

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

SOCIETY

By BEULAH JEWETT

L. F. T. Masque Is Outstanding Event of Week

Sustaining their reputation for the unique in social events, the L. F. T. dancing club entertained at the Knights of Pythias hall Tuesday evening with their annual Masque Ball, a mid-year event which each year draws a number of those other than Irish Bruin, and for an informal evening of fun and frolic "en costume."

The sensational entrance of Jiggs and Maggie, Jiggs surrounded by the traditional chorus girls, and Maggie only a short distance behind with the ever ready rolling pin, interrupted the dancers, who soon discovered that Jiggs was none other than Irish Bruin, and Maggie, H. W. Bates. The frolicsome chorus girls were Irish Bruin, Mrs. A. B. Crawford, Mrs. Ralph Hunsaker, and Mrs. Nathan Fullerton.

The costumes were all colorful and well planned. Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton were an old-fashioned lady and farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton were costumed from the Orient, and Mrs. Jack Wharton was a smiling old-fashioned lady accompanied by her little boy, who was Mr. Wharton. Mrs. L. A. Wells and Mrs. H. H. Stapleton were both in old-fashioned garb with Mrs. Wells as a Chinaman and Mr. Stapleton as a clown. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Libburn were an engaging Pierrot and Pierrette, and George Culver a most convincing farmer. Mrs. Ted Post was a typical Highland lassie, and Mr. Post a comely old man.

Miss Bloomatrom Entertains Sewing Club Tuesday

A quantity of spring blossoms including crocations, daffodils and violets, filled the rooms of the C. L. Hamilton home Tuesday evening, when Miss Elsie Bloomatrom invited the sewing club of which she is a member, to her guests for the evening. After several hours of sewing, Mrs. Paruloh amused the group by telling fortunes, and later luncheon was served at dainty small tables, by the hostess assisted by Miss Lydia Christiansen.

Added to the affair were Miss Myra Henderson, Miss Edna Warren, Miss Florence Thomson, Miss Lydia Christiansen, Miss Verle Tracy, Miss Florence Sneadaker, Miss Fern Scott, Miss Alva Hemre, Miss Elmer Sherk, Miss Katherine Olsen, Mrs. Muriel Kestran, and Mrs. Arlene Paruloh.

Mrs. Nichols Hostess at Clever Luncheon

A Valentine luncheon with favors of old fashioned rosebuds of spring flowers, entertained the members of the Bridge Luncheon Club Saturday, when they motored to Brookway to be the guests of Mrs. Harold Nichols. Covers were placed around the pretty table for Mrs. Glens Wimbly, Mrs. Gu. Gordon, Mrs. Charis McKilhinny, Mrs. Roy Caching, Mrs. Kenneth Quine, Mrs. Sam Shoemaker, Mrs. Jack Wharton, Mrs. Ed Thornton, Mrs. George Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Whipple, all members of the club, and guests, Mrs. Harry Winston, Mrs. J. Crawford, and Miss Helen Casey.

Mrs. Love Hostess to Matrons Monday

Mrs. J. I. Love invited her bridge club and a number of guests to her home on Monday afternoon, using wild flowers in the pleasant arrangement of her rooms. Mrs. Clair K. Allen held high score at the close of the game. At the bridge tables were Mrs. H. D. Harris, Mrs. J. C. Ponsler, Mrs. Ben Zigler, Mrs. C. S. Young, Mrs. W. R. Conlee, Mrs. A. F. McKenzie, Mrs. C. K. Allen, and Mrs. H. P. Ogden.

Frances Willard Tea Is Interesting Event

The Frances Willard Tea, sponsored by the Women's Christian Temperance Union on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Paul Fisher was a successful event, and drew a large number of that organization. After a short business and devotional period, Mrs. Foster Butner gave an interesting sketch of the life and work of Frances E. Willard.

Valentine Masque Ball at Glide Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. G. DeBernardi, of Glide, were hosts to their friends Saturday evening at a Valentine Masque Ball. Red and white, the Valentine colors, were mingled in decorating the rooms where the guests danced until midnight to music provided by the Gliders orchestra. A large box suspended from the ceiling, filled with comic Valentines, one for each guest. The prizes for the best costumes were won by Mrs. Fairfax Farrington of Ideyid, and Mr. George Rooke of Glide.

