

WEATHER
Highest Yesterday 51
Lowest Last Night 39
Cloudy and unsettled tonight and Friday.

ROSEBURG NEWS-REVIEW

ALL THE NEWS
BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE SERVICE

Consolidation of The Evening News and The Roseburg Review.

DOUGLAS COUNTY

An Independent Newspaper, Published for the Best Interests of the People.

VOL. XXVII NO. 97 OF THE NEWS-REVIEW THURSDAY, MARCH 12, 1925. VOL. XII, NO. 308 OF THE EVENING NEWS

WARREN'S NAME RE-SUBMITTED TO THE SENATE

President Coolidge Throws Down Gauntlet and Asks Showdown.

DEMOCRATS IN ARMS

Republicans Will Make a Supreme Effort to Put Over Nomination of Detroit Man.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—President Coolidge threw down the gauntlet to his opponents in the senate today by again submitting the nomination of Charles B. Warren to be Attorney-General. Without a word of comment the president sent the nomination back just in time to have it waiting on the senate docket when the day's session began at noon.

The decision of the chief executive astonished most of the senators including the ranking republican leader who had advised the White House that it returned the name of Mr. Warren would fare no better than it did when the senate rejected it on Tuesday by a tie vote.

Some old timers in the senate recall no precedent for the return of a cabinet nomination that already had failed to command a majority. Such a failure itself occurred since the days of Andrew Jackson and altogether there has been only previous occasions on which the senate withheld its approval of any man chosen by the president to sit in his official chair.

It was Senator Butler of Massachusetts, the president's closest ally, elevated by him to the chairmanship of the republican national committee and but recently appointed to the seat formerly held by Henry Cabot Lodge, who told Mr. Coolidge that the senate leaders had given up too easily. At a breakfast conference with the executive and Mr. Warren himself, Senator Butler insisted that the votes for confirmation could be obtained, and should be obtained.

Mr. Coolidge and the nominee listened attentively to this new presentation of the case, then the president turned to Mr. Warren and left it to him to decide whether they thought the issue should be fought out to a finish or considered closed. Mr. Warren decided in favor of a fight.

No sooner had news of the decision reached the capitol than the enemies of the Warren appointment began preparations to reopen a battle they thought they already had won. Senators Walsh of Montana and Reed of Missouri declared they would make a resistance every more stubborn than that which mustered 40 votes on Tuesday's roll call to offset and nullify the 40 commanded by the administration leaders.

For their part most of the republican organization leaders declined to comment. They said they would again go through the motions of referring the nomination to committee and then bring it to the senate floor. The outcome they said, could only be determined by the roll call itself.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The nomination of Charles Wheeler to be Attorney-General will be resubmitted to the senate today by President Coolidge.

After a conference with Mr. Warren who had been summoned from Detroit after his name failed of confirmation by a single vote, the president decided to fight out the issue and give republican senate leaders another opportunity to try for confirmation.

The Senator Butler of Massachusetts, a close personal friend of the president was present at the White House conference and said he believed the necessary votes for confirmation could be obtained.

Republican leaders previously had advised Mr. Coolidge that the situation appeared hopeless, but with Mr. Warren's arrival here there was a stiffening of republican lines and a careful canvass of the outlook during the long talk with the President, Senator Butler and the nominee resolved in a decision that confirmation would be possible by a narrow margin. Meantime, the opposition which includes almost the whole democratic membership of the senate and a group of republican insurgents, also set out to re-organize its strength in such a way as to again block senate approval. It was indicated that the president's decision might re-

(Continued on page 8.)

OREGON HIGH BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT STARTS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., Mar. 12.—The 1925 Oregon state high school basketball tournament will begin here tonight. Astoria, the first team to arrive, reported Tuesday night. Pendleton and Araso arrived yesterday. Medford arrived early this morning and Walla Walla, McMinnville, Eugene, Hood River and Franklin are all expected to arrive before evening. Ten teams, including Salem, are entered in the tournament.

