ROSEBURG PARTY RETURNS FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Strong and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Leake, who have been spending the past four weeks touring California, have returned to this city. They went the inland route on their way down, through Bakersfield, over the ridge route to Los Angeles. The party stopped over at Santa Rosa, Long Beach and at San Diego. From San Diego they went to El Centro and Glendale, and came back the coast route. Mr. Strong states that they found southern California a wonderful country, being developed, under adverse conditions. They visited at a ranch, consisting of 140 acres, put to lemon, orange and grape fruit trees. He states that this was one of the finest developed tracts in the vicinity of Santa Ana. The party also visited in the Imperial Valley, and encountered one dust storm, which ruined the windshield, and took the paint off the front of the fenders of the car. Mr. Strong states that he finds that lettuce is one of the principal crops at this time of the year in that part of California, many thousands of acres being developed in this vegetable. They stopped over at the Yucka Inn at Yucka, and say that it is one of the finest hotels in that part of the country, and affords excellent service.

Theatres

Liberty Theatre "Let Women Alone," admonishes the picture at the Liberty Theatre Sunday and Monday and proves that it is sound advice. For both the old and the young "heroines" have ideas of their own and smart enough to carry them out to the discomfiture of the old one's son and the young one's uncle. The picture is the screen version of Viola Brothers Shore's Saturday Evening Post story, "On the Shelf."

Antlers Theatre Norma Talmadge and Joseph Schildkraut—the supreme tragedienne—the most magnetic lover.

THACKER ARRESTED

Charles Thacker was arrested today by Sheriff Jennings of Jackson county, on a warrant charging him with issuing bad checks. Thacker is alleged to have issued checks amounting to about $57 in Medford. He was indicted in the circuit court of Douglas county for a like charge but the case was not brought to trial.

Here is a new alliance, which film fans will anticipate with interest. Norma and Schildkraut will make their first appearance together in "The Song of Love," a story of barbaric life and love on the border of the Arabian desert, at the Antlers theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday matinee.

Schildkraut, her new leading man, has had a successful career in drama in Europe and America. In films his performance in "Orphans of the Storm" was a distinct triumph. His career in films since has been watched with keen interest.

Majestic Theatre

It did not take Universal officials very long to decide that Baby Peggy was fitted for jewel length features after the ability the tiny starlet displayed in her first big production, "The Darling of New York," and also because of the great cast that surrounded her. For this reason her newest production has an equally strong cast.

Local film fans will have an opportunity to see her second big feature, "The Law Forbids," with Jess Haines directed from an original story by Bernard McConville, at the Majestic theatre Sunday and Monday.

ROSEBURG AND WALKER HIGH SCHOOLS TO DEBATE AGAIN NEXT WEEK

The Roseburg High School and Walker High School debate teams will meet again next week and debate the same question on which they debated Friday at Walker and at Roseburg. The question was: "Resolved, that the Japanese should be admitted to the United States under the quota terms of the general immigration laws."

The judges here, who were Bishop Sumner of Portland, Superintendent of Schools Maxwell, of Drain, and Miss Cleo of Cottage Grove, made a 2 to 1 decision in favor of the Walker negative team, and the judges of Walker gave the local negative team a 2 to 1 decision at Walker, making these two schools tie for the honor of debating for the district championship at Eugene. The possibilities are that the two teams will debate off the tie next week, using the same question. The winners of this contest will then debate against the winners of the Eugene High School and University High School contest, which was held last night at Eugene. The team which is victor in the last debate will have the Southern Willamette Championship.