Pot Luck Supper at Presbyterian Church

A congregational pot-luck supper will draw many members of the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening. The supper is sponsored by the Ladies' Aid Society, each member of which is turning one dollar through the performance of some household task. The dollars will be turned to the supper and donated toward the purchase of new church seats, each member telling how she earned the sum. The entire congregation is invited to the supper.

Recital at Dixonville Hall Friday Evening

The Snick Parent-Teachers Association is sponsoring an interesting recital at the Dixonville Hall Friday evening, introducing Mrs. Mary Gervais and her children of Glide.

Louise Watson Hostess at Birthday Party

Little Louise Watson was hostess to a number of her playmates Wednesday afternoon, inviting them in to celebrate her fifth birthday anniversary. After the afternoon of juvenile games, a pink and white birthday cake and pink and white ice cream were served by Virginia French, Vera Pickens and Mrs. Harry Watson.

Annual St. Patrick's Ball Is Announced

The annual St. Patrick's Ball has been announced for March seventeenth, and plans for this yearly event are underway by the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Big A railroad organizations who sponsor the ball each year. The Grand Deville orchestra has been secured to play, and the usual well managed social event will result.

Thimble Club Is Entertained Friday

Mrs. Clyde Laughend and Mrs. Walter Kurtz joined in offering hospitality to the neighbors of Woodcraft Thimble Club at the home of Mrs. Laughend Friday afternoon. The ladies gathered around five hundred tables, and later luncheon was served.

Patriotic Art Theme of Womens Club Meeting

Patriotic art, pictures and artists, were discussed by the members of the Roseburg Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. F. A. Bemis on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Helen G. Snick read an interesting paper on patriotic art from the time of the Mayflower to the present. Illustrating with paintings from the Portland Library, Mrs. C. H. Rusch talked on art and pictures since the recent war. Musical numbers were given by Mrs. C. A. Brand, who sang a group of songs accompanied by Mrs. E. T. Melvin; piano solo by Mrs. Melvin, and a reading by Lois Cobb accompanied by Miss Lucile Sappington.

Mrs. Theodore Tremper Is Bridge Hostess

Mrs. Theodore Tremper entertained informally at bridge Thursday afternoon at the Kohlhagen Apartments inviting a number of smart matrons to enjoy an afternoon about the card table. Mrs. Baum held high score, and Mrs. Singleton was the high bidder. Luncheon was served at the small tables, and a number of early spring violets given each guest.

Mrs. Smith Hostess to Missionary Society

Mrs. Smith opened her home on Blakely street Thursday afternoon to the members of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church. The President, Mrs. A. C. Marsters, presided and introduced a number of new topics which were discussed and voted upon.

Roseburg Girl Completes Correspondence Course

University of Oregon, Miss Florence Cole of Roseburg, completed a correspondence course in nurse offered by the University of Oregon in Commercial English last term. Fifty-eight students in all made completions in the various courses offered through the Extension division.

Business Woman's Club to Sponsor Moroni Olsen

An unusually interesting meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club was held on Friday evening at the Heliene Conservatory, the club having as their guest Miss Janet Young of the Moroni Olsen Players who stayed over to meet with them at their request. The club voted to sponsor the Moroni Olsen Players in Roseburg in a series of three productions next winter, and signed a contract with Miss Young. The plays, which the Moroni Olsen Players will give their next season are tentative as yet, and to definite announcements can be made. There will be two comedies however, and one of a more serious nature.

W. R. C. and G. A. R. Enjoy Patriotic Program

A patriotic program entertained the members of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. on Friday afternoon following the regular chicken dinner at the club. The speakers of the afternoon were Rev. McCullagh, Rev. Mow, Rev. Knotts and Rev. O'Dell.

Umpqua Chiefs to Give Party Thursday

Another of the jolly informal parties for which the Umpqua Chiefs are famous, will occur on Thursday evening, when they will gather at the Knights of Pythias hall on Rose street, with the Umpqua Squaws as the guests of honor. The Legion Drum corps and wives, and the Douglas County Concert band and wives, as honorary members of the Chiefs are also invited. The Chiefs will wear marching suits, and with music, dancing and supper will make the evening a merry one.

Engagement of Roseburg Girl Is Announced

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Feb. 21.—The engagement of Mary N. Belt of Roseburg to Roland Dimmick was announced after an initiation dinner at the Delta Upsilon house Saturday evening. Miss Belt is a sophomore in agriculture and Mr. Dimmick a junior in mechanical engineering. Both students are very active in campus affairs. They expect to be married this summer.