Seats for the tourney have been selling rapidly, orders coming in from as far south as Medford and as far east as Pendleton. Most of the available tickets were sold by this morning. The Willamette gymnasium, where the meet is to be staged, officially has a capacity of 500 people, although only 1900 were packed into it at the time of the Oregon-O. A. C. game here Monday night.

The first game starts tonight at 7:30, the tilt being between Salem and Walla Walla. Franklin and Medford, rated as two of the strongest contenders in the meet, will play after the Salem-Walla Walla game. The other six teams, having drawn byes, enter the second round unchallenged. The second round begins tomorrow afternoon.

Officials for the entire tournament are to be Coleman and Schiller of the O. A. C. coaching staff.

CHAMBERLAIN IN SPEECH DISCUSSES GENEVA PROTOCOL

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
GENEVA, Mar. 12.—No political oration since the founding of the League of Nations has stirred opinion in League circles as the address delivered today by Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, utterly rejecting the Geneva peace protocol. He not only flayed the protocol, which he described as asking for war rather than peace but discarded the idea of compulsory arbitration.

Mr. Chamberlain affirmed, in effect, that the only way of obtaining security for nations was the conclusion of special defensive arrangements framed in the spirit of the covenant and operating under League guidance.

The comment most often heard after the speech was that it sets back the movement for international co-operation, and is liable to influence Europe to return to the old system of dangerous alliances.

GENEVA, Mar. 12.—Speaking in a chamber so closely packed that there was scarcely breathing space, Austen Chamberlain, British secretary for foreign affairs, delivered his long heralded discourse on the Geneva protocol for security and disarmament before the council of the League of Nations today.

One of the most important features of Mr. Chamberlain's address which outlined the British objections to the protocol, was added by him at the last minute. It was that telegraphic communication with the British dominions and India showed that Canada, Australia, New Zealand, the union of Africa and India were also unable to accept the protocol. He said that he was not yet in possession of the views of the Irish free state.

Mr. Chamberlain said that success in administration in Great Britain was the full approval of the self-governing dominions not only had in theory favored arbitration which was one of the features of the protocol, but had practiced it. They had not only preached disarmament, but had actually disarmed to the limit of national safety. They had taken a full share in creating and supporting the League of Nations and the permanent court of international justice. It therefore, continued Mr. Chamberlain, England saw insuperable objection to signing and ratifying the protocol in its present shape, this was not because she felt herself out of harmony with the purposes of the protocol was intended to serve.

"Amendment and interpretation may in themselves be desirable," he added, "but his majesty's government cannot believe that the protocol as it stands provides a suitable method of attempting that task."

PAULINA VISITS CAPITOL.
(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Paulina, month old daughter of Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, got a glimpse today of the White House, where her parents were married, and the home at the time of her grandfather, Theodore Roosevelt.

Mrs. Longworth called at the state department just across the street for her brother, Kermit Roosevelt. In the rear of the auto was a market basket which Mrs. Longworth said cost 65 cents and in the basket was little Paulina.

DR. SUN YAT SEN PRES. OF CHINA REPUBLIC DIES

Passes Away Early This Morning After Lingering Illness From Cancer.

"MAN OF DESTINY"

Was Identified With Almost Every Phase of Life in China—Dynasty Had Price on His Head.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
PEKING, Mar. 12.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen upon whose head the Manchukuo dynasty fixed a price of $200,000 when Dr. Sun was campaigning for the republic in China, died here this morning from cancer of the liver. He was 62 years old. Called "Chinas man of destiny" by many, Dr. Sun was identified with almost every phase of public life in his country. He was first president of the republic created in 1912, and in recent years he had maintained an administration styled the southern government of China at Canton.

In his declining years he opposed the central government at Peking. Dr. Sun was stricken when he arrived here late in January as a delegate to a conference having for its purpose the unification of China.

Dr. Sun's experience as a surgeon in his youth provided him with a sustaining philosophy during his last days.

His physicians said today that the extension of the life of their patient was due to his refusal to admit the seriousness of his condition since he underwent an operation on January 26. Dr. Sun believed until the last that he would recover.

