DRAIN MAN DIES FROM INJURIES

Rollo Drain, a member of one of the County's best known families, died Friday at Eugene, as a result of burns sustained a month ago, when the davenport upon which he was sleeping caught fire. Mr. Drain was 71 years of age, and was a brother of Mrs. R. L. Whipple of this city.

He was a grandson of Charles Drain, the founder of the town of that name, and the proprietor of one of the early inns on the old road between Oregon and California.

He was a registered pharmacist, and for several years was employed with a Portland drug firm, and later at Eugene. He later went into the automobile business at Drain. While engaged in that occupation he suffered an accident which left him crippled. He was cranking a car which was still in gear, and the machine ran over him, breaking his back. Although he survived the injury, he never fully recovered.

About a month ago, while sleeping on the davenport, the couch caught fire and he was so badly burned about the body and arms, that his life could not be saved.

Besides his widow he leaves an aged mother, Anna Drain, of Drain, and two sisters, Mrs. Whipple of this city, and Mrs. Harry Black of Hood River. The funeral was held at Eugene yesterday and the body placed temporary in the mausoleum there. It will be buried in the family-burial grounds later in the year.

HOLBEIN BACK FROM CHAMBER MEETING

Will E. Holbein, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, returned yesterday afternoon from Portland, where he attended the annual meeting of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, and the mid-winter meeting of the state secretaries' association. While in the city he let the contract for the making of the engravings to be used in the new county booklet. The chamber has spent a great deal of time and money securing the proper photos of all sections of the county, and it is safe to say that when this booklet is published that it will be one of the best and most comprehensive in the state, not only from a pictorial angle but also from the descriptive.

In speaking of the meetings of chamber of commerce men last week, Mr. Holbein stated that the high lights of the two meetings were, that the people of Oregon should not quit now when the people of the middle west and east are looking this way, but to urge their efforts to fill up the idle land in the state with contented settlers, and then see to it that they made a success of their venture. He stated that there was a disposition in some quarters of the state to quit advertising, and let Nature take its course, but that all were urged to redouble their efforts, and if necessary go stark, raving crazy over the possibilities of the state as our brethren in the state south of us are doing.

The other subject that was the most interesting was the matter of taxation in Oregon. The word has gone out over the country that Oregon people are taxed to death, when the opposite is true. Whatever taxes that seem high to the people themselves, so they have no one to blame, last of all the different legislators. In the final analysis, the taxes in Oregon are much lower than they are in some of the mid-western states, where experiments in socialism and political economy have doubled and tripled the taxes in recent years.

The secretaries' conference will result in much good to the state as a whole, for many subjects were brought up and threshed out that are bound to pep up the secretaries and make them do better work for their respective communities.

One thing was apparent to Mr. Holbein, and that was that Roseburg business men must attend future meetings of the State Chamber of Commerce. For instance, eleven business men from Eugene were in attendance with five of them delegates. There were no business men from this city present, so that the secretary was handicapped in securing recognition for Roseburg. Plans should be made early next year to have as many business men as possible at this important meeting.

Rebuilding Palestine
THE REASON
millions now living will never die

Among nations, the newly organized Jewish state stands out in marked contrast in its spirit of organization, cooperation, and progress. At a time when universal unrest and discontent threaten the overthrow of civilization, the Jewish homeland enjoys peace. The reorganization of the Jews in Palestine confirms chronologically the significance of present-day events. This remarkable movement among the Jews marks present world distress as earth's final cataclysm.
