NEWLY LOCATED TOMB MAY YIELD VALUABLE DATA

Sarcophagus Believed That of Seneferu, Founder of 4th Dynasty, Egypt.

SPAN IS 5900 YEARS

Scientists Not Yet Certain Whether Discovery Is That of Ruler or Underling.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
LONDON, Mar. 10.—Egyptologists here agree that the tomb found by the Boston-Harvard expedition deep down in the rocks near the great pyramid at Giza proves to be that of the Pharaoh which preceded the renowned pyramid builder Cheops, its importance is far greater than that of Tut-Ankh-Amen because it is some thousand years older and the contents may throw light upon that remote period about which very little is known.

The Pharaoh Seneferu, whose name is variously spelled by English Egyptologists, was the first builder of the fourth dynasty (about 4,000 B. C.), while Tut-Ankh-Amen reigned as late as the 18th dynasty, the history of which is fairly familiar. Moreover, Tut-Ankh-Amen was a relatively unimportant king, while Seneferu was regarded as one of the founders of the Egyptian empire, and a man of great enterprise and energy.

Sir Wallis Budge, who lately retired from the post of keeper of Egyptian antiquities in the British museum, told the Daily Express that, if the tomb proved to be that of Seneferu and had not been plundered, it was almost certain to yield objects of priceless value.

The Cairo dispatch yesterday, telling of the discovery, said the sarcophagus had been unearthed intact, with much funeral furniture inside. Near the sarcophagus, which was a large one of marble with gold decorated columns and resting upon what seemed to be a palm was the seal of Seneferu.

Mummy May Be That of Menial
CAIRO, Egypt, Mar. 10.—Although it is generally hoped that the newly discovered tomb at Giza unearthed by the Boston-Harvard expedition contains the mummy of the Pharaoh Seneferu and records of his reign, there is considerable doubt as to this among the Egyptologists here. Several consider it unlikely that a king who built himself two pyramids—at Medum and Dahsuir—should finally have been so modest as to order his own interment 50 feet below the surface, thus obliterating the personality of the powerful and prosperous ruler.

They therefore express the opinion that it is unwise to raise great hopes at present lest the public be disappointed if the exploration reveals only the mummy of a member of the king's family or even perhaps some retainer, such as a serving man or barber.

Austria's Negligence Reproved by League—If Germany Becomes Member Troops Will Quit Cologne

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
GENEVA, Mar. 10.—Austria came in for another chiding today by the council of the League of Nations. Her failure to carry out various features of the League's final reconstruction plan was reproved.

The financial committee reported that the Austrian budget for 1925 and various bills necessary to effect several fiscal reforms had not been adopted by the parliament.

Furthermore the general administrative improvements recommended had not been brought about while the central bank of issue had not centralized its receipts and expenditures.

Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, presiding, diplomatically warned Austria of the urgent necessity of fulfilling all the League's requirements.

Former Premier Briand, who is representing France at the meeting, will stand for application of the security protocol adopted by the league assembly last September. It was said today in official circles.

He will declare that security is a matter affecting all countries and that all must participate, in the measures necessary to assure it.

The report of the allied military control commission on its findings in Germany, would, if published, expose German pacifists to prosecution by the government by the Reich. It is thought in allied circles, and the opinion was expressed today that it would be kept secret.

All the important discoveries outlined in the report, it was said, were made in consequence of denunciations by pacifist workers or employees of German industries.

The British viewpoint as expressed by Austen Chamberlain to Premier Herriot of France, is that nothing more could ever be done in the way of ferreting out illicit manufacture of arms in Germany if the present report were published.

The whole matter of the Cologne evacuation is now expected in diplomatic circles will await the decision of Germany whether she wants to go into the League of Nations.

CONGRESSMAN LIKE ANSELMER REPESES INCREASED SALARY.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Representative Tucker, democrat, Virginia, has refused to accept the $2500 increase in his congressional salary on the ground that members of the last congress who were re-elected were chosen to positions carrying only $7500 a year.

