JAPANESE SHIP WITHOUT RUDDER (Associated Press Special Wire.) SEATTLE, Wash., Mar. 11.—A wireless message from Talooch Island reports an unidentified ship in distress, drifting toward Cat Fish Island. Communication with the ship could not be established and it was believed her wireless mast had been blown away.

Another message from Tatoosh Island, which is in the Pacific ocean at the south side of the entrance of the Strait of Juan De Fuca, said that the name of the vessel had been deciphered as Hokuyo Maru, and that the vessel was a mile west of Tatoosh Island.

Code flag flown by the Hokuyo read: "My rudder is broken. I can't steer. Vessel zigzagging under own power."

The Canadian fisheries patrol steamer Thelval, from Bamfield, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, and the American Coast Guard cutter Snomish, from Port Angeles on the south side of the strait were reported hurrying to succor the Hokuyo.

The Hokuyo under charter to J. W. Allen, Inc., Seattle, is bound from Mito, Japan, to Vancouver, B. C., and Grays Harbor, Wash., to load a full cargo of lumber for Japan. Allen said he had a message indicating that the Hokuyo would have to be towed to Vancouver.

Do you know why the "life" of even a good mattress is so short?

A mattress may contain the very best materials but due to the basic construction within a year or so it begins to lose its resiliency, to sag and stretch.

The Edlow-Spring is the first great improvement in mattress manufacture for many, many years. It's a flexible, piano-wire spring. To test its long life and continued resiliency one was collapsed 800,000 times.

Edlow-Spring construction is built between many layers of snow-white, felted, staple cotton and interlaced, curled hair.

Guaranteed not to sag, stretch or lose its resiliency for 20 years. Costs less than 1 cent a night.

Come in when next you are down town. We will be glad to show the Edlow-Spring mattress to you.
