ENTIRE NATION PAYS TRIBUTE TO HONEST ABE

the great American who himself came from such rugged and pure American stock as predominated Americans, the folks in the mountain region, formed the central theme of the speakers at the gathering.

"It may be," Secretary Work said in his address, "that a providence prompted the founding of Lincoln Memorial University for those of the same ancestry which produced Lincoln and that from among them may later come men who can rule the nation."

Of all the memorials erected to Lincoln by his countrymen, former Governor Lowden told the gathering the memorial university, "seems to be the best and most significant of all, for their arrest."

"Millions of young men and women of ancestry and history link his own to whom this great institution gives hope."

Judge Gary, in an address stressed Lincoln's ingrained honesty as perhaps the dominant quality of his character. It was that above all else, he said, which placed Lincoln "so firmly in the confidence and affection of the people."

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Special tributes in Chicago and throughout the state were paid to Lincoln's favorite son—Abraham Lincoln.

The most pretentious of the observances of his birthday anniversary were in Chicago, where he was nominated for the presidency in 1859, and in Springfield, where he practiced law for years, and where his memorial remains forming rest. Informal ceremonies also were planned to take place at Lincoln's tomb in the state capital.

Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles, who at 25 was a major-general commanding a division in the union army and knew Lincoln intimately, was the central figure of Chicago's observances.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—Tribute was paid to Abraham Lincoln today by services in various parts of the city by patriotic religious and civic organizations in celebration of his birthday. Observance of the anniversary will reach the climax tonight at the annual dinner of the national republican club, at which Secretary Hughes is to speak.

At the Lincoln statue in Union Square more than twenty organizations took part in services.

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Abraham Lincoln's prayer that America might be the issue of two revolutions, one against slavery and one against drunkenness, has been fulfilled, General Nelson A. Miles, retired Civil War veteran, and Indian fighter, told the Press Club of Chicago today.

In his speech before the Martha Washington Temperance Society of Springfield, Ill., February 22, 1892, he said the "grandest revolutions the world has ever seen would be those that would leave neither a slave nor a drunkard on the earth, General Miles declared.

"Lincoln added, 'how proud will be the title of that land which may truly claim to be the cradle of both revolutions.'"

"At the age of 28 years, Lincoln added a wise, noble and dauntless in the following language: 'Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well wisher of his posterity, swear by the blood of the revolution, never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country and never tolerate their violation by others.' He said that 'if the laws be contemptuously despised, and disregarded, and if the rights of the people to be secure and their persons and property are held by no better tenure than the caprice of a mob of alienations of their affections from the government is a natural consequence.'"

BIG SAWMILL TO BE LOCATED IN GLENDALE SOON. (Continued from page 1.) ers being D. N. Snyder, M. D. Zwright, and Fred Fisher. The company started with a capital stock of $25,000 going into business on a small scale. The enterprise met with success, and a steady growth has been recorded and the capital stock was recently increased to $200,000. D. N. Snyder died about a year ago, but before his death he had completed extensive plans for the development of the mill. His heirs and the other stockholders in the company are attempting to carry out the plans as prepared by him, and expect to take great forward steps during the present year. The first change will be to move the mill from its present location at Fernvale to a new site, just across the creek from Glendale, on a location already procured. A dam is to be thrown across the stream to create an artificial pond, giving a place where the logs may be handled suitably. The size of the mill will be increased and its equipment enlarged. The change was found advisable because of the better transportation facilities available at Glendale and because of the ability to secure supplies and materials at less cost than at Fernvale. Negotiations pending for several days between the Glendale Lumber company and C. A. Betcher, of Red Wing, Minn., were concluded today, when the Lumber company secured title to 2,255 acres of timber land located on McCullough creek, near Glendale, the consideration being in excess of $70,000. The purchase of this large body of timber is the first step in the development plans of the company, which will soon start operations on a large scale.
