GOOD EVENING FOLKS—
 When we get out
 The ol' fambly album
 And look thru the Tintypes and giggle
 Over the funny-lookin'
 Clothes gran'ma
 And gran'pop uster wear
 We can't help
 Thinkin' what those
 Dear ol' souls
 Would do if they Could get a Glimpse of the Buggy trousers
 And shrunken skirts
 Of the present-day
 Sheiks and Shebas.

 saw the scrobat act was the main attraction.

 Senator B. L. Eddy, Rep. Watt Fisher and Rep. Harscher are back from Salem where they have been listenin' to orators from so common around the recent legulashure.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING CLUB
 When a man believes in his home town and backs his firm belief up with his cash then you have real evidence that he is a real booster and not just a dispenser of hot air. Roseburg is the proud father of many such boosters and we attribute the growth of Roseburg and Douglas county to just such men. We have here a man who possesses a firm faith in the future of our city. He is loyal to Roseburg to the nth degree. He has done much to build up our fair city and stands ready to do more.
 J. W. Perkins is that man. "J. W." has been under the weather for the past month but today is back with us, with a new sparkle in his eye, with a firmer grip in his handshake and an optimistic viewpoint concerning the affairs of our city. We have done much to build up our fair
 city and stands ready to do more.

GEN. MITCHELL DENIES HE DIS-OBEYED ORDERS

his consent, conditioned upon that of Major General Patrick, the army air service chief, which subsequently was given. But General Patrick in turn, declared he had consented only because General Mitchell told him that the president approved.

A copy of a letter from the president sent to the committee by General Mitchell gave assent to the publication only if approved by "your superior officers" when advised of statement of General Mitchell that such approval had been given by him. General Patrick said he never saw the articles before publication, nor was he shown the president's letter leaving the decision to war department officials.

"All I know about the incident," General Patrick said, "is that General Mitchell told me after he had been to the White House that he had been given permission by the president to publish the articles. I said, of course, if the president has given permission there can be no objection by this office."

"After that conversation with General Mitchell, I heard nothing more about the matter. The articles were published before I ever saw them."

General Patrick said General Mitchell had told him at the same time that the articles contained nothing but facts, and that controversial statements would be eliminated.

Secretary Weeks recalled that he had given orders long ago that General Mitchell should submit to the war department any articles he might write containing an expression of opinion.

Chief Figures in the News of the Day

 Below: CHARLES R. FORBES & GASTON D. MEANS

Gaston B. Means, long-time investigator in the Department of Justice, and often tried for various crimes, but never convicted, has finally been found guilty by a New York jury and sentenced to two years' imprisonment for attempted jury fixing. Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans' Bureau, has been found guilty in Chicago of conspiracy to defraud the Government. Here Braun, Socialist, has been re-elected as Premier of Prussia, receiving 321 votes to the 175 cast for his Nationalist opponent, Kries. Lillian Gish, noted motion picture star, and Charles H. Duell, Jr., often reported engaged, have finally broken off friendly relations, and Duell has entered suit in New York to restrain her from appearing in pictures for anyone but him.

HOUSEHOLD "DRUDGES"

The opinion is sometimes expressed by girls who have worked at domestic service, that the women would find more young people who are willing to do housework, if they were not treated so much as "household drudges," but were given work no more difficult than what they would have in a factory or office. It is doubtful, however, if the hard labor of the housemaid's position is what repels the girls from those jobs. Many of course, are getting education, and have fitted themselves for what they consider bigger tasks. Many who lack education seem to think that shop work gives them a better standing, even if the task that they perform calls for but little brains. Some of the girls who take business jobs may think, though they never admit it, that their contacts with the business world give them more chance to meet interesting men and make a good marriage. There is something in that. Many of the jobs of the industrial world are so simple, however, that a child could perform them, and they do not begin to call for the intelligence needed for such tasks as cooking and cleaning. It takes judgment and experience to do these things well, while many factory jobs consist of some little process done over and over again, calling for little ingenuity or resourcefulness. Social standards are a queer thing. The time will come when the girl who performs intelligently the tasks of a household will be given the honor which her competent service is fairly entitled to. However, if the women folks want to attract the girls into these jobs, they will have to see to it that they get a reasonable amount of independence. The girl who is kept busy dish-washing until eight o'clock while her friends are getting out to the movies, is quite likely to get restless.

