ROSEBURG AND ASHLAND WILL PLAY FRIDAY

The Roseburg high school basketball team is looking forward to a real struggle tonight the Ashland high school team, one of the first games of the series to determine the championship of Southern Oregon and the right to represent this section of the state and the conference in Salem. Although the Roseburg team suffered a defeat at the hands of the University high school of Eugene a short time ago, it immediately turned around and last week won a decisive victory from the Coquille team, the champions of the Coos County district. The Ashland game is expected to be a close and interesting one, as the high school of that city always turns out a hard-fighting and heavy team which gives the local boys a hard battle every year. The game arranged for tonight will be preceded by a preliminary.

Couch Doubt has been hard at work overcoming the weaknesses which were brought out in the Eugene game, and expects the best showing that has been made this year. Portland Oregonian says "Couchman is a genius. Delightful and interesting concert. Tania's sang and acted exquisitely; voice of lovely quality, with fine dramatic effect; these were given veritable ovations."

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA and JIM LELAND settle down after their honeymoon, to find that Jim's mother intends to monopolize him as she always has. Cynthia cannot accustom herself to this, or to her mother-in-law's determination to remodel her. Jim leaves town on business, and Cynthia and Madame Leland quarrel. Cynthia makes the acquaintance of SOUL GARDNER, the black sheep of the town, recently returned from Paris, where his wife has divorced him. She also meets CECILE MALCOLM, a gay young widow who has designs on Gardner.

XXI—FOOD FOR GOSSIP

As they drove away from the apartment house where Mrs. Gardner had lived and where Cynthia was about to live, she with her eyes full of tears. "I don't see why Jim didn't take me to Hon-turnd to him with him," she exclaimed. "We've been married such a little bit of a while—and he's turned to him with him," she exclaimed. "I don't see why Jim didn't take me to Hon-turnd to him with him," she exclaimed. "We've been married such a little bit of a while—and he's turned to him with him," she exclaimed.

Cynthia spent the afternoon packing.

I refused—and as she's going with him, anyway, it was just as well that I did. I'm renting your apartment out of my own income." "You're a darned pretty little thing," he exclaimed enthusiastically, leaning across the table so that she did not see Cecile Malcolm, who had just come in. "I should think Jim Leland would be so proud of you that he wouldn't know what to do." "Half a dozen retorts sprang to Cynthia's lips, but she said nothing. She spent the afternoon packing. Madame Leland telephoned her, to announce her going to Jim.

"I wouldn't have gone if you had consented to come and stay with me," she told Cynthia. "But you refused so flatly that I hardly knew what to do. I couldn't bear the thought of staying here alone, and when I wrote James about it, and told him that I wasn't feeling well, he insisted that I come at once. I've always wanted to go to Honolulu." "Yes—so have I," replied Cynthia tartly. She could hardly keep from crying. "Give Jim my love, won't you?" "I think you might send him that yourself in a letter," replied Madame Leland. "It's very hard for him to be so far away alone. Your letters must mean a great deal to him."

"Yes, so much that he's too over-comme to answer them," retorted Cynthia, and hung up the receiver.

HAWLEY'S BILL WILL AID WATER POWER PROJECT

(Associated Press Local Wire.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A bill which would enable cities in the Willamette valley in Oregon to proceed with a plan to develop a water supply was introduced today by Representative Hawley. The measure would authorize a grant of approximately twelve sections of Federal government land around the headwaters of the McKenzie river in the vicinity of Cedar Lake to an organization which it is proposed to have the state legislature designate as an agency for construction and land also would be granted a water development organization for a reserve supply. The organization would have authority to construct and maintain necessary dams, head gates, pipe lines, reservoirs and other appurtenances needed in its program. The land affected would remain under supervision of the forest service.

MARIN'S SPEECH IS REPUDIATED; UPROAR ENSUES

PARIS, Jan. 23.—By a majority vote of 624, the chamber of deputies today rejected a proposal for posting throughout France copies of Deputy Marin's war department speech, in which France's four-billion-dollar war debt to the allies was characterized as a "moral infamy." The effect of the denial of the posting is to leave his declarations without the recorded approval of the chamber, which such posting would give.

Following the vote, the chamber was thrown into an uproar that lasted 25 minutes and the session had to be suspended after Deputy Des Jardins had criticized bitterly the action of the majority. It was a scene of such disorder as had never before been seen in the chamber. Deputy Des Jardins kept on shouting that the governmental majority was afraid to endorse Marin's theory of justice in dealing with the inter-allied debts because of "the deplorable effect it had had on the American senate."

After President Painleve had jammed his hat on his head as a signal that the session was suspended, the deputies continued thumping the desks, gesticulating and shouting. They quieted down somewhat, however, and the session was resumed Premier Herriot taking the rostrum. The premier's supporters applauded him, but the opposition greeted him with cries of derision.

Sportographs

(Associated Press Local Wire.) Russell Callow, coach of the University of Washington rowing crew, when notified that the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association had changed the distance for the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., race next June from three to four miles, gave the decision his endorsement. He said he believed the longer distance would favor Washington. It is expected he will begin at once to train the men over the four mile course. By winning three of the four games played on their tour the Oregon Aggie five now stands near the top in both the Pacific Coast and Northwest conference. The Beavers defeated the University of Idaho, 10 to 18, by a rally in the last three minutes last night. The O. A. C. players won by a single point from Gonzaga, defeated Washington state college by four points but lost to the University of Washington five by a large margin in their other game. Nick Altrock has made his last three base hit. He will, however,