Junior Class Will Give "The Hottentot"

The Junior class of the high school will produce the famous comedy, "The Hottentot," Thursday, February 26, at the Auditorium Theatre. "The Hottentot," written by Victor Mapes is a story that has been highly enjoyed by a large portion of the American public in the last few years. Filmed with the popular comedian, Douglas McLean, in the leading role of Sam Harrington, it has proved most popular as an uproarious, mirth-provoking comedy. In fact, other cinema comedies are continually being compared to "The Hottentot," as to their laughter-making qualities.

Mother Goose Pageant Is Announced

An interesting announcement this week is that of the annual school pageant to be given on May day at the high school by the grade school children under the direction of Miss Edna Hasseltine music supervisor. The pageant this year will be called "May Queen Entertained by Mother Goose and Family," and has been announced by those who have been the managers to be supervised by the pageant of last year, "The History of Oregon," written by Miss Hasseltine and Mr. Broders and given in Laurelwood park during the Strawberry Carnival.

Teakettle Club Call on Member Thursday

The members of the Teakettle Club called at one o'clock Thursday on Mrs. Hagen, who resides in West Roseburg, to compliment her birthday anniversary, bringing a delicious luncheon. Music and sewing entertained the ladies through the afternoon. In the group were Mrs. Helen G. Snick, Mrs. E. T. Melvin, and Mrs. M. C. Marsters.

Visiting D. A. R. Officer Guest at Luncheon

An attractive luncheon party at the Umpqua Hotel at one o'clock Friday, had Mrs. Seymour Jones, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, as the guest of honor. The table was dainty in yellow and white, centered with yellow daffodils, with daffodil favors and place cards. Covers were placed for Mrs. Jones, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. E. B. Stewart, Mrs. F. H. Churchill, Mrs. David Busenbark, Mrs. John Busenbark, Mrs. H. H. Grandstand, Mrs. Cam P. Caylor, Mrs. Moore, Miss Moore, Mrs. Helen Snick, Mrs. W. F. Thomas, Mrs. George Houek, Mrs. Lloyd L. Crocker, Mrs. Douglas Waite, Mrs. W. E. Boiser and Mrs. Caroline Willis.

Mother Goose Pageant Is Announced

An interesting announcement this week is that of the annual school pageant to be given on May day at the high school by the grade school children under the direction of Miss Edna Hasseltine music supervisor. The pageant this year will be called "May Queen Entertained by Mother Goose and Family," and has been announced by those who have been the managers to be supervised by the pageant of last year, "The History of Oregon," written by Miss Hasseltine and Mr. Broders and given in Laurelwood park during the Strawberry Carnival.

Homemakers' Corner

(Conducted by Miss Alice L. Webb, State College of Washington.)

POETS' CORNER

Signed Contributions for This Department May Be Sent to the Society Editor of The News-Review, and Will Be Used as Space is Available.

GEORGE WASHINGTON

Tradition tells of Washington
Who chopped the cherry tree
And judging by the incident
A truthful lad was he.

Then history tells us this brave lad
Was a surveyor bold
For Lord Fairfax he crossed beyond
The Blue Ridge Mountains old.

He also went to meet the French
Who settled Fort Duquesne—
An Indian tried to kill him then
With all his might and main.

In battle grim we see him next,
The leader in the fray.
At Delaware, at Valley Forge—
And he ne'er forgot to pray.

He then became our president
The highest round of all.
He lived, he loved, he served, he wept
For brothers, one and all.

We love to think of him as one
Who, had he lived today
Would be Kiwanis-Rotary
To cheer us on our way.

The noble, great and grand in life
Is what we love to see:
So stand and give, for Washington
Cheers one and two and three.

THE PIONEERS
When May her banner painted
After April rains,
A line of covered wagons
Started out across the plains.

They were hardy men and women
When that journey was begun
Who set their footsteps westward
Their faces toward the sun.

They left their homes behind them;
They left their friends in tears;
But they wrote a Nation's Empire
Upon the roll of years.

They found no road before them,
No guide, save the evening star,
With low swung head the oxen
Moved.

And the way lay on afar,
Days and nights on plain and
plain and desert,
Hours and hours on mountain trail.

Thru the blazing heat of Summer,
And Autumn's rain and hail,
What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.

Comes noon, and the dust is
waving;
corated with little flags.

What was a hundred hours;
What mattered a hundred days,
For time counts not the flowers
That fade in the Summer haze,
Just dawn and the stir of cattle,
Just day, and the wagon train
Is astir with harness rattle
Across the endless plain.