Mr. Tucker's grandfather, Henry St. George Tucker, a representative in the fourteenth congress, refused an increase for the same reason and the money has remained to his credit in the treasury for 108 years.

OREGON HOGS AND BY PRODUCTS NEAR WAR TIME PRICES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 10.—Eighteen cents is being paid freely along the street this morning for choice-light, country killed hogs. Receipts were small and the demand brisk. Local commission houses look for a 20 cent price on good country dressed hogs before the end of the week.

Strength at the yards where live hogs are selling at $14.50 together with the high price of feed and light production, make a bullish combination that may force prices up to the war time peak.

All lines of pork products are participating in the advance. Ham, bacon and lard are steadily working higher.

Other meats are aided by the advance in hogs and both veal and beef prices are higher.

OREGON RESISTS ROYALTY CLAIM OF PAVING FIRM

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Mar. 10.—After a conference with Attorney General Van Winkle at noon today the state highway commission announced that it would deny all liability to the Warren Brothers company for royalty on bitulidic pavement laid in Oregon and would fight to the last ditch every suit filed by that company to collect royalty. All bitulidic laid in the state up to May 5, 1920, when the company's alleged patent expired, is involved in the suit, aggregating about 1,000,000 yards.

MAYOR OR CITY MANAGER IS ISSUE IN SEATTLE.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—Seattle was voting today on whether to supplant its mayor with a city manager. A campaign on a charter amendment to effect this change ended yesterday in a climax of heated argument.

Centering around retention of a city council, which would choose the city manager, whereas citizens at the polls select the mayor, the question divided most elements of the city's life on entirely new lines.

RABBI ANNOYS PRESIDENT; PUT UNDER ARREST

Endless Letter Chain Leads Secret Service Men to Take Action.

ECHO OF CAMPAIGN

Rabbi Demands $12,500 as Reimbursement of Fund Spent in Election of Coolidge.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—Rabbi E. B. M. Browne, head of the American Jewish seventy elders and pastor of temple Zion in the Bronx was arrested today on a warrant which the complainants, Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge and Frank Stearns, charged him with annoying the president. The rabbi is 70 years old.

It is charged that the rabbi inflicted upon the complainants an avalanche of letters demanding that he be reimbursed for half of $25,000, he asserts the American Jewish seventy elders spent in campaigning for President Coolidge last fall.

Rabbi Browne was arrested by secret service agents and arraigned in Yorkville court.

When the rabbi produced apparently authentic letters from former Presidents McKinley, Harrison, Roosevelt and Harding he was paroled in his own custody without bail for examination next Monday.

The secret service testified that the Coolidges and Mr. Stearns had received a great number of letters from Rabbi Browne demanding that they pay him $12,500 and that they had replied to many of these letters.

Rabbi Browne claimed he was the only surviving pall-bearer at the funeral of President Grant and that he had once employed the late President Harding as a private secretary. In 1888, he said, Mr. Harding had just taken over the Marion Star and the rabbi, who was supporting Benjamin Harrison, brought the Ohioan to New York as his secretary during the campaign. He exhibited a letter signed with President Harding's name, congratulating him upon his birthday and recalling "old times."

Rabbi Browne said that at the request of Tammany Hall he had held convention of the Seventy Elders at Atlanta last year where Governor Smith was named as a charter democratic presidential choice. When Smith failed of nomination at the national convention, Rabbi Browne switched to President Coolidge and spent the $25,000 campaigning for him, the rabbi said. He added that he thought the president should "go halves" with the elders.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

The case of Rabbi E. B. M. Browne of New York, charged with annoying President Coolidge, has been handled here by the secret service, which is charged with the personal care of the executive.

Efforts were made to settle the case without court action, but it was said that the rabbi would not agree to desist from sending letters to the White House.

White House officials expressed surprise that President and Mrs. Coolidge were named as complainants, explaining that the scores of letters which have been received from the rabbi, have been referred entirely to under secretaries at the executive office.

