A Hint for Beginners

The cross-word puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise of downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Job E. Hedges, nationally known lawyer, wit and political sage, who died yesterday at Atlantic City will be buried Thursday at Danville, N. Y., with funeral services here Wednesday. Some typical sayings of Mr. Hedges follow:

"It isn't difficult to fool other people, but it's quite an art to fool yourself and still be on good terms with yourself."

"If a man stood before a mirror one hour a day he'd laugh himself to death, go insane or become a decent citizen."

"Between 'thou shalt not steal' and 'honesty is the best policy,' lies the histry of unindicted men."

"An Irishman never gives a power of attorney. He's born with a degree of confidence in himself that's clear, comprehensive and all embracing."

"Most everybody is onto everybody else, only we don't tell each other about it."

"It is better to be smiled with than laughed at."

ATTEMPT IS MADE BLACKMAIL WOMAN

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—The second attempt within a week to blackmail Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes of Denver, Colo., in connection with the trial of her husband, W. E. D. Stokes, of New York, on charges of conspiracy to defame her was frustrated yesterday, according to W. C. Dannenberg, investigator for Mrs. Stokes.

Mr. Dannenberg said a woman who said she was Madame Lorraine Quartly of Philadelphia, remembered dressing Mrs. Stokes' hair under such circumstances such as to make her silence worth money. She disappeared said Dannenberg, when he mentioned the paschopathis hospital. Robert L. Corbitt, arrested after he had taken $200 in marked bills from Mrs. Stokes after he had demanded $1,600 he alleged was owed him for detective work for Mrs. Stokes done in 1911, spent yesterday at a police station posing for news photographers.

The prosecution has announced that Mrs. Stokes will appear as a witness against her husband circumventing the law against such appearance by being called as a witness against Robert Lee and Hattie Johnson, negroes, indicted with Mrs. Stokes.

SKELETONS OF PREHISTORIC ANIMALS FOUND IN BOLIVIA

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Skeletons of North American mastadons, Llamas as big as camels, saber-tooth tigers, mammoth bears, wolves and species of the northern horse family have been unearthed in central America among fossilized remains of the South American glyptodons and huge ground sloths, D. C. Davies, director of the Field Museum, announced here last night.

The discoveries were made by a Captain Marshall Field expedition led by Professor Elmer S. Riggs, and they led the fossil experts to visualize an intercontinental battle field of millions of years ago, where opposing migrations of mammoth animals from North and South Amerca fought and exterminated one another. The scene of the visualized prehistoric class near Tupica in the Bolivian province of Tarija.

The expeditions discovery is the climax of three year's work in Bolivia and Argentina.

Professor Riggs is now on his way to Chisago for a rest, during which he will arrange fossils he has sent to the museum.

BUY SAFETY WITH BRAINS NOT ARMS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 23.—Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford University and Dr. Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, received the degree of doctor of laws, at the University of Pennsylvania's exercises, commemorating Washington's birthday.

In address Dr. Wilbur suggested that Washington's career showed the necessity of intelligent thinking in trying to surmount obstacles in the way of human progress.

"Perhaps the greatest difficulty we have in using intelligence to control our individual or collective conduct," he added, "comes from the deeply ingrained mental reactions of taboo, fears, prejudices and superstitions. Astronomy is accompanied by its popular imitation, astrology.

"Medicine has its great shadow land of buncombe, deceit and plausible foolishness and chicanery. Grave yards still give moonlight visitors the shudders. Even the wife of university presidents have to be careful not to seat 13 at the table and Friday is a day of sinister import if used for the initiation of journeys or new enterprises."

Speaking of the application of intelligent thinking to the matter of war, he said:

"We can buy national safety with our brains, better than with our arms."

DR. OLSON'S BODY WILL BE EXHUMED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Exhumation of the body of the late Dr. Oscar Olson, brother of Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court who has prosecuted the investigation of the death of William McClintock, millianaire orphan will be ordered in connection with that case, says the Chicago Tribune today.

The action long contemplated became a certainty, says the newspaper, after the coroner's jury last Friday heard about alleged interest of William S. Shepherd in typhoid germs and of his inheritance of $1,000,000 when young McClintock, millionaire orphan will phold fever and other witnesses related the circumstances of Dr. Olson's death.

Judge Olson said that his brother had been a friend of the youth until his death three years ago, whn William was 18. Dr. Olson thought Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd were trying to lessen his influence with the youth, whom he intended to guide in making a will, said Judge Olson. Dr. Olson suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning, was visited by Shepherds, was alone for a time with Mr. Shepherd ate a pear proffered by him and died a few hours later, said the judge. A physician signed a certificate of death from heart disease.

SENATORS KEEP WALTER JOHNSON

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

COFFEYVILLE, Kans., Feb. 23.—Walter Johnson, dean of pitchers will celebrate his nineteenth anniversary as a professional in a Washington American uniform, he told the home folks here last night.

Johnson stopped here a few minutes on his way to Hot Springs, Ark., where he was due to join his team mates today.

"No, I have not signed a contract for this year but have exchanged telegrams with Clark Griffith and am ready to sign up when I meet him," he said to a representative of the journal. He did not name the amount he is to receive.

"You may say, however, that I will receive more money this year than I ever have received before," the pitcher said. He was of the opinion that his contract would be fixed up soon after the team reached training quarter at Tampa, Fla. a week or ten days hence.

If Johnson has worried about any business matters on the Pacific coast, all traces of it were eliminated in his recent bear hunt near Reno.

ROSEBURG GIRL DEBATES AT WALKER WITH BROKEN FINGER

School spirit and pluck are not confined altogether to the athletic side of school activities. Neither have the male students a corner upon those traits. It is the customary thing to see a gridiron warrior gamely trying to play his position in spite of a broken bone or serious injury, and sport fans are used to seeing young athletes pluckily enduring pain without a murmur while still striving valiantly to carry their team to victory. Such qualities are usually attributed to the young man, but it remained to Miss Edith Starrett of the Roseburg high school to prove that a girl in spite of injury and pain, still can go through with her part for the glory of her school.

Miss Starrett is a member of the Roseburg high school debating team, which on Friday defeated the team of Walker high school at that place. Miss Starrett was a passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Washington Hughes, and just south of Cottage Grove the party met with an accident in which all were more or less injured. Miss Starrett received a broken finger, and cuts and bruises, but in spite of the shock and pain went on into Walker, where she presented her argument with such force and energy that the Roseburg team came off victorious.

An athlete has the encouragement afforded by his teammates and the shrieking fans on the sidelines. He also has the instinctive stimulus of physical contact with opposition to support him in cases of injury, but debate has nothing to offer in the nature of excitement and a great deal of credit should go to this plucky girl for her endurance and school spirit.
