Golden Wedding Anniversary Honored

The milestone of fifty years of wedded life was passed on March 13th by Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Whipple of Drain, who are well known in Douglas County, and in honor of this memorable event, their children and grandchildren gathered Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinny at Roseburg. At high noon, the measured strains of a wedding march were heard, and Mrs. Whipple entered the living room, on the arm of her oldest son, Charles, of Washington, who gave her away in marriage. She was a charming picture in a white satin wedding gown, the bride costume of her youngest daughter, and carried a shower bouquet of golden blossoms. The mock wedding ceremony was read by another son, Judge R. L. Whipple of Roseburg. The bride and groom were attended by five of their grandchildren, with Betty Mae Whipple as flower bearer, and Billie McElhinny as ring bearer. After the ceremony dinner was served to the children and grandchildren at a table bright with the golden color motif with golden candles grouped around a huge wedding cake. Places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whipple and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Whipple of Fish Tail, Montana; Mrs. Pearl Ross of Portland, E. G. Whipple, son and daughter of Drain, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minter and four children of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Dixon, Hugh Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McElhinny and three children.

Orange Lantern Tea Room to Be Open Soon

The opening of the Orange Lantern Tea Room which will occur probably the latter part of next week, is eagerly anticipated by society folk as well as the general public. The Orange Lantern will be owned and managed by Mrs. Edwin Thornton, who is well known here, and will be located across from the Antlers Theatre on Jackson street in what was formerly the Stanton home. Mrs. Thornton, who spent last year at Long Beach and other points in Southern California, is modeling the tea room after a similar establishment near Los Angeles. The interior decoration will combine orange and gray, with drapes and wall decorations in a brilliant orange, and the tables and chairs in soft gray. The orange lantern motif will be carried throughout the three large rooms. One room will be so arranged that private parties may be accommodated for dinner, luncheon or an afternoon of bridge. A merchants lunch will be served at noon, and at other times salads, ice creams, and luncheons of all kinds will be served. During the summer months there will be tables, and lanterns for service on the wide lawn.

W. C. T. U. Institute Announced for Tuesday

"Serve the Present Age," Mrs. Edith Ackley, county school superintendent; address "Echoes from the State Legislature" Hon. B. L. Eddy.

Garden Valley Club Members Enjoy Party

The popular St. Patrick's motif combined with spring flowers decorated the club house at Garden Valley Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Sr., invited to the Garden Valley Women's Club to be her guests. Each member had been requested to wear something green and to answer roll call with an Irish quotation or reading. After the business meeting the ladies chatted for a short time while the luncheon tables were arranged in the main room. Bowls of shamrocks and spring flowers were placed at intervals on the pretty tables, and gayly decorated Irish potatoes served as place cards. As each guest took her place she was adorned with a green and white paper cap. Mrs. Hugh Ritchie, Jr., and Mrs. Fetter Sinclair assisted the hostess to serve. After the luncheon Mrs. Ritchie Sr., sang the Irish song "Sweet Widow Flynn," and everyone joined in singing the Star Spangled Banner and saluting the flag. Enjoying the occasion were Mrs. George Bailey, Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mrs. R. A. Calhoun, Mrs. R. S. Hutton, Mrs. E. E. Lahlie, Mrs. G. McDaniels, Mrs. Emma Niday, Mrs. I. Irwin Page, Mrs. John Sinclair, Mrs. Peter Sinclair, Mrs. J. D. Young, Mrs. Hugh Ritchie Jr., and children Lalrie and Katharine Jean, and Ivan Brown. Mrs. Emma Niday will be hostess to the club on March 26.

Card Club Members Play This Week

Guests of the club for the afternoon were Mrs. Charles Harper, Mrs. Ora Welker, Mrs. Salie McClung, Mrs. W. S. Post, and Mrs. Viola Hankert. High scores were held by Ora Welker, and low by Mrs. E. Patterson. The club members present were Mesdames Frank Brown, George Cluck, Mary Freeman, C. E. Hanan, H. B. Hydinger, F. S. Monroe, Ed Peyton, A. H. Perrin, Ed Patterson, Ben Shields, Joseph Shockley, J. G. Stephenson, Charles Wansley, Henry Worthington, and Mrs. Gravis.