It was believed, however, that since they were addressed to the complainant's names that this resulted in mention of the President.

Letters from Rabbi Browne have been coming to the White House for many years, officials said. Those in regard to the campaign fund began to come last July. Many were addressed to Frank W. Stearns, close friend of the president.

Everett Sanders, secretary to the president declared none of the complainants knew anything of the prosecution or had initiated the action.

WHERE SHORT SKIRTBORE CAUSING LONGER FACES

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MANCHESTER, Eng., Mar. 10.—Reports from Paris, the Riviera, London and other centers of fashion, that skirts this year are to be still shorter, have caused gloom to pass over workers in the textile trades. The shorter the skirts, the less work there is in the textile districts where there is already much unemployment.

MRS. STOKES GIVEN RIGHT TO TESTIFY; LEE MAKES DENIAL

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 10.—Judge W. N. Gemmill, presiding at the trial of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire apartment hotel owner of New York and Robert F. Lee, Chicago negro, for conspiring to defame Mrs. Helen Ellwood Stokes, has ruled that Mrs. Stokes can take the witness stand.

Mrs. Stokes has stated that it was not her wish to testify against her husband but rather to testify in defense of her good name assailed yesterday when John T. Burke, Chicago sleeping car conductor, testified that she was accompanied from Denver to Chicago by Hal Billings, her cousin, who for a part of the trip rode from his upper berth to the lower occupied by Mrs. Stokes.

The time of Mrs. Stokes' possible appearance on the witness stand was not definitely fixed.

Lee, the negro defendant, testified today that he was detained two weeks by the states' attorneys before he was indicted with Mrs. Stokes. He entered a general denial of all allegations made in the indictment and testimony of previous witnesses.

"Now, Bob, did you ever conspire with anybody to defame Mrs. Stokes?" and "Did you ever conspire with anybody to get false affidavits against Mrs. Stokes?" were the last questions asked him. "Now, sir," was the reply in each instance.

TESTIMONY SHOWS FALLS CONDUCT IN OIL LEASE AFFAIR

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Mar. 10.—Trial of the government suit for annulment of the Mammoth Oil company lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserves today involved the reading of a series of depositions made by witnesses for the government who are not present at the trial. The depositions, including that of Colonel J. W. Severy, attorney for Harry F. Sinclair, were taken by stipulation between counsel.

Only one witness, L. E. Eddy, formerly in charge of leasing oil lands for the government, gave verbal testimony during the morning session. This examination relating to information possessed by the interior department concerning placer claims within the Teapot Dome reserve prior to negotiations of the Mammoth lease was brief.

The deposition of Arthur W. Ambrose of Bartlesville, Okla., formerly employed by the bureau of geology as chief petroleum technologist, told of a visit by Harry F. Sinclair to the office of A. B. Fall, secretary of the interior in February 1922, and of Fall thereafter calling in Ambrose and L. E. Eddy, in charge of the leasing of government oil lands, and of showing them a memorandum by Sinclair to a proposal by the latter to lease the Teapot Dome reserve.

Ambrose testified that he prepared Fall's request for annulment of the oil contract of the Teapot Dome and an opinion on the possibility of drainage of the reserve through wells in the adjacent Salt Creek field. Fall, he said, wrote the preamble of the lease to the Mammoth and from time to time personally made numerous changes in the phraseology of a tentative draft of the lease.

Ambrose's deposition said that in February 1922, it was estimated that the Teapot Dome reserve might contain 125,000,000 barrels of oil and the adjacent Salt Creek field possibly as much as 500,000,000 barrels.

Counsel for government read into the record the application for a lease on the Teapot Dome property made by the Mammoth Oil company, March 19, 1922, and a letter by Sinclair to the interior department stating that if the lease were granted the Mammoth he would become the owner of all the capital stock of that corporation.

H. G. WILSON CASE AGAIN POSTPONED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 10.—Horace Greely Wilson, 52, of Roseburg, former Klamath Indian agent, will not be tried on a charge of violation of the Mann Act until May 12.

