ROSEBURG, OREGON, TUESDAY, MARCH 3, 1925.

HOBBIES FOR EVERYONE

Some questioner a few Sundays ago, asked Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, through his famous service at Brooklyn, New York, which is broadcast by radio, if "every business man should have a hobby." Dr. Cadman responded "Yes," very emphatically, incidentally admitting that his hobby was his grandchildren. The word "hobby" used to be thought to mean usually some notion which people emphasized in a disagreeable way. It has come to refer now to some diversion or incidental occupation by which people obtain relief from daily work.

Well, we've just received our 1924 tax statements, and, on close examination we fail to note that promised fifty-fifty reduction that the governor proclaimed a couple of years ago. But, we are not disappointed. We knew the inevitable couldn't happen.

Governor Pierce has signed the bill granting an increase from $5250 to $7500 to justices of the supreme court. Lucky boys—in these trying times of alleged reduction in taxes.

LAND TITLE SUIT IN COURT TODAY

A suit involving the title to a small tract of land in the southern part of the city, was heard in the district court today. The suit was brought by the Douglas Ice and Storage company against Dora Singleton. The ice company claims that the old Roseburg Brewing and Ice company, of which the present company is the successor, purchased a tract of land lying "just south of the old brewery and adjoining the railroad track."

MR. COBB REMAINS MANAGER OIL CO.

In yesterday's issue the story concerning development work at the Leeper Dome oil well was in error in stating that A. F. Stearns of Oakland, "will continue as general manager of the corporation." A linotype operator left out a line of the manuscript, which, if it had been set, would have continued Mr. Stearns as president of the corporation and Mr. W. L. Cobb as general manager. The latter gentleman is still at the helm as general manager, and under his insistent push and vim the well is being rapidly sunk to where all is believed to exist in commercial quantities.

FLOWERS FOR THE LIVING CLUB.

Book-worms are not dangerous borers as some folks would have us think. On the contrary, we've found the individual who absorbs a book a day, a rather interesting person to converse with. In fact, they can usually let you in on a little knowledge they have gleaned between the covers of books while we have been goin' our way on the mad chase of the elusive dollar. It is worth your while to chat with Alden Harness. Alden and his library are landmarks in this city. If there is one book in his collection that he has not read then that book is one written in some foreign tongue with which he is not familiar. We have found him a most congenial sort of a fellow. He is a poet and poets sometimes are peculiar geniuses. But Alden's poetry is human and understandable. He writes as he talks and in his verse we find inspiration. We are glad to place him in our Hall of Fame for we feel that he is justly entitled to a place there. Alden looks on the bright and sunny side of life and anyone who does that is bound to radiate good cheer. Alden we hope your books are well circulated in the city and that you will ever maintain that high standard of intelligence for which you are now famous.

TODAY'S TINTYPE

Everything comes to she who waits and today's tintype is a waitress in action. The snapshot was taken while the damsel was busily engaged in slinging 'n' hash in a local beamery and explainin' the butter shortage. The disgruntled look on her face is caused by the big jokes flung at her by the ever-present drummer. The tintype was taken durin' the days when the Cass bell-ringers used triangles.

GLAD TO BE BACK

After being in the east for a few weeks, Oregon and Roseburg looks mighty good to us. We were able to buy at the Merchandise Fair a number of specials which will arrive from time to time. A big express shipment of newest spring stamped goods is now in and on display. We purchased worked samples so our customers could see how beautiful these pieces are. Come in and see them. We also did a considerable portion of our toy and gift goods buying for fall and can promise Roseburg a bigger and better display than ever for this coming holiday season. Carr's

MEET THE VISITOR WITH A SMILE

It is estimated by the Portland Chamber of Commerce that there will be more tourists and home seekers pass through our state this year than ever before. While many are tourists, if we judge by the inquiry that is being received by the Chamber of Commerce in regard to homes, it leads us to believe that many home seekers will be stopping in our town. Now, what is Roseburg going to do to interest these people? Are we going to go along about our darty tasks paying no attention to the stranger, or are we going to wake up to our own interest and let them know of the many opportunities we have here for the homeseeker and make them feel at home.

SWINDLE SCHEME ENDS AS SPANISH PRISONER JAILED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—General Ramon De Santa Clara, sometimes Rafael De Santa and again just R. De S., generally known as the "Spanish prisoner," at last has been jailed. His arrest ended a fifty year police hunt and is said to have given the swindle story he told its first element of truth.

A report to the state department said the "general" had been apprehended in Madrid and was for the first time in his career actually a prisoner. The records in the case as reported, from time to time, show that he victimized many Americans by his swindled scheme despite publicity during the years he operated.

The "Spanish prisoner" posed as a bankrupt, imprisoned on that charge and possessing a fortune of $300,000 in American money concealed somewhere in a portmanteau with a secret pocket. From persons who offered to assist him in the recovery of his fortune on promise of a reward of $120,000, with a cash advance from the victim always stipulated, he is alleged to have reaped a fortune for himself.

WILLIAM A. CLARKE FORMER SENATOR OF MONTANA, SUCCUMBS

NEW YORK, Mar. 3.—William A. Clark, 86, former senator from Montana and pioneer of the copper mining industry died in his Fifth Avenue home last night of pneumonia following a cold contracted a few days ago.

Mr. Clark, who was vice-president of the United Verde Copper company maintained a residence in Butte, Montana, his home city, in addition to the one here. An idea of his wealth is given by the fact that as far back as 1889 he refused $50,000,000 for one of his copper mines. This rise to wealth was during a career which included the occupations of a farmer, school teacher, banker and art collector.

Mr. Clark's widow was Anna La Chapelle, a Canadian physician's daughter who became his ward on the death of her father and who was married to Mr. Clark in March 1907. Mr. Clark was first married to Kate L. Stauffer of Connelville, Pa., in 1869. She died in 1923.

Mr. Clark's residence was one of the most pretentious structures in New York and at its completion in 1912 it was said to have cost $5,000,000. In it Mr. Clark housed a great collection of art which had become a hobby with him.

Mr. Clark had an aversion to traveling about New York in automobiles, contending that it was too dangerous. He used instead the subway.

HUMAN INTELLIGENCE HIGHEST AT SIXTEEN

LONDON, Mar. 3.—Human intelligence appears to reach the maximum at the age of 16 years, according to deductions set forth in a book by Godfrey T. Thompson, professor at Armstrong college for the New Castle-on-Tyne.

These deductions it is explained were made after careful research of a mass of statistics on the subject and indicate that a person may add to his book learning and his knowledge of the world as the years go along, but that he will never have a sharper brain with which to tackle problems than when somewhere about the age of 16.
