The new De Laval—the world's best separator—is now within the reach of everyone in this community. You can buy a De Laval for as low as $6.60 down, with small monthly payments of $3.96 a month for 15 months, larger sizes in proportion.

The saving made by the De Laval over hand skimming or a worn-out or cream-wasting separator, should about equal the monthly payments. In this way it will pay for itself.

You will get a machine that skims cleaner, lasts longer and is easier to operate than any other separator—the experience of two and a half million owners proves it. The new De Laval with its self-centering bowl, light running qualities, greater convenience and all around superiority is even better than the old machine, and that is saying a great deal.

No matter how long you may use a De Laval you can always get service and repairs.

With such easy terms you really can't afford to be without a De Laval. You pay for it whether you use it or not. Let us demonstrate a De Laval on your own farm or call in and talk the matter over with us.

W. J. Weaver, owner and manager of the Umpqua Hotel, returned last night from Shelton, Nebraska, where he was called by the illness and death of his mother. He reports that the state is experiencing one of the hardest winters of recent years, snow having been on the ground for more than two months. He returned by way of San Francisco and Sacramento, visiting the new Senator Hotel at the latter place. He also spent two days at Yreka Inn, which is owned by Mr. Weaver and his brother. Mrs. Weaver met her husband in San Francisco and returned with him.

The Cougars played a fine checking game, and it was only the ability of the Oregon Cougars to loop the ball in from different angles that kept them on the long end of the score.

WHAT THE LEGISLATURE IS DOING

clare that the measure is not designed to strike at any group, but is intended to raise educational standards.

The bill would establish a board of license consisting of ten members of whom eight would be named by the governor. The ninth member of the board would be the state superintendent of public instruction, and the tenth, the secretary of the Oregon state board of health. To obtain a license, one would have to possess a certain classification.

"The bill makes no discrimination among the different schools of the healing art," explained Dr. Ralph Fenton, speaking for the measure. "It is simply designed to insure the ability of the individual to practice the healing arts. It creates no new offices. Under the bill a person must be educated, regardless of what its method may be. It will abridge no individual rights. One who feels that his rights have been abridged, can appeal to the courts immediately under the measure.

The organized chiropractors were represented by B. F. Mulkey, who charged that passage of the bill would put the chiropractors out of business.

"A bill was passed by the house today which would raise the standards of the chiropractic group in this state 33 1-3 percent," he explained, "we believe that the present medical practice code with the existent board to be adequate.

Action Is Postponed.

STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 10. — Unable to muster enough votes to pass the fish commission bill over the governor's veto the senate organization yesterday postponed action on the measure until Wednesday afternoon, when it will come up under a special order of business at 2:30 o'clock.

The measure which transfers the fish commission from the governor to the board of control, was introduced several weeks ago by Senator Ritner, and last week it was made a special order of business for yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

When the leaders of the senate organization made a canvas of the situation, however, they found that a group of 12 independent senators had agreed to support the governor's veto of the measure.

Eleven is enough to sustain the veto and hence the senate organization decided to postpone action with the hope of bringing sufficient pressure on the 13 senators to break their combination.

Bank Code Bill Passes.

STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 10.—The revised banking code bill, senate bill 54, was passed by the senate today, coming up as a special order at 11 o'clock. The debate was brief.

Senate bill No. 183, designed to relieve dry farmers on the north unit project passed the senate today.

A bill introduced by Upton by request, providing for a state board of therapy examiners and for regulation of cosmetics therapy passed the senate today.

House bill 252, abolishing the office of county judge, was killed by the house.

Savings Bill Passed.

STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 10.—The Gordon Mutual Savings bank bill was passed by the house this morning without opposition. Representative Gordon explained the measure, pointing out that it was copied after the New York law under which a tremendous banking business is being done. Representative Sherman supplemented Gordon's speech, declaring it would be stimulative to state development.

Senator Klepper and Representative Bailey introduced a bill today providing for adoption of a state flag.