The case was set for trial March 27, but Robert M. Gilre, Wilson's attorney, today stated his client had been hurt in an auto accident and had also suffered from the flu since last January, so he had been unable to secure witnesses.

Assistant United States Attorney Stearns objected to an extension of time.

"Wilson was indicted last October, and his case has once been postponed," declared Stearns. "The government is to bring witnesses from Virginia, Washington, D. C., New York, Minnesota, California, Washington and from the middle west, and some of these have already started for Portland."

KIWANIANS HAVE GOOD TIME TODAY

The members of the Roseburg Kiwanis club were delightfully entertained at the regularly weekly luncheon at noon today. Miss Elomay Wilson gave a very pleasing whistling selection, after which Napoleon Rice explained some of the interesting features of the real estate business. Dr. E. B. Stewart, commander of Umpqua Post of the American Legion, gave an interesting talk on some of the work which the legion is doing in welfare activities. A number of interesting stunts were presented, one of them testing the artistic ability of the members being especially ludicrous.

AUTO CAMP IS IN FINE SHAPE FOR COMING SEASON

Average of 10 Cars Nightly Stopping at Local Camp Grounds.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE

Store Buildings Added, East Side Leveled and New Heating Plant Installed to Meet Demands.

In spite of the fact that conditions for traveling and camping are not good at this time of the year, there is an average of ten cars nightly at the city camp grounds, according to A. J. Young, the manager. These people, Mr. Young states, are not tourists, in the ordinary sense of the word, but are people making long trips for business reasons rather than pleasure. Many of them are returning home after wintering in California, and are striving to get back to their farms in time to get crops in. Others are persons who are moving their homes from one locality to another. Few belong to the vast army of sight-seers who become so numerous with the advent of good weather.

In anticipation of the coming rush of tourists, Mr. Young has been making a number of improvements at the local camp.

One of the chief additions was the construction of a new building housing three business establishments. A barber shop occupies one room, a restaurant and a real estate office occupies a third. The building adjoins the camp ground grocery and confectionary, conducted by Maddox and Weatherill.

Mr. Young has also made improvements to the cabins, of which there are now 26. These are in great demand, as tourists would rather pay a small fee to obtain a cabin with a good bed than to erect a camp.

The east side is being leveled, making room for more camps, so that it is now possible to accommodate 75 parties outside of the 26 cabins.

The sanitary conditions have also been greatly improved. The use of septic tanks has been discontinued, and a sewer has been dug to connect with the line on 2nd avenue.

A complete new heating plant has been installed in the community building, giving ample hot water for shower baths and for the laundry.

A huge flashing electric sign is expected to arrive within a few more days, and will be hung across Jackson street near the bridge. This sign will be very attractive and will be a decided improvement. The council has already granted permission for it to be hung over the street, and tall poles have been secured for this purpose.

Mr. Young anticipated that this will be the heaviest tourist year in the history of the state, and is making preparations to accommodate as many as the size of the grounds will permit. The Roseburg camp has always been noted for its cleanliness and for the courtesies extended during the season, and its fame is so heralded by word of mouth that during the summer it is usually crowded to capacity.

FIREMEN HAVE FEED

The annual banquet of the Roseburg fire department was held at the Grand hotel last night. A delicious meal was served at 7 o'clock, and the firemen had a most enjoyable evening.

OFFICERS TAKE PRISONERS.

Sheriff W. M. Hayes of Josephine County, and Chief of Police McLain, of Grants Pass, were in Roseburg for a short time today. They came after Edward Duncan, who was arrested charged with the theft of a leather coat.

BASKETEERS OF O. A. C. DEFEAT OREGON, 27-26

Game Hotly Contested, Lead Held by Each Team Four Different Times.

