspiring international good will between the two countries.
