HOUSE RETURNS POSTAL RAISE BILL TO SENATE

Prerogative of Starting Revenue Legislation Not Surrendered.

WILL HAVE OWN BILL

Mayfield Seated as Senator From Texas—No Special Session For Farm Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The house today asserted its exclusive right to initiate revenue legislation by voting 225 to 153 to return the postal pay and rate increase bill to the senate.

Mayfield Wins Seat The senate today seated Sen. Mayfield, democrat, of Texas, assuming the contest brought by George E. B. Peck, democratic candidate in the 1922 election.

Acting on the unanimous report of the select committee which found no basis in the charges of excessive expenditures or conspiracy between Mayfield and the Ku Klux Klan, the senate ended the two-year fight without a word of debate.

Evidence on which the department of justice has announced its purpose to bring new proceedings here in the case of Senator Mayfield of Montana was laid before a special grand jury today in the District of Columbia supreme court.

To Probe General Electric Co. The Federal Trade Commission would be directed to investigate the extent to which the General Electric company controls the electric power industry, under a resolution reported today by the senate interstate commerce committee.

The resolution comprises a modification of one introduced by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska. Under it the treasury department would be given authority to give the committee access to such of its reports and records as are deemed pertinent to the inquiry.

Farm Legislation Drags Although disappointed that his farm relief program has not been given priority by leaders in congress, President Coolidge is inclined to accept their judgment and has no legislation after March 4.

With members of congress from the agricultural states taking the position that there is no emergency requiring action, the president would regard their decision as a matured judgment.

These members of congress, the president holds, should have better information than the executive as to the need for immediate action, and he is disposed to leave the question squarely up to congress. He has laid before the executive body recommendations for relief worked out by a commission of experts, has notified the leaders that he desires legislation based on these recommendations put ahead and feels that the responsibility now lies with the leaders at the capitol.

The house agriculture committee decided to have drawn up a bill embodying the recommendations of President Coolidge's agricultural conference, to contain all suggestions excepting those relating to the tariff.

This action was taken to give the committee a basis from which to proceed.

Chairman Hagen announced he proposes to introduce a grain export bill similar to one introduced last week in the senate by Senator McNary, republican Oregon, and which contains many features of the old McNary-Hansen bill. The committee today took up the Cap-

Pruning Knife Used. Farming operations at some of the state institutions will be investigated by the ways and means committee.

Under the reservations congress would retain the right after the first year to change provisions of the treaty relating to preferential tariff and rail rates upon 90 days notice.

A resolution to put the house on record as favoring American adherence to the world court was approved today by the house foreign affairs committee.

The recent offer made by Henry Ford to the government of his research facilities and experts in solution of the Muscle Shoals problem is considered by President Coolidge as a proffer that the government might desire to accept.

The president foresees that if the Underwood private leasing Muscle Shoals bill finally is approved by congress the executive departments of the government may need expert aid in carrying out the provisions of the measure.
