WHEAT PRICES BEGIN TO SOAR AGAIN

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. — Wheat opened excited today and as much as seven cents higher. May delivery touched as high as $1.84¼ a bushel, as compared with $1.77¾ at the close on Wednesday. The rise was largely in sympathy with advances at Liverpool and Buenos Aires accounts and account of a revival of export demand.

Indications pointed to a big export business done in wheat during the Lincoln holiday. Besides advices were at hand from the United States department of agriculture that world wheat supplies at the end of the crop year would be very low.

The swift upturn of the wheat value brought about heavy profit taking sales, and thus led to a sudden reaction.

On the ensuing setback May wheat dropped to $1.80¾.

BIG CROWD AT SALVATION ARMY.

Last night was a banner night at the Salvation Army Hall. Every seat was taken and extra chairs had to be brought in, to accommodate the crowd who came to hear G. W. Scott — the Scotch Evangelist—preach on Jesus is Coming Soon. Many were mightily stirred as the Little preacher poured out his soul on this wonderful subject. The Word of God was given in demonstration of the Holy Ghost and power. Many scriptures were quoted by the preacher, revealing a mind well stored with Bible truth. A large attendance is expected tonight to hear the Evangelist speak on "Babes In Christ." (1. Corinthians 3:1) In addition to the lively chorus numbers, Mr. Scott will sing Sankeys famous hymn "The Ninety and Nine." Mr. Scott has sang this beautiful solo to thousands, during the thirteen years of his ministry, as a singing Evangelist. The subject of the Bible Lecture at 2 o'clock tomorrow will be "Salvation — What Is It." All are requested to bring Bibles and note books to these Lectures. A special request is made to consecrated Singers and Musicians of the local churches to come and assist in these meetings. CORRESPONDENT

FINAL REPORT OF GRAND JURY IS SUBMITTED

tion by the trial jury.

It has been our unpleasant duty to find indictments against several minors yet in their early teens. The evidence which came before us in the examination of these cases presents a most deplorable situation with regard to the children of today. We feel that it is our duty to call the attention of the people of Douglas county, and particularly of parents, to the situation as it has been opened to our view. When boys yet in their early years become hoboes and felons, and when girls of our county become so thoughtless and bold as to associate with such boys, it is time for all right thinking people to awaken, and we urgently call upon the fathers and mothers of Douglas county to exercise a more strict and watchful control over their children for the sake of themselves the safety of their children, and the welfare of the state.

We have inquired into the condition and management of the offices pertaining to the courts of justice of Douglas county and into the care and mangement of the County Poor Farm and the county jail. In the main we find the business of Douglas county being transacted in an efficient manner. We find, as other grand juries before us have found, a grave question presented in the matter of caring for county prisoners. The present county jail is wholly unfit for habitation of any human being no matter how guilty or depraved he may be. In our judgment no new structure should be built until such time as there is a new court house constructed. We do, however, believe that temporary repairs should be made in the present structure so as to make it habitable. The toilet in the cells on the lower floor should be replaced and adequate provision made so as to safeguard the health of the inmates. The windows opening on the east side of the lower floor should be increased in size so as to admit sufficient light and ventilation. These recommendations are made not in a spirit of criticism but because we feel that the repairs suggested are necessary for the physical welfare of county prisoners.

We also recommend that provision be made for shelving to handle old records of the county, now dumped promiscuously on the floors in the upper portion of the jail. If these records are of any value at all they should be given such care; otherwise, they should be destroyed, as they ultimately will be if left piled as they now are.

We find the county poor farm under excellent management, sanitary and cheerful. We have one recommendation to make to the county court with regard to this institution: It will be necessary very shortly to install some sort of a cook stove as the present stove is very dilapidated and a fire menace. We recommend that the court investigate the feasibility of installing an electric cook stove. We believe that this can be done at about the same expense necessary to replace the present wood stove and that an electric cook stove can be operated more economically as the amount of fuel can be proportioned to the amount of heat required.

A careful inspection of the court house brings to us the same conviction it has brought to other grand juries, namely, that a new court house capable of adequately housing all county officers and adequately protecting all county records and containing a fireproof jail, should be constructed at the earliest possible moment. As has been so often called to the attention of the people of Douglas county, the present court house is nothing more or less than a make-shift fire trap. Within our court house are contained the priceless records, property records, fiscal records of the treasurer's office and the sheriff's office, assessment record, road records, etc. These records could not be replaced should they be destroyed. Ordinary common sense and prudence dictates that adequate protection should be given to these records at the earliest possible moment. A preceding grand jury has recommended that the county court at the next election held in Douglas county present to the voters of Douglas county an opportunity to decide upon the court house question. We desire to make that same recommendation. A 2½-mill tax for three years will erect and completely equip a modern fire proof court house and jail, sufficient to handle the activities of Douglas county for the next hundred years. We have faith that the residents of Douglas county, Oregon, will overwhelmingly support a measure to construct a court house as above outlined. We are taxpayers of Douglas county and reside in various parts of the county and in recommending the foregoing action we do so as business men and because we believe that such action is for the best interest of Douglas county.