McELHINNY FUNERAL HELD THIS MORNING

The funeral of the late W. S. McElhinny, who passed away at about 11 o'clock Saturday night, after an illness of several months duration, was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Roseburg Undertaking Parlors. Rev. Stewart O'Dell, pastor of the Methodist church, south, read the services. The body will be sent on train number 54, tonight to Portland, where it will be placed in the mausoleum. Many beautiful floral offerings were presented by the many sorrowing friends and bereaved relatives in token of the high regard in which he was held.

CANNERY MEETING HELD

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Umpqua Valley Canning Company, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the cannery building. The meeting was called for the purpose of electing officers for the year and transacting other business in connection with the operation of the cannery.

BAPTISTS PLAN NEW BUILDING

The financial campaign of the Baptist church to raise funds for the construction of the first unit of a new church building, will be started tomorrow night, according to Rev. H. L. Caldwell, pastor of the local church. The congregation here has purchased the lot directly south of the church building, this lot being 110 by 80 feet in size, and the title to this piece of land has already passed to the church. The lot was formerly owned by G. W. Young.

It is intended to secure plans for a church building to occupy the newly acquired site as well as the present property, and then to construct one unit. This unit will be a Sunday school building, fully equipped and modern in every particular. Later as more money becomes available the auditorium will be built where the present church now stands. The church has outlined an extensive campaign to raise the needed funds, and will not start construction work until money to complete the project is available. It is expected that this will require about one year.

STATE CLUB LEADER WANTS BIG EXHIBIT

H. U. Seymour, state boys and girls club leader, spent the day in Roseburg conferring with W. S. Carpentar, county club leader, and Mrs. Edith Ackert, county school superintendent. Mr. Seymour is anxious that Douglas county should make a better showing in club work at the state fair, and is working with that end in view at the present time. The girls are making a good showing in sewing and cooking, but the boys are not taking as much interest and it is desired to have a more balanced exhibit from the county. Steps will be taken soon to arrange for more exhibits from the boys' work, and an effort made to capture the first prize at the state fair.

GRAND JURY PROBES LA MERE DEATH

The grand jury spent the greater part of today investigating the death of Wm. LaMere who was killed several months ago when he was struck by the automobile driven by S. S. Shell, of Oakland. Mr. LaMere, according to the evidence brought out at the coroner's inquest, was walking along the pavement in Edenbower, when he was hit by the auto driven by Mr. Shell. The car travelled a distance of about two hundred feet after hitting the man, and then turned over in the ditch. Mr. LaMere lived only a few minutes after being struck. The coroner's jury made a thorough investigation of the case and ordered Mr. Shell held for the grand jury, and his bonds were placed in the sum of $2,000. The charge of manslaughter was brought by the coroner's jury.

The grand jury today called in a number of witnesses including practically all of those who testified at the probe immediately following the accident, spending the entire morning on the one case.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 10.—Egg values have resumed their downward trend with another sharp break in the local market today. On the exchange prices are 3 to 4 cents lower with extras posted at 34 cents and firsts at 33 cents. Pullets declined 4 cents to the 30 cent level.

Current receipts were plentiful and exchange prices eased off 4 cents closing at 29 cents net. Bids in the country, however, range around 27@28c; with few buyers desiring to pay more than 27 cents.

Increased receipts in the local market together with continued declines in other coast markets are the principal bearish factors at this time.

There was no change in butter prices today and bids on the exchange remained steady at former levels. Country dressed meats are firmer today due to light receipts. Choice light veal are bringing as high as 16½c with choice light hogs held at 15½ to 16 cents. Demand is good for top stuff.

Poultry receipts are light and the market is in good healthy condition.

The melon market is weaker with wholesale dealers selling U. S. No. 1 stock from the Sherwood district at $4.25 per hundred. Some are still asking $4.50 but the bulk of sales are made at the lower figure. In the country many of the growers are holding for $4, but buyers are not willing to go over $3.75 even for the best stock and recent lots have been picked up at $3.50 country loading point.

There is no actual weakness in the potato situation, although the market is quiet temporarily.

U. S. No. grade Burbanks are bringing $1.75 in the country with some fancy lots at $1.85. In the wholesale market fancy potatoes are moving out at $2.25 with Yakima Gems at $2.50.