At his deathbed, Dr. Sun was surrounded by members of his family and several leaders in the Kuomintang party, the Sun Yat-sen party who were attracted to Peking by the approaching death of their leader.

"I want to be embalmed like my friend Lenin, the Russian leader," said Dr. Sun just before he died. He asked also that he be buried at Nanking where he first served as president. The body was sent to the Rockefeller hospital for embalming.

Orders have been cabled to Moscow for a casket similar to that used for the burial of Lenin.

Dr. Sun was conscious until the last. He gave instructions to his wife about personal matters. He talked rationally to his political associates.

The body will lie in state at some public place to be selected today.

Dr. Sun died at the home of Dr. Wellington Koo, a former leader in the central government of China before the defeat by Chang Tso-Lin last year.

PEKING, Mar. 12.—The death of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, first president of the Chinese Republic will not affect the affairs of the Kuomintang party, comprising followers of Dr. Sun, leaders of the party said today.

After leaving the room in which they heard their dying leader plead for party solidarity in his last words, the Kuomintang leaders were reported to be preparing a circular telegram to the provinces announcing the death of Dr. Sun. The leaders denied a report that a serious split was impending in the Kuomintang party.

GRANDMOTHER TO SWIM THE CHANNEL

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WEYMOUTH, Eng., March 12.—Mrs. T. Craven, who is 50 years of age and a grandmother, is the latest person to sign her intention of swimming the English channel this summer. By profession Mrs. Craven is a nurse and her hobby is swimming. During the last two winters she has been bathing in Weymouth bay nearly every day, swimming to the pier-head and back, about 800 yards and defying every sort of weather.

SET WHEELER'S CASE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
GREAT FALLS, Montana, March 12.—The case of the United States against Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, charged in grand jury indictment with having accepted employment in a matter in which the United States held interest, after his election as United States Senator, was set down by Judge C. N. Pray this morning for trial in the United States court here April 16.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Advised today that the trial of his case in Montana has been set for April 16, Senator Wheeler said he was pleased that an early time had been chosen.

The Senators Montana colleague, Senator Walsh, will act as his chief counsel.

DAWES IS HAZED BY THE SENATE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—Vice-President Dawes got another dose of hazing in the senate today, and outwardly took it smiling. Still smarting under its attacks on its rules, and offended because he hadn't returned to the chamber on inauguration day, the vice-president's fatal absence on Tuesday when the Warren nomination was voted, was used to break the tie vote, was too good an opportunity to be missed.

Senator Norris of Nebraska read to the senate a poem—a parody on Sheridan's ride—but instead of Sheridan's riding to save the day at Winchester, a taxicab with the vice-president inside was breaking the speed limit to the capitol on the fabled dash to save the nomination of Mr. Warren to be Attorney-General. Half suppressed laughter among senators punctuated the riding, but through it the vice-president sat smiling and at the conclusion arose and returned the compliment to Senator Norris, saying:

"The chair cannot refrain from expressing his appreciation of the delicate tribute submitted by the senator from Nebraska."

Senator Neely of West Virginia joined in the hazing party by reading an editorial on "absentism."

One of Mr. Dawes' ancestors—Rufus Dawes—rode with Paul Revere and next month the vice-president is going to Massachusetts to join in the celebration of Revere's ride.

A GIRLS CONFERENCE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
BEND, Ore., March 12.—Dr. Kate W. Jamieson, dean of women at the Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, and Miss Georgia Benson, assistant dean of women at the University of Oregon, Eugene, arrived in Bend today to take part in a three day girls week conference at the Bend high school.

State of Oregon Contends Common- Wealth Has Supreme Control Over Education of Children in Borders

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 12.—"An alarming increase in the criminality of the young," was attributed today in a brief filed in the supreme court by the Episcopal church domestic and foreign missionary society to the "exclusion" of religious influences from the public schools of the nation.