Having completed all matters before us, we request that we be dismissed.

Dated February 11th, 1925.

Respectfully submitted,
EARL AGEE, Foreman.

LEGISLATURE STARTS ACTION ON PROBE

ing the thanks of the state to R. A. Booth of Eugene for the statue of the "Circuit Rider," which was presented to the state by Mr. Booth, passed the senate today.

A Bitter Debate.

STATEHOUSE, Salem, Oregon, Feb. 13.—One of the bitterest debates in the senate this session and one which involved an unusual alignment of voters in the upper body of the legislature arose over senate bill 26 introduced by Staples, and proposing to increase the salaries of the supreme court justices from $5,250 to $7,500 a year. The bill passed by a vote of 18 to 11, Senator Miller being absent.

Among house bill passed by the senate late yesterday were:

H. B. 156, Oakes — providing that assessor shall not raise assessed valuation of newly settled irrigable land until water is secured.

H. B. 80 Hazlett — Changing date of elections in irrigation districts from second Tuesday of October to first Tuesday of November.

The Umatilla delegation late yesterday introduced S. B. 207 authorizing grain and forage crop experimental station east of the Cascades.

Oppose Bird Measure.

STATEHOUSE, Salem, Oregon, Feb. 13.—The senate late yesterday went on record unanimously against the passage by congress of the "migratory bird refuge act." This came up as house joint memorial number 1, introduced by Kirkwood, protesting the passage of the act, the memorial being addressed to congress. By the bill in congress it is declared the government plans to establish bird refuges in some of the states, including Oregon, and charge hunters a license fee of $1 to hunt on the reserves. Sportsmen of the state are solid against the congressional measure.

House joint memorial 30 protesting against the government including Diamond Lake in the Crater Lake forest reserve was adopted by the senate yesterday. The memorial asks congress instead of placing Diamond lake in the Crater lake reserve to deed the lake and its shores to the state of Oregon.

CAL'S HOBBY-HOSS IS GIVEN RIDICULE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The house was thrown into an uproar today when Representative Vinson, democrat, Kentucky, attempted to read a poem entitled "Cal's Hobbyhorse," and Representative Luce, Republican, Massachusetts, sought to have him stopped as he concluded the first line.

Mr. Luce contended it was a breach of house rules for a member to "cast ridicule" on the president. After hot debate in which a dozen members participated, Representative Snell, republican, New York, presiding, overruled Mr. Luce and Mr. Vinson continued his reading.

Ruling that the prohibition in the English parliament against making uncomplimentary remarks about the King, did not aply in the American House of Representatives, Mr. Snell informed Mr. Luce that another way was open for him—that he could demand that Mr. Vinson's "words be taken down," paving the way for a house vote on the stenographic report of the remarks as to whether they were out of order.

Permitted to continue, Mr. Vinson disclaimed any intention of ridiculing Mr. Coolidge, pointing out that the president was not mentioned by name. He prefaced his poem, however, by reading extracts from newspaper accounts of the electric horse the president rides at the White House for exercise.

At the conclusion of Mr. Vinson's reading no effort was made by Mr. Luce or any other house member to have the poem and Mr. Vinson's remarks expunged from the records.

The poem recited by the Kentucky representative made reference to the many trials of the Prince of Wales as a horseman and said Mr. Coolidge had profited by that example. The White House horse, it continued at least shares its master's proclivities for silence and it was suggested, it be given a name to be inscribed on the rolls of equine history along with those of derby winners.

There was a reference, too, to the presidents hay pitching "in the campaign just past" and a query why the "movie men" had not been permitted also to take pictures of the presidents real exercise."

LAWMAKERS TO USE SIRENS FOR NOISE

VIENNA, Feb. 13.—The socialist members of the Austrian parliament, who depend upon noise for obstruction of parliamentary debate have found an ally in a dealer in automobile supplies. This enterprising business man recently addressed a letter to the socialist members offering them "second hand auto sirens and horns cheap for obstruction purposes."

THACKER ARRESTED ON CHECK CHARGE

Charles Thacker, indicted by the grand jury on a charge of passing a worthless check, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Sam Starmer. Thacker furnished bail in the sum of $200 to appear for arraignment upon order of the court. He is charged with passing a check in the sum of $5 upon a restaurant keeper, without having sufficient funds to cover the check.

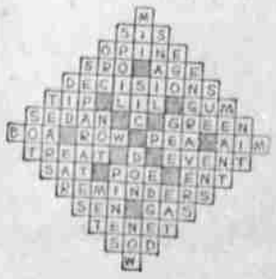
Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 97.



How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.
