ROSEBURG, OREGON, SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1925.
WASHINGTON SETTING A POOR EXAMPLE.

The proposal that has been advanced barring those senators and representatives who are known booze imbibers from the national legislative bodies, is meeting with almost universal favor from advocates of dry America. The eighteenth amendment was placed upon the statute books of these United States after passage and ratification by the states. Senators and representatives accept seats in their respective houses on taking the oath to sustain the constitution of the United States. The eighteenth amendment is as much a part of the constitution as any other amendment to that document, and when lawmakers in the upper and lower houses of congress flagrantly violate the spirit and letter of the constitution they immediately become undesirable citizens, and must be classed with all others who may violate some specific amendment or section of the law—they are law violators of the worst sort, and dangerous to the common good and prosperity of the nation.

Many people have been raising cries of alarm about the alleged low standards of the younger generation. Another way of reaching them is suggested by the popular play called "The Best People." In that play are depicted two young people of a wealthy family. The young man was dissipated and the girl opinionated and headstrong. Instead of railing at these faults, the play makes their presumptuous ways ridiculous. It suggests that two other young folks of obscure families with whom they respectively fall in love, and whose social standing would be considered much lower, are yet far superior to them in real worth. More can be done to cure faults by laughing at them than by lecturing them.

A friend has been watching a certain newboy, and he reports that this little fellow is habitually late on his rounds. The trouble seems to be that he is so keenly interested in the news, that he stops by the way to read his papers. That boy may yet be successful, as he evidently has an alert mind. Just at present he has the wrong idea. He is a type of many people who are so keenly interested in what is going on, that they can't concentrate on their work. Thus it happens that many people who are intelligent, are not successful.

The school site committee held another meeting last evening, and, judging from the oratory displayed, is getting "warmed up to the subject." It's no small job to please half the people, let alone all of them. If some generous hearted individual would only come forward and offer a good plot of ground to the school district for nothing it would make it easy sliding for the committee and a sigh of relief would be uttered by all concerned.

A site by a dam but not a mill by a dam site is just about as conflicting as a school site with or without an athletic site at this particular time.

SUTHERLIN PLANS TO REFUND BOND ISSUE
At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, the matter of a refunding bond issue to take care of the bonds now due on the east Central Avenue paving was taken up, and after some discussion of the matter a contract was entered into between the city and the Starkey & Hubbs, Inc., of Portland, whereby the latter agreed to take the issue at 6 per cent, says the Sutherland Sun. The amount of bonds necessary is $15,000 and a special election will be called within a few weeks to vote on this issue. This is no additional obligation on the city of Sutherland, but is merely a procedure which must be carried out in order that the credit of the city be not impaired. Warren L. Starkey, senior member of the firm of Starkey & Hubbs, met with the council and explained fully the details of the proposed issue.

PRUNE PICKIN'S

BY BERT G. BATES
GOOD EVENING FOLKS—
Are you still taking your baths regularly on Saturday night?

DUMBELL DORA THINKS
Gunga Din is a loud noise.

OUR PLAINT IS ANSWERED
O where are the planks of the Elks bridge.

As the coast of the Car-ri-bees
And maybe some planks are hugging the banks.

Of the shores at Changchowfai;
And maybe some knots are boiling the kpot.

At a feast of some heathen Chinese.
Maybe some bjords are afloat in the fjords.

That lead to Bjornesborg.
And some 4x6 may be stuck in the sty.

Awaiting a ferry for me.
And one of the maybees they be in Hades.

And when you go where
You can see.

We see today that the "Lend a Hand" publication at the Oregon State pen is to be discontinued because no printers are incarcerated there, which proves that the folks in our trade are not as bad as they're painted.

APPLE SAUCE!
A news item says the rays of the sun focused through a bowl of gold fish and caused a fire. No wonder the reporters are branded as liars.

"Who's Whoozit" in the state legis. is the caption heading an article in the Oregon Voter this month and the obits of the various scions read like epitaphs on a tombstone.

A bunch of the local members of the Ananias Club will take up golf agin tomorrow with the usual results.

A news item tells us that several insane asylums have installed beauty parlors. Nothin' so nutty about that, as we can see.

The man with a guilty conscience feels about the same as the fellow with a 1924 license plate.

Reub and Horace Maraters, a couple ex-Roseburgers, are in the village from Salem, where they have been peddling real estate to the unsuspecting victims. Reub had a few good stories on tap which he whispered to ye ed, and which we are too modest to comment upon.

We wish our mayor would do something to kid him about.

What would the cross-word puzzle feller do without the emus, asps, mas, pas, ans, ems, ens, its, and eels?

"I wish I could git twenty miles outa pair sox."

FIND NEW METHOD TREATING CANCER

LININGRAD, Russia, Jan. 10.—Dr. Molotkoff, professor in the Neurological academy here, announces the employment of a new method of treating cancer, which he claims will effect cures.

The treatment consists in cutting the nerve leading directly to the cancerous growth.

According to Professor Molotkoff, the nerves play a vital part in all cases of cancer. At the Academy of Medical Sciences he exhibited several patients who he said had been cured by the new method. The same treatment he asserts, will also heal cancerous and inflammation of the marrow of bones.

