JAP IMMIGRANTS HELD IN PULLMAN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CALEXICO, Cal., Jan. 24.—Japanese seeking admission to Lower California are being held under guard in a Southern Pacific Pullman car here pending the outcome of an appeal to President Calles. The party, including three women, arrived under bond from San Francisco several days ago but was halted at the international boundary by Mexican officials with the legislation that entrance could be granted only under a special order from the president of the republic.

Two parties of Hindus experienced similar difficulty last year, one party being detained for more than three weeks before obtaining a presidential permit.

NURMI AND RAY WILL SHOW SPEED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. — Joie Ray of Chicago and Paavo Nurmi of Finland will meet tonight at the Brooklyn college games, but they will not appear in the same race. Just as the moon has eclipsed the world's greatest light, so has the draftsman from Abo come between fame and one of America's greatest athletic stars.

Nurmi will run in the 2,000 yards event while Ray will enter a race over half that distance.

Nurmi expects to lower two world marks to make his American conquests an even dozen.

PIRATES' TEAM IS STRENGTHENED

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24.—Radically reconstructed as a result of their 1924 showing and with a new infield composed largely of youngsters, the Pittsburg pirates loom as a potentially strong, but uncertain entry in the coming National league race.

Most observers pick Bill McKechnie's crew to finish well toward the top.

The Pirates figured in the most sensational trade of the winter season, when they sent three veterans—Charley Grimm, first sacker; Rabbit Maranville, second baseman; and Wilbur Cooper, southpaw pitcher — to the Chicago Cubs in exchange for George Grantham, second baseman; Al Niehaus, first sacker and Vic Aldridge, right handed twirler.

Relative advantages of this wholesale transaction have aroused keen debate that the Pirates will go into the race with plenty of outfield strength and a fine pitching staff. Max Carey, Carson Bigbee, Hazen Cuyler and Clyde Barnhart probably will patrol the outer pastures, reinforced by Grantham, who is expected to be transformed into a regular outfielder.

The infield is the Pirates' question mark. Grimm will be replaced by Niehaus, a newcomer. Reports say Niehaus is a good fielder and sensational batter. At second, Eddie Moore a sensation in his debut last year, will succeed Rabbit Maranville. The shortstop post falls to Wright, who in 1924, his first season with the majors, broke the record for assists and grove in 111 runs. Harold Traynor will be at third. The pitching staff in addition to Aldridge, will be made up of such stars as Lee Meadows, John Morrison, Ray Kremer, Emil Yde and Babe Adams.

Two promising recruits also are on the list. Kremer and Yde made good last season, their first with the Pirates.

CHINESE GIRL IS HELD AS ANARCHIST

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

LONDON, Jan. 24. — A dispatch to the Evening News from Kuala Lumpur, Straits settlements, says two European officials were injured today when a Chinese girl, believed to be an anarchist, exploded a bomb. The girl, who was seriously hurt admitted she had dogged the governor but without success.

MRS. WM. BUTTS WAS VERY SICK

Gives Full Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for Remarkable Recovery

Wellston, O. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make me strong. I was troubled with my back and sides hurting me till I could not do my work, and whenever I caught cold it made me irregular. Since I have taken the Vegetable Compound my side and back don't bother me and I can do my housework and care for my children now, where before I did not feel like doing anything or going around. After my first child was born about four years ago I saw an advertisement in the paper about the Vegetable Compound. I knew it would help me, but I was afraid to try it because people said it would help you to have children and I knew I was having children fast enough. But I thought if it would help me it would be better to have a whole house full of children and have good health. I became stronger from taking it and my husband says I look like a live woman instead of a dead one. When Spring comes I am going to take your Blood Medicine as I am very thin. I will answer letters from any woman who wishes to ask about your medicine." — Mrs. WILLIAM BUTTS, Wellston, Ohio.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA and JIM LELAND settle down after their honeymoon, to find that Jim's mother intends to monopolize him as she always has. Cynthia cannot accustom herself to this, or to her mother-in-law's determination to remodel her. Jim leaves town on business, and Cynthia and Madame Leland quarrel. Cynthia makes the acquaintance of NOEL GARDNER, the black sheep of the town, recently returned from Paris, where his wife has divorced him. She also meets

CECILE MALCOLM, a gay young widow who has designs on Gardner.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXII—THE NEW HOME

CYNTHIA moved into Noel Gardnar's apartment the next day. Her slater-in-law had called on her the evening before and spent two hours trying to persuade her not to do so.

VIOLET DARE

"I didn't tell mother that you were coming here, because I didn't want to spoil her whole trip," Louella had said. "Why, she wouldn't have gone to Honolulu with Jim if she'd known that you planned to do this. I can't understand your being so foolish, Cynthia. Noel Gardner has just been divorced; the whole town talked about him because of the way he went around with Cecile Malcolm before his wife divorced him, and now that he's back they're talking again. And then for you deliberately to take the apartment that he and his wife had, and to lunch with him—and play golf with him—"

"Both Jim and your mother urged me to give up our house while Jim is away because of the cost of keeping it open," Cynthia retorted. "So I'm closing it, and giving up the servants, and taking the only apartment I've been able to find that was possible, and paying the rent out of my own income. I don't see that I've given you any cause to find fault with me—though you find fault with me no matter what I do! If Noel Gardner has been talked about, and divorced by his wife, that doesn't affect me in the least."