Miss Rice Hostess to Omega Mu Alphas

The members of the Omega Mu Alpha society were the guests of Wednesday evening of one of their number, Miss Ed Rice. Two tables of bridge provided amusement throughout the evening, and luncheon was served at the close. Guests of Miss Rice were Miss Mary Reams, Miss Virginia Whitling, Miss Charles Harper, Miss Fern Reymers, Miss Carol Doyle, Miss Peigmy Conlee, and Miss Iris Rice.

Melrose Club Members Spend Pleasant Afternoon

At the meeting of the Melrose Fortnightly Club on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Dan Esley, presiding of the club tendered her resignation and Mrs. H. C. Con selected Mrs. Esley as her successor. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Esley. After the business meeting Mrs. Arthur Burrows led the ladies in a lesson on physical culture, and it was voted to devote a portion of the next meeting to the study of Joazeua Miller.

Ten Mile Club Meets on Wednesday

Discussion of problems in needlework, and the attaining of higher standards which is the club aim, engaged the members of the Ten Mile Community Club in session Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Swift. Mrs. Addie Ollivant, a member of the Omaha Busy Street Club, a similar community organization, visited with the ladies. The members present were Mrs. Elizabeth Bristol-buncher, Mrs. Grace Barnes, Mrs. Anna Conates, Mrs. Steurer, Mrs. William Watson. The hostess served a dainty luncheon at the close of the afternoon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Siegel.

Parent Teachers Meeting Is Interesting

The meeting on Tuesday evening of the High School Parent Teachers Circle, had been designated as fathers and sons night, and the chair was relinquished by the president, Mrs. B. W. Maddox, to Mr. Campbell, principal of the High School, who presided over the business meeting. The Association is bringing to Roseburg, in April, Anthony Euwer, well known poet and lecturer who will give a program at the High School to which the students will be admitted free, and a small charge will be made to the public. This is an exceptional attraction, and arranged by the Parent Teachers solely for the benefit of the Student Body.

Mrs. Maddox brought up the question during the business meeting, of the placing of welcome arches at the north and south approaches to Roseburg, making the arches a memorial to the soldiers who lost their lives in the world war. This project has been discussed on several occasions, but nothing definite had been done. The Association agreed to sponsor the object, and will ask help from all organizations and individuals in Roseburg. The further beautifying of the school grounds was also discussed.

An interesting program arranged by Warren Burt entertained after the business meeting. Mr. Burt sang two solos accompanied by his son Ray, and the cast of the High School Operetta "The Wishing Well" gave several skits from the production.

Bellview Club Has Pleasant Meeting

St. Patrick's Day stories were told by the members at the meeting this week of the Bellview club at the home of Mrs. R. C. Bell on East Douglas Street and several pleasant hours were enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. B. Hughes on April 9.

Easter Ball Will Be Quaint Japanese Affair

The annual Easter Ball is to be sponsored by the Legion Auxiliary, and from the plans announced recently for this event, the dance will be one of the bright spots of spring entertaining. The general theme of the ball will be Japanese, with the Army taking on the air of a Japanese tea garden. Two quaint little Chinese girls will serve punch. The date will be April fourteenth, and the heads of the main committees have already been appointed by the Auxiliary president, Mrs. Stanford Jones. Mrs. Parry will have charge of the advertising and publicity, Mrs. Leon McClintock of the ticket sale, Mrs. Paul Pratten of the refreshments, and Mrs. Jones of the decorations. The proceeds from the ball will go in the general fund of the Auxiliary to be used in their charity work, and also their work among the disabled soldiers and their families.