ROME POOR PLACE TO USE CHARIOTS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 10.—Rome is a poor place for chariot races just now, thanks to the political upheaval of the recent weeks and the Hollywood company which has been trying to film a picture there has been ordered to pack up its cameras and grease paint and come home. It was announced here last night by the producers, who financed the venture.

Disturbances in the city itself have crippled actual filming operations, it was explained, and the censorship of telegraph and cable communication has made it impossible for executives to keep in touch with directors there. Uncompleted portions of the film, which were to have been "shot" among the seven hills of Rome, will be finished in peace and quiet among the foothills of Hollywood.

BURGLARS STEAL TELEPHONE CALLS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Homesick burglars seeking nothing more valuable than a few words with far distant friends, have been operating here recently, according to the police breaking into homes while the owners are away and running up large long distance telephone charges.

Mrs. M. G. Storck reported yesterday she had almost concluded the intruder who ripped a bedroom door open to get into her house, had left without taking anything, but that he was enlightened when the telephone company billed her for a $26 long distance call carried on the night she was out.

RECRUITING OFFICER COMING
Word has been sent here from the head office of the navy recruiting station at Portland, that D. J. Cason will be in Roseburg Monday, Jan. 12th, recruiting Douglas county men for the navy.

He will make his headquarters at the post office building, for the one day he is here, Monday, January 12. He says that the men now enlisting in the navy have a good chance to make the proposed Australian cruise this summer, which consists of the major portion of the fleet.

As eight weeks training are necessary before the men are transferred aboard the various ships, only men enlisted within the next ten days will be eligible for this cruise.

Mr. Cason was here recently recruiting and enlisted seven Roseburg men and says he will be glad to furnish any information that any one cares for.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

ON SCHOOL SITE
Editor News-Review:
What has school district number 4 set out to do? As for myself I voted for the bond issue because we are in serious need of additional room, and a new high school building seemed the best thing in the long run. Incidentally, many had in mind that this additional building would not only relieve present congestion, but afford quarters for doing two years of very limited college work. Some seem to think that what we have set out to do is to purchase a college campus, with the object of establishing a college or a normal school, in view of the complaint of high taxes and the fact that our school board has had to do a lot of "skimping" in the past. I do not know where some of our good people expect to get the money for their ambitious plans. Others seem to have a vague idea that what we have set out to do is to buy an expensive athletic field and build on it a handsome club-house, with the most approved baths and lounging rooms, et cetera, and school rooms.

Perhaps we need to clarify our ideas. Doubtless, the people will be best satisfied finally with a high school building centrally located upon an ample site, and the eventual, if not immediate, purchase of about ten acres for an athletic field in some outlying locality, easily accessible to those who want athletics. A short walk will not hurt an athlete.

BLANCHE REED IS AWARDED $5,000.00
PORTLAND, Jan. 10.—Miss Blanche Reed, a deputy in County Clerk Beveridge's office, was awarded $5,000 damages against F. B. Beck by a jury in Circuit Judge Hewitt's court today.

Miss Reed was injured late last summer when she was struck by an automobile driven by Beck, and she was confined to the hospital for several months. She was crossing the intersection of Fifth and Salmon streets on her way to the court house when she was struck, and the high taxes and the fact that our school board has had to do a lot of "skimping" in the past. I do not know where some of our good people expect to get the money for their ambitious plans. Others seem to have a vague idea that what we have set out to do is to buy an expensive athletic field and build on it a handsome club-house, with the most approved baths and lounging rooms, et cetera, and school rooms.

RAYMOND WOOLEY WEDDING

FRANCE MUST LIFT GRIP ON GERMANY

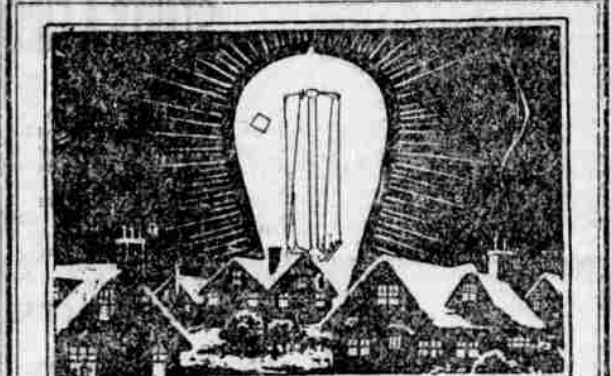

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 10.—France must lift her grip on Germany, if Germany is to be successful in meeting her obligations as laid down in the Dawes reparations plan, today declared Carl Bodiker, Prussian consul general at the free port of Hamburg. Consul General Bodiker and Mrs. Bodiker arrived here yesterday on a pleasure tour of the world.

"Germany has been given only such consideration as could be expected from 'compromises' between England and France," said the diplomat.

"The non-evacuation of the Cologne district is an example of an attitude that England felt Germany had complied with the disarmament provisions of the Versailles peace treaty, but France was not willing to release her grip. "Germany's rehabilitation and efforts to bear her tremendous reparations burden, would be successful if all of our former enemies was as ready with counsel and support as America has been."
