(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Feb. 7.—The expedition under Dr. Alexander Hamilton Rice, which is exploring the upper Amazon region, got in touch with the Royal Geographical Society of London yesterday through an amateur radio operator, Gerald Marcuse of Caterham, Surrey. Dr. Rice's operator asked Marcuse to inform the society that the expedition had reached the junction of the rivers Uruari and Uricatara on January 19. The progress of the party had been slow, as the country was extremely difficult to traverse, the party had been unable to use its hydro-airplane, but had achieved the object of the expedition and all were well.

One Wife on Approval by VIOLET DARE

Author of "Treasury of Love," "The Husband Buyer," etc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CYNTHIA HAPENED'S husband, Jim, has gone to Honolulu shortly after their marriage, following a misunderstanding with his wife, and has taken his mother with him, leaving Cynthia to face the disapproval of her sister-in-law, LOUELLA, and all her world. Cynthia turns to CECILE MARGOLM, leader of the town's gayest set, and accepts the friendship of NOEL GARDNER, the town's black sheep, going with them to a mid-winter house party at Cecile's mountain cabin.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT XXXIV—LIFE GROWN STALE

"My dear, it's the most thrilling thing I ever heard of!" Cecile Malcolm was exclaiming on Cynthia the day after the latter's return home. "You should have seen the look on my face when you and Noel came back—and with the most interesting man in town as your companion! Life could hold nothing greater, if I were in your shoes. Incidentally, how's your shoulder?"

VIOLET DARE

Cynthia. She would have been glad if Cecile had not thought it necessary to call quite so soon. "Well, a lame shoulder and a bruised head aren't much, when you think of the excitement. But you should have seen the rest of us at my house, when you and Noel simply didn't come home. We were wild. I telephoned and had everybody out looking for you; if it hadn't been for the blizzard they'd have found you at once—aren't you glad it snowed?"

"Considering that it almost meant that Noel and I froze to death, I can't say that I am," Cynthia returned. "You're as bad as Louella. She acts as if I'd ordered the blizzard specially, and got lost and hurt on purpose, and you seem to think that the whole thing was just a lark. I wish you'd both realize that it wasn't fun at all."

But after Cecile had gone she wondered about that statement. It hadn't been fun, of course. But the bad side of the adventure had been compensated for, in a way which she had a wonderful talk with Noel when they sat there by the fire, huddled in by the softly falling snow. She felt that she knew him better than she knew any other man in the world, even her own husband. Jim had never opened his heart to her as Noel had. They had never talked together of the inner, the important things of life. They had talked of the house his mother gave them, and of the way she had furnished it, and of the garden that had been saved of the endless engagements that Jim's mother had insisted on their making and keeping, or material things, always.

BRINGING UP FATHER IN IRELAND COMING

"Bringing Up Father in Ireland" will come to the Antlers theatre for its regular engagement on next Monday night. New every season an Antlers patron all know, "Bringing Up Father in Ireland" is the latest conceit, concocted by George McManus and called from the best of the stunts seen in the "Punchy Papers" of the past year. They're funny enough in the newspaper to make millions of people laugh. And it goes without saying that the real thing in life is doubly as funny. The entire "Jiggs" family will be there as well as "Jiggs" himself, his companion in "Hogan" "Topsy" Moore.

JACK AND ESTELLE SEE HIS PROTEGE ACQUIRE VICTORY

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 7.—Jack Dempsey and his fiancée, Miss Estelle Taylor, occupied ringside seats at a local fight arena here last night, while in the squared circle Dempsey's protegee, Joe Benjamin, Los Angeles light heavyweight reflected glory on his teacher by decisively outpointing Johnny Reiser, former New York fighter.

When the heavyweight champion was introduced from the ring, right fans cheered for a speech, evidently with a view to getting some first hand information regarding Dempsey's forthcoming marriage and its detriment from the ring. The champion responded with a few words, but avoided any mention of his plans for the future.

VON ELM ADDS TO LAURELS AT GOLF

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—George Von Elm, winner of the 1921 Trans-Mississippi amateur golf championship and runner up in the 1924 national amateur tournament, garnered another trophy at Hillcrest country club here yesterday, when he placed first in the Southern California open title contest with a total score of 289, leading his closest competitor by six strokes. His card for the 72 hole was 77-70-69-73.

While Von Elm and Jim Duncan, professional at Brentwood and Midwick clubs, Los Angeles, respectively, divided second place honors with scores of 295. Also Mitchell, British professional, placed third with a 296. Von Elm gained the added distinction of being the first amateur to win the Southern California open title and was the only amateur to place in first twelve positions. His final round neared perfection in spite of the tricky greens made heavy by a light rain which fell throughout the play.

MRS. WILHELMY SAVED BY FRIEND

Doctor Advised Operation Friend Said Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First

St. Paul, Minn.—"I was all run-down from overwork and worry, had no appetite, could not sleep at night, and looked like a corpse. I have six children (five boys and one girl) and did not get any strength after my last baby was born. I was getting worse and thinner everyday. The doctor said I had to go to the hospital, but this I could not do on account of my family. So I went to a friend of mine and told her what the doctor had told me and she said, 'Now do as I tell you. Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I have done. It helped me.' So I started taking the Vegetable Compound and I noticed after the first few bottles that I felt considerably better. After taking 9 or 10 bottles I got over my fainting spells. Everybody who sees me now notices the great improvement in my health. I am gaining in weight and strength and an feeling fine. Eat well and sleep good nights.—Mrs. MARY WILHELMY, 559 Dulke Street, St. Paul, Minnesota.