Annual Ball Is Event of Next Week

The annual St. Patrick's Ball is the event of most interest announced for next week, to take place at the Armory, Tuesday evening, March seventeenth. This is the eighth annual ball to be sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Big 4 Ballroad organization, and the committees making plans for the event expect to surpass the balls of other years. The Blue Devils orchestra will play.

Party Surprises Couple on Wedding Anniversary

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton brought a surprise in them on Saturday evening when the members of Mrs. Wharton's bridge club and their husbands, gathered at eight thirty at the H. B. Stapleton home, in their honor. The event also complimented the birthday anniversary of Mr. George Bolter. A set of silver salad forks was a gift of the club to Mr. and Mrs. Wharton.

Mrs. Knight Hostess to Prayer Circle

Sweet peas and narcissus combined to make the living rooms of the Fred Knight home attractive Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Knight invited the members of the Northside Prayer Circle to be her guests. The study hour preceded an hour of chatting, and the hostess served a dainty luncheon to Mrs. A. J. Godley, Mrs. B. H. Lahlie, Mrs. E. R. Crawford, Mrs. Fred Akley, Mrs. Mable Smith, Mrs. Bert Chamberlain, Mrs. V. Bush, Mrs. I. Huff, Mrs. Gene Hendrickson, Mrs. S. Woodruff, guests, Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. B. W. Taylor, Mrs. Helen Singleton, and Mrs. F. D. Owen.

Squaws Entertained by Mrs. Hildebrand

Mrs. A. N. Hildebrand invited the Unquaga Squaws to her home in Laurelwood this week for their regular business meeting, having planned a social hour and dainty luncheon to follow. During the business meeting the support of the Douglas County Concert Band was discussed, as well as other matters in which the Squaws are interested. The Squaws went on record as favoring the proposed one-half mill tax for the support of the band, and also made plans for the St. Patrick's party they have announced for March 19.

Peasant Embroidery

Doris Kenyon Wears a Youthful Frock Made Lovely with Colorful Stitching.

There has come to greet the earliest days of spring a one piece frock which is as unusual as it is charming. Straight, of course, are the lines which the youthful silhouette demands, and possessing for its beauty the embroidery found on the blouses and dresses of the peasant lands of Europe. Blouses which come from Hungary, Czecho-Slovakia and the far places of Russia are artfully utilized in this new type of gown. Sleeves with the quaint and charming fullness of the old world, with colorful embroidery artistically employed in silk or worsted, with broad collar or shirred necks, are used with a straight line frock which is cut low in front and is without sleeves.

When the frock is of beige bengaline or the new kasha cloth, the blouse which uses vivid reds, blues or greens is most effective. Dark blue or brown too may be successfully combined with these lovely blouses with their gorgeous stitching.

Mrs. Knight Hostess to Prayer Circle

The treasurer's report showed $225.50 had been paid on the last year's apportionment. The secretary for literature gave her usual report, stating that she had 100 subscriptions for Woman and Missions; 16 for the Year Book of Prayer; 9 for the Foreign Study Book and 2 for the Home Study Book. Mrs. Park's report was approved. Mrs. Scott, the associate member secretary, outlined the work of membership as especially for shut-ins and others who may not be able to attend the meetings, but who are interested in the work and wish to help with their prayers and voluntary gifts.

Woman's Club Will Have Well Known Speaker

Ashcraft, Mrs. C. H. Bailey, Mrs. B. W. Maddox, Mrs. C. S. Heinline, Mrs. R. B. Compton, Mrs. George Neuner, and Mrs. Richard Willett.

Wilbur Couple Celebrate Fortieth Anniversary

A family reunion on Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Russell of Wilbur, honored the fortieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Russell. Seven children and thirteen grandchildren spent the day with them. Many beautiful gifts were received from relatives and friends. Dinner was served at noon, thirty-five places being laid at the long table. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Russell and three children of Toledo, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Jess Russell of Falls City, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradley of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell of Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McKay and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baird and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Russell, all of Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carroll of Lowell, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bradley of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. McKay of Wilbur.