A divided session of the legislature is being widely discussed throughout the state and the proposal is worthy of more than ordinary consideration. Forty straight days does not allow sufficient time for action on important measures. It would be sufficient, however, if our representatives did nothing else but consider measures introduced. But this is really a small part of most sessions of the legislature. The great array of "new business" carried on about the state capitol takes up more time than anything else. Legislators are handicapped to a great degree by the efforts of lobbyists who take up much valuable time that detracts from concrete and speedy action on many bills presented. A divided session would quite likely act for saner and better legislation along all lines. It would give time for solemn consideration of all bills introduced and the marshalling of public opinion as to their real worth to the state at large. Twenty days to receive bills, then a vacation period to consider the measures, whereupon the legislature would again convene for another twenty days to put the business of the session through with a bang and greater degree of intelligence. To the casual observer it appears that a divided session is worth trying out.

The postal bill providing an increase in the salaries of postal employees has been signed by President Coolidge. The men employed by Uncle Sam have had a trying time to make the government see the need of greater compensation for their services. They have been holding fast to their jobs, year in and year out, with the cost of living constantly on the increase, giving a service that no other organization of men would carry out without an earlier adjustment having been provided. The increase is not large, but it will help many a worthy man to add a little to his world assets.

The fellow who smokes cigarettes will pay a ten per cent tax for the privilege. The fellow who chews tobacco and spits out the juice—all over the sidewalks—is given authority so to do without any penalty. Such is life in Oregon. If a tax is good for one particular specie of tobacco why is it not perfectly fair that all kinds share alike? Tobacco in any form is not a virtue—certainly chewing the weed is not the cleanest way in the world of disposing of a habit.

This is fine weather for the farmer to get in his work on Mother Earth.

Few more days like yesterday and spring will be over the top.

NEW LEGION ADJUTANT.
 DES MOINES, March 2.—James F. Barton of Des Moines announced today his acceptance of the position of national adjutant of the American Legion. The position was recently offered to him by Barton by National Commander James A. Drain as a successor to J. H. G. Creighton of Indiana, who it is understood here, desires to relinquish the post so he can devote all of his time to the legion's child welfare endorsement drive.

Mr. Barton, a former Post Dodge, Iowa, resident, has been adjutant for the legion in Iowa for some time. Prior to the war he practiced as an attorney. He is expected to go to Indianapolis to assume his new duties about April 1.

VETOES ANOTHER BILL.
 (Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 SALEM, Ore., Mar. 2.—Governor Pierce today vetoed senate bill 54, which attempted to amend an existing statute and provided that approval of four fifths of the members of the child welfare commission be required before the commission could take any action.

"I think it unfair to require four to name an official to determine the principle or the policy by that commission," said veto message.

The bill was introduced by Senator Corbett.

SENTENCED TO LIFE
 (Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 2.—John H. Mooney, convicted last week of second degree murder of his former wife, Mrs. Martha K. French, was sentenced to life in the penitentiary today by Circuit Judge Tucker. Money wounded himself after Mrs. French was shot to death, November 18, and he was for some time close to death.

TODAY'S TINTYPE

We herewith present a battered and worn tintype resurrected from the morgue showin' an Espee engine enterin' the local yards in the year 1905 B. V. (Before Volstead.) The fireman can be seen shoveilin' coal, while the engineer is chinin' hisself on the bell-cord. One.

Gun John Enger can be seen hidin' behind the telephone post in the background at the foot of Mt. Nebo. This is said to be the only Espee train ever to arrive in the village on time and although the train was in motion, a time exposure was taken to obtain the best results. Tear this out and paste it in yer time-table.

EASTERN QUAKES ARE BEING TRACED
 (Associated Press Leased Wire.)
 WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Having virtually decided that Saturday night's earthquake originated in a sub-strata rock movement in the extreme north-eastern part of the United States or in eastern Canada scientists are endeavoring to chart the epic central point more exactly.

Some held that the tremors which shook a large area of the continent were caused by a slip of rock in a great fracture known as the fundan fault, which lies deep in the Atlantic's bed off the Maine coast.

Others placed the quake near the mouth of the Saguenay river, in the Province of Quebec.

RAILROADS DO NOT NEED MAKE APPEAL
 (Associated Press Leased Wire.)

How to Solve Puzzle.
 The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical words in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.