The society appeared as a friend of the court in the suit brought to test the validity of the compulsory education laws of Oregon. Should they be sustained, the brief asserted, there was danger other states would adopt similar legislation.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—The states have supreme control over the education of children residing within their borders, the state of Oregon said today in a supplement to a brief filed in the United States supreme court in its action to sustain its compulsory public school law.

The brief said that the lower court should have dismissed the action filed against the law by the sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary and the Hill Military Academy.

The question of the wisdom of the Oregon school law is not before this court, the brief held. It asserted also that the opposition was "devoted to arguments which related to the wisdom of and not the constitutionality of the law."

Not a decision of the supreme court has been cited by the opposition to support its contention that the law is unconstitutional, the brief said.

The brief pays particular attention to the contention of private and parochial schools operating under charters that they have a property right which cannot be taken away. It said in this particular:

"The supreme court has laid down the doctrine, which it has

ACCUSED OF KILL- ING WOMAN TO GET INSURANCE MONEY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
KANSAS CITY, Mar. 12.—Charged in a dying statement by Mrs. Dora Gage, 52, of Atchison, Kans., with having given her poison so that he could collect insurance policies which she had assigned to him, Roy M. Turner, 25, was being held here today for investigation.

Mrs. Gage died at a hospital yesterday shortly after she had been found in her hotel room, writhing in pain, on the floor. Turner, an Atchison real estate dealer who came to Kansas City yesterday with Mrs. Gage, was in the room when hotel employees forced an entrance.

Before her death the woman asserted that Turner gave her a bottle which he told her contained corn whiskey. Mrs. Gage was immediately stricken.

DEMOCRATS WILL ASK EARLY VOTE

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Senate democrats meeting today to adopt a policy to be followed in the special session of that body, agreed to press for an early vote on the Isle of Pines treaty, and to insist on making the world court question a special order in the next congress.

Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, whose motion to discharge the foreign relations committee from further consideration of the world court caused the calling of the democratic conference said that if an agreement was reached to make the world court a special order at the next session, he would not press his motion.

It was agreed that the democrats should cooperate if the republican majority should decide to bring the court issue up at this session.

After the conference Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, issued the following statement:

"With respect to the world court it developed that the overwhelming sentiment of the conference was in favor of the world court and it was agreed that the minority should initiate nothing that would occasion delay in acting upon the world court but should the majority express a desire or intention to consider the matter at this special session the minority would agree to cooperate."

"In the event that the majority should take action to remove the world court, the minority will insist upon making it a special order for some early date in the next regular session."

The world court question also came before senate republicans in a party conference but it was decided to defer action until the result of the democratic meeting could be learned.

C. OF C. TEAMS START DRIVE TO RAISE FUNDS

Will Make Effort to Bring Financial Condition Up to Par.

EXPENSES ARE HEAVY

Members to Be Added and Outstanding Obligations to Be Collected Before Change.

In an effort to get the Chamber of Commerce affairs completely straightened up for the secretary who is to take the place of Will E. Holbein, four teams have been appointed to canvass the membership.

Secretary Holbein has resigned, and is leaving soon for the middle west, where he is to take up a similar line of work. No one has been selected to fill the vacancy, but it is expected that a new secretary will be chosen soon. Before his departure Mr. Holbein is endeavoring to get everything in shape for his successor. Copy has been prepared for the new publicity booklet, and the work in the office has been brought to completion as far as possible.

The financial affairs of the chamber must now be given attention. The change entails considerable expense. The fact that a booklet is being printed, together with several other unexpected expenses, has brought the treasury to a low ebb.

The income of the chamber is sufficient to meet the demands when all members pay their dues promptly, and all outstanding obligations are collected in.

It is the purpose of the officials to start off under the new secretary, whoever he may be, with a clean slate, and for this purpose the membership is being solicited.

The city has been divided into four districts, Jackson and Oak streets being the dividing lines. Under the direction of T. H. Neas, treasurer, four captains have been appointed, L. L. Crocker, A. J. Hochradel, L. L. Spencer and C. A. Lockwood. Each have accepted the duties placed upon them, and are already actively at work.