But Louella had not agreed, and had finally departed for home in a rage, and Cynthia had wept a bit over her packing.

Established in her new home, however, she drew a long breath of relief. It was pleasant to have a home that was not dominated by her mother-in-law, one in which every piece of furniture had not been selected and placed by Madame Leland. Cynthia rearranged Noel Gardner's things, wondering as she did so whether he and his wife had chosen the furnishings for their apartment together, and what sort of person Mrs. Gardner was.

That afternoon Cecile Malcolm and her chum, Helena Jordan, dropped in.

"Had to make you welcome in your new home," remarked Cecile, who was sauntering about the living room when Cynthia entered. "Well, I certainly don't blame you for taking this apartment. I've always heard that it was a stunning place—unfortunately, Noel's wife and I were never on good enough terms for her to ask me here. Certainly had good taste, didn't she?"

"Oh, I think it was Noel who had the good taste," commented Mrs. Jordan. "He's always been known for his taste in everything, from good furniture to pretty women," with a glance at Cynthia and a little laugh.

"I'm so glad that you came today; we can christen my new home by having tea together," exclaimed Cynthia, determinedly changing the subject. Frances brought the tea things at once, but set them down hurriedly to answer the door bell. A moment later she had deposited a florist's box on a chair beside Cynthia; within it were masses of pink roses. And without stirring from her chair, Helen Jordan could read the card that lay on them—"Noel Gardner." she did read it, aloud.

"I told you Noel had good taste," she remarked.

"Yes, hasn't he? Russell roses are the loveliest flowers there are," answered Cynthia. Mrs. Jordan raised her eyebrows, and smiled quizzically but said nothing more.

"Noel always rushes a new woman right off her feet," murmured Cecile, glancing disdainfully at her tea cup. "Honey, would you mind if I had a cocktail? Tea doesn't interest me any more."

Cynthia blushed.

"I'm afraid there's nothing in the house to make one of," she said. "It didn't occur to me to bring any of Jim's private stock over here with me—"

"Oh, Noel must have everything in the world tucked away in his liquor closet; do call him up and ask him where it is," Cecile cut in.

"I'd rather not; I hardly think—"

"Nonsense. He always comes to the rescue of his famished friends. Where's the phone? I'll call him if you don't want to."

Without waiting for a reply she ran into the adjoining alcove and picking up the telephone, gave Noel's number. A moment later she was talking with him.

"Noel, this is Cecile. I'm calling from your old home and Cynthia Leland's new one—this is an S O S call from her, really; she doesn't know where you keep your gin. It goes with the apartment, doesn't it? Oh, that's a darling. Hurry!"

She came back to the tea table and established herself beside Cynthia once more.

"He says he'll come up and make us some cocktails himself," she announced airily. "Said he wanted to beg your forgiveness for not telling you where he keeps his liquor. I wish he'd told me he wanted to rent this apartment," she concluded fretfully. "I'd have taken it myself."

Blushing, Cynthia said nothing. Not for worlds would she have had Noel Gardner think that she meant to make free of his belongings in this way. She wondered how she could convince him of that.

"Noel always had good taste," commented Mrs. Jordan.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up; is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, V. M. Johnson, 161 North Union Avenue, Portland, Ore., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

INDIAN GIRL IS SOME FOOT-RACER

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

FALLS CITY, Neb., Jan. 24.—How Cora Dupuis, 16 year old Indian girl, outfooted a detail of officers, who came to an Indian reservation near here to return her to the Kansas industrial home at Beloit, by taking off her shoes and stockings and running over the ice and snow, was revealed today. It is believed by the officers that the girl kept right on going until she arrived some place in Oklahoma.

Headed by Harry Bell a prohibition officer from Beloit, the posse came to a house on the reservation where the girl, together with a white girl friend was staying. Bell attempted to grab the girl, but was foiled by an Indian who disarmed him. Then the posse pursued Cora and her companion the trail leading over the dangerous icy wastes of the Nemaha river. The white girl was captured but Cora escaped when she pulled off her shoes and stockings, took a last glimpse of her pursuers and showed her fast flying heels to the posse.

The University of Idaho basketball team left today for Missoula, where the Vandals will meet the Uneversity of Montana five in a Pacific Coast conference game tonight. Idaho defeated Gonzaga, 24 to 19, by scoring nine points in the last three minutes of a northwest conference game, last night.

Defeating the Whitman college five last night 12 to 11, the Oregon Aggies won their fourth Northwest conference basketball game of the week and their third successive game by a one point margin. The Beavers won three of their four games.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight failed to gain the prestige he expected, when he met the giant Joe Stoessel, a comparative professional novice in a 12 round bout, in Brooklyn Thursday night. Stoessel lasted throughout and had the bout ended in the tenth round in the opinion of the sporting writers, Stoessel would have received no worse than a draw.

Tiger Flower, Atlanta negro, welterweight who fell before Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., in two rounds last week, expects to appear in at least ten bouts before facing Paul Berlenbach on Astoria, L. I., on February 26. He will meet Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion, March 20.

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24. — Pinkney Gardner New York heavyweight wrestler defeated Louis Pergandis, Greek mat man, in their match here last night. Gardner lost the first fall in forty-seven and a half minutes, when he gave into a short arm scissors, but he took the second fall by tossing Pergandis off the mat. Pergandis forfeited the deciding fall, being unable to continue the match.