FIRST HALF WAS TIE

Westergren, Loser's Guard, Barely Misses Basket on Free Throw as Battle Ends.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 10.—When Westergren, University of Oregon guard, failed to convert a free throw after the gun sounded in the Oregon-O. A. C. basketball game last night, he gave to the Aggies the championship of the northern section of the Pacific Coast conference and the right to meet California to decide the coast title. Westergren's snappy playing had been a feature of the whole game but with the score standing 27 to 26 in favor of O. A. C. and playing time completely gone the ball struck the rim of the basket, heated and fell away.

Each team took a slight lead four different times, the longest leading being five points, held by Oregon late in the second period. The count was tied four different times. The first half ended 13 to 13.

Over 1900 people packed the Willamette University gymnasium where the game was played, with nearly as many left outside listening to the plays as they were announced to them. At 6 o'clock last night tickets were selling on the streets of Salem for $5 apiece.

The line-up follows:

O. A. C.	Position	Oregon
Baker	f	Gowans
Brown	c	Hobson
Stoddard	g	Okerberg
Steel	g	Westergren
Divecky	g	Jost

She is an English subject, brought here by her son under circumstances that violated the immigration laws, it was alleged.

She came to this country seven years ago from England to undergo medical treatment and has been held inadmissible as an alien, under the requirements of the immigration law.

Pierce, who passed away early Sunday. The space about the altar was heaped high with flowers that came from hundreds of persons and organizations and a little later in the afternoon the grave in the City View cemetery was left a veritable floral mound.

All members of the Pierce family who were able to reach Salem were present, the governor and his children fortified against the ordeal of parting by means of a condolence that came from all parts of the nation.

Great "Enemy" Fleet Off Mexico Prepares to "Invade" California in Spectacular Mimic Hostilities

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
ABOARD U. S. S. SEATTLE, AT SEA OFF THE WEST COAST OF MEXICO, Mar. 10.—It is the night before battle and there is a deep thrill in the hearts of the twenty-five thousand officers and men aboard one hundred and nine American men-of-war off the coast of lower California. The dark hours before dawn of what promised to be the first day of contact and action with the "enemy's" greatest naval maneuvers ever held in the Pacific held staffs of officers—bending over charts; radio watches glued to receivers in the radio rooms on each ship, intently covering many wave bands; navigators and observers steadily peering into the darkness of the night; all hands alert.

The great black fleet is on a slightly offensive and is traveling in a screening convoy formation with its fifty-seven craft, concentrating on the task of tightening

SENATE RENEWS WRANGLE OVER WARREN'S NAME

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—The senate late this afternoon rejected the nomination of Charles B. Warren of Michigan to be attorney general.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—The dispute over Charles B. Warren's nomination to be attorney-general was resumed today in the senate.

Chairman Cummins of the judiciary committee defended the nominee against the charges that have been brought against him while the burden of the opposition was taken over by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri.

Opening the debate, Senator Cummins declared the whole argument of those who oppose confirmation rested on a supposition that Mr. Warren would not faithfully execute the laws. Just because he had been faithful to one client in private life, the senator said, his enemies appeared to believe he would not be faithful to another.

"If he is an honest man," he continued, "he will execute the laws of the United States just as faithfully and just as diligently as is in his power."

Senator Cummins said the president should have "a free choice" in the selection of members of his official family, "and should be held responsible for the faithful execution of the law."

Reviewing Mr. Warren's connection with the sugar interests, the Iowa senator declared the nominee's "sole interest in the sugar interests was to place the Michigan Sugar company on its feet so it could produce sugar."

"In my opinion," he continued, "a combination of a large amount of the stock of beet sugar corporations in Michigan; that in 1906 he participated in the organization of the Michigan Sugar corporation of which he became counsel and afterwards president; and that the American Sugar refining company, together with the Michigan Sugar company and certain other individual defendants, of whom Mr. Warren was one, were prosecuted later by the government for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law."

"In 1902," Senator Cummins said, "there were at least seven beet sugar factories in the state of Michigan, owned by as many separate corporations. Most of them, probably all of them save one, were losing money in their operation."