The amount necessary to place the organization on the proper level financially, has been computed, and members are being solicited to pay their dues. Dues are being collected up to date, and new firms are being solicited for memberships.

The drive is one which is expected to add several new members to the organization, as well as one which will collect in the outstanding dues, and bring the financial condition up to par.

During the past few months the Chamber of Commerce has been making wonderful forward strides. It has a record of real accomplishments which has given confidence in the ability of directorate to meet and cope with the problems arising in this important public effort.

The entire county has been organized, and a better feeling exists between communities than ever before so that great things are in prospect for the future.

Everyone feels optimistic for the future, and the Chamber of Commerce, realizing this condition, is endeavoring to establish itself in such a manner that it will be able to meet the demands which will be made upon it.

The members are expected to help by giving an audience to the committees now at work, hearing the plans suggested, and cooperating in a financial way as far as possible, so that there may be no hitch or delay in getting the affairs settled and everything in smooth operation.

WIDOW GETS AUTO.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
MEDFORD, Ore., Mar. 12.—The circuit court late Wednesday signed an order returning to Mrs. Arthur Page of San Francisco, widow of a reputed bootlegger killed in the Siskiyou last November when his car ran over a steep embankment, the automobile he was driving at the time, and seized under the transportation of liquor clause. Bonds of $515 she had deposited pending settlement of the suit were returned. Mrs. Page claimed the car was her property, and used without her consent or knowledge as a rum carrier.

Visitor From Salem—
R. D. Cooper was among those from northern points to stop over in this city as a visitor yesterday and last night. Mr. Cooper is from Salem.

PORTLAND MEN TO INCORPORATE FOR 1930 WORLD'S FAIR

SALEM, Ore., March 12.—Announcing as their purpose of staging a world's fair in Portland in 1930, a group of 37 Portland men have formed a corporation capitalized at $10,000,000 and the articles were filed yesterday with the state corporation department. The first three names on the list of incorporators are H. J. Blasing, B. S. Josselyn and A. B. Manley. The fair will be known as the Pacific American International Exposition.

Relating to financing the enterprise the articles say: "The business of this corporation shall be conducted without profit to itself or its members and at the time of making these articles of incorporation this corporation possesses no money or property whatever and the source of its income shall be from gifts, donations, subscriptions, contributions, admissions, concession charges and from loans, as well as from appropriations from municipalities, states and nations."

NORTH UMPQUA ROAD WORK IS GOING AHEAD

Inspector Arrives Today to Make Trip Over Grade Inside Forest.

RAINS ARE HANDICAP

Money to Be Sufficient to Complete Ten Miles as Planned—Additional Funds Expected.

F. E. Andrews, inspector with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, arrived in Roseburg today to make an inspection of the work being done on the North Umpqua section of the Umpqua Highway. He was met in this city this morning by J. M. Myers, superintendent in charge of construction, who took him out to the construction camp.

Mr. Myers states that work is proceeding in a very satisfactory manner. It had been hoped that the roads would dry out enough to allow supplies to be taken into the camp in larger quantities and to make it possible for the grading to proceed more rapidly, but the rains of Saturday and Sunday ruined these hopes, and the roads are still in a very muddy condition.

Grading has now been completed to the Collins place, and the right of way has been cleared as far as Boggs Creek, two miles further on. Of this two miles now cleared, contracts have been let on one and three quarters miles. This leaves about 2 miles more to clear and put under contract in order to complete the ten miles to be constructed under the $60,000 appropriation.

Mr. Myers states that the first appropriation will be sufficient to finish the 10 miles as estimated, together with trimming up, removing stumps and putting the grade in first class condition.

