FISH BILL MAY GO DOWN UNDER SENATE VOTING

Possibility of Commercial Fish Measure Being Knocked Out.

COULD SUSTAIN VETO

Bill Transfers Control of Fish Commission From Governor to State Board Control.

(Associated Press Special Wire) STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 11.—Possibility of the commercial fish company bill being defeated on the floor of the senate without the exercise of the veto was seen this forenoon, when it was learned that the original group of 13 senators opposed to the measure had been augmented to 14, and that another senator was wavering on the question.

Whether the bill is defeated outright on the floor of the senate, there appears to be at least 14 solid votes to sustain the veto of the governor and 11 votes are sufficient.

Should the measure pass the senate, the plan is for the house immediately to proceed to consideration of the bill and present indications are that there will be sufficient votes in that body to enact it and also to pass it over the executive's veto. Upon this sharp debate, the house after returning to the senate where it originated and upon the veto being sustained in that body it would be sent to the legislative cemetery.

The bill was introduced by Senator Rinker and transfers control of the fish commission from the governor to the state board of control. It will come up under a special order of business this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Representative Kirkwood's bill transferring the control over the game commission from the governor to the board of control, is also pending in the senate, having passed the house with enough votes to carry it over the governor's veto.

The group of 13 in the senate is expected to sustain the governor's veto of this bill should it pass the senate.

PAY TAXES LATER. STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 11.—Payment of taxes one month later than at present is provided for in senate bill 16 passed late yesterday. By the house, the measure offered for the convenience of farmers, will become law if approved by the governor.

House bill 152, making provisions whereby railroads can obtain rights on water, where necessary for operating purposes, passed the house yesterday afternoon with only four opposing votes.

House concurrent resolution number 6 introduced by Representative Carlin, Jackson county, putting the legislature on record against further adventures in state constitutional operations, yesterday afternoon.

The house yesterday afternoon adopted house concurrent resolution number four, by Garcia, putting the legislature on record against considering any income tax legislation at the present session. House joint resolution number 8, introduced by Woodward, and proposing a constitutional amendment to repeal the slavery clause in the Oregon constitution, was adopted by the senate.

House concurrent resolution number 12, introduced by Representative Hamilton of Harney, would call upon the governor to name a representative to serve on a commission composed of representatives from Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon and two federal commissioners to agree on future distribution of water of the Columbia river and its tributaries. Any agreement reached would not be binding until ratified by the several legislatures of the states concerned and by congress.

The joint ways and means committee decided to return to the floor of the senate an advisory report on the Staples bill to increase the salaries of the supreme court justices from $4,250 to $7,500 a year.

The committee decided favorably on the bill to provide $25,000 for relief of the flood stricken area around Vale, Multnomah county.

Motor Vehicle Bill. STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 11.—Establishment of the principle of commercial vehicles paying for use of highways in proportion to their traffic and business over them, is effected in house bill 413 passed by the house yesterday afternoon with four dissenting votes.

House bill 412 is a substitute worked out of house bills 13 and 59 by the roads and highways committee. The most important element of it provides for a tax of three eighths of a mill per seat or ton capacity multiplied by the number of miles travelled by buses and trucks. This tax is over and above all other regular fees charged.

Permits for operation must be obtained from the public service commission. Of the funds derived from this additional source of revenue, one quarter would go to the various agencies in proportion to the license fees paid by machine owners. The other 3/4 would go to highway construction and maintenance.

Funds for Commission. STATEHOUSE Salem, Oregon, Feb. 11.—Despite Governor Pierce's wish that no funds be appropriated for the continuance of the public service commission, the joint ways and means committee late yesterday introduced house bill number 419 calling for appropriation of $100,000 for this department.

Representative Gordon spoke for the bill which was put to three readings through a suspension of the rules. He pointed out that the governor should be given immediate opportunity to act on the bill in order that the house might have time to sustain its own action in case of veto.

With a vote of 23 to 22 the Woodward bill providing for the establishment of kindergartens in school districts of the first class was passed by the house after sharp debate. Congress would be asked to erect a suitable monument at Seaside at the end of the Lewis and Clark trail under house joint memorial No. 13, introduced by Representatives Bares and Senator Upton this morning.

May Approve Action. STATEHOUSE Salem, Ore., Feb. 11.—Approval of the Oregon public service commissions action in seeking the interstate commerce commission for the construction of 221 miles of railroad through Central and Southern Oregon, would be given by the legislature under a joint resolution introduced by Representative Carlin, of Jackson county yesterday afternoon.

The resolution points out that construction of the railroad in question "would open up that vast stretch of undeveloped country and afford better access to the markets of the prairie states from the Mississippi and Missouri river valleys and the eastern United States to the products of both eastern and western Oregon."

KILL THREE PANTHERS. Harry and Wm. Dyser, who live on the McClintock farm in Looking Glass Valley, brought to the city today the pelts of two panthers and the carcass of another which they had killed on the coast range since Sunday, the largest of the trio measuring eight and one-half feet.