It is understood that $30,000 more will be made available by the government to complete this section of the highway into Steamboat and that this money will be provided in time that the present road crew, which consists of thirty laborers, will be able to do the work, so that the expense of removing equipment and then returning it, will be eliminated. The sum of $30,000 will be sufficient. Mr. Myers states, to build the road to Steamboat, which will leave only 20 miles to link up between Steamboat and Big Camas. As soon as that gap is opened, the road will connect with Diamond and Crater Lake roads, and will also intersect with the John Day Highway to Bend, giving a connection with eastern Oregon points. As the lower end of the road is now being finished so that travel to Reedsport will be possible this year, the completion of the North Umpqua section will give a seaport connection to all eastern Oregon points, and within a short time the road is certain to become an important thoroughfare.

Mrs. A. L. King will leave in a short time for Moscow, Idaho, where she will look after property interests, and visit with her children. Mrs. King will go via the southern route and will spend about two months in Idaho points.

STOKES' CASE SOON BE READY FOR THE JURY

Arguments in Trial Will Be Concluded Late This Afternoon.

TESTIMONY ASSAILED

Stokes Assailed as Octopus Whose Long Arms Reached into Dives for Evidence.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 12.—Arguments to the jury in the trial of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire apartment hotel owner of New York for conspiracy to defame his wife, proceeded today with prospects that the case would go to the jury late today or early tomorrow.

Milton D. Smith, assistant state attorney, who has led the prosecution of Mr. Stokes and Robert F. Lee, Chicago negro, continued his arraignment of the aged defendant begun yesterday when he talked two and one half hours. He assailed Mr. Stokes as a dollar marked octopus with long arms that reach into the dives of Chicago and over the country seeking affidavits to "dirty up" Mrs. Stokes.

The prosecutor, speaking in a voice that reverberated far down the county building corridors, assailed the testimony of two sleeping car conductors who testified that Mrs. Stokes had travelled with young man twice during 1922.

"That man Burke swore that Mrs. Stokes occupied a berth with her cousin, Hal Billie, and he did not see her get in or out of the berth," said Smith. "He did not know who was there. He heard voices, he said, but he did not know whose they were. Yet he swore in an affidavit it was Mrs. Stokes and Hal Billie. And Mr. Stokes took that affidavit, but he didn't use it in his divorce suit. He knew it was not true, and that it would not stand up in court."

"And that man Hanson," continued, came into this court and voluntarily committed perjury. He came into this court and swore he recognized Mrs. Stokes from a picture taken 20 years before."

Burke and Hanson are sleeping car conductors.

Smith referred to the paragraph in a letter Stokes wrote to E. W. Altz, a Chicago detective, informing him to see Stanley Joyce, husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce.

"He said 'see Joyce and find out what he knows, and if he wants any information about his wife I can get it for him,'" said Smith.

"Is that his mania? Is that the work of his perverted mind?" roared Smith to the jury. "What made him want to break up another man's family?"

Smith turned his attention to Lee, the negro defendant, after he had been talking more than three hours.

"I maintain Lee was in this conspiracy to get affidavits right or wrong," said Smith.

"Yet he says he was never there when affidavits were taken, but he was there when the money was being passed out."

Mr. Myers stated that a frame of shift in my life," Smith said in concluding.

"If they were innocent why did every man in the affair cry to shift responsibility to some other person?"

"It is the old story of using a woman to enlist the sympathy of a jury to put the stigma of a fine or imprisonment on a fellow citizen," said Rathbun in opening for the defense.

"That has been the idea of the state throughout in this prosecution or persecution of Mr. Stokes."

"You may have a lot of evidence here that will make you want to say Stokes was an old fool," said Rathbun. "But you have not a bit of evidence that will tell you he was ever seen with any woman that he was guilty of conspiracy."

"There never has been a case in this county where the state went so far in coercion and oppression in an effort to force out testimony."

"If it had not been for the acts of Mrs. Stokes and her agents in this case the world never would have known anything Stokes uncarried in his investigation," said Rathbun. "Mr. Stokes never told anybody anything except his own agents. He never published it. He never defamed her. If she had not started this case this old man would have his affidavits as playthings he had obtained in such wanderings through the avenues of old times in Chicago, and his lawyers would have told him they were no good."

"Stokes may have thought he

(Continued on page 8.)