Mrs. Heinline Hostess at Colorful Luncheon

One of the most attractive luncheon parties of early spring had Mrs. C. S. Heinline as hostess Thursday at one o'clock in her charming home in Laurelwood. Living rooms and dining room were a bower of daffodils whose bright yellow combined prettily with the green of St. Patrick's Day. A color motif of green and yellow intermingled at the table, and through the serving of the luncheon which ended with yellow and green shamrock ice cream, and cake, shamrock dollies held each plate of food, and smaller shamrocks served as place cards. Covers were placed for Mrs. J. H. Flint, Mrs. M. F. Rice, Mrs. G. H. Booth, Mrs. Fred Haynes, Mrs. Fred Strang, Mrs. John Runyan, Mrs. J. B. Barker, Mrs. I. G. Broadway, Mrs. C. W. ### Dinner Complimented Mr. and Mrs. Wharton

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton invited the members of the Wharton family to be their dinner guests Sunday, in honor of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton. The guests were seated at a table of silver and pink, the two beautiful shades blending in the flowers, favors and table service to make a most attractive whole. Appropriate verses were read each plate, and in the center of the table peach blossoms with silver leaves added to the effect. Favors were also in the form of imitation peach blossoms concealing small nut baskets. At the place of the honor guests were two large silver candle sticks, a gift from the family. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wharton and son, Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wimberly and son, Mrs. H. S. Durgan of Eugene, Misses Bess and Jane Wharton, Joseph Wharton, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton.

Missionary Society Has Interesting Session

At 2:30 Thursday, the Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church met in the church parlors, with the new president in the chair. "Upon My Eyes, That I May See Thee" was sung by all, while Mrs. Park played, with Mrs. McCullough as soloist. The new president, Mrs. McCullough, gave a short address in which she said she hoped the keynote of the year's work would be cooperation and love. The chair appointed the following officers: Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Geo. Houck; Mission Study Secretary, Mrs. Fred Fisher; Young People's Secretary, Mrs. Geo. Berchard; Assistant Overseas Sewing Secretary, Mrs. R. H. Grinstead. A short installation service followed. The treasurer's report showed $225.50 had been paid on the last year's apportionment. The secretary for literature gave her usual report, stating that she had 100 subscriptions for Woman and Missions; 16 for the Year Book of Prayer; 9 for the Foreign Study Book and 2 for the Home Study Book. Mrs. Park's report was approved.

FROCKS STRAIGHTER AND NARROWER THAN EVER AS THE SEASON ADVANCES

FROCKS continue to be straight and narrow. The only difference from past seasons is that they are still straighter—and narrower—certainly shorter. They are shorter than they have been since nineteen-twenty, with every indication of again reaching the high mark of four years ago. The sketch at the right of the photo above shows two of the new frocks, types that are being made for Palm Beach and the South, and for early spring. The dress at the left is a kasha model of green. It has no waistline, and not a rather. It is as straight as a coat. It is trimmed in many-colored braid, and has a collar of dull pompadour red silk (a dull red that is found among the threads that make up the silk braid). The sleeves are tight-fitting, and plain, with red, narrow cuffs. The second dress is of white flannel trimmed in double rows of narrow braid—one row of black and one row of red. It has a standing collar and boasts a belt. But it is just as straight as the dressmaker can cut it. These were designed for wear in the southlands, but they are models that can easily be made up in serge for the spring. So much for everyday frocks. The photo above shows a handsome thing worked out along the same lines, worn by Miss Lois Wilson, now appearing in Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd." This gown has a foundation of black satin, and a tunic of tan satin, banded with coral crepe and embroidered in copper threads. It is as straight a thing as the designer could devise, and therefore very smart. Straight, short and narrow is the High Road to Chic.

Oakland Girl Has Birthday Party

Miss Laura Kellogg of Oakland had an attractive young hostess Friday evening of last week, inviting a number of young people to help celebrate her sixteenth birthday anniversary. In the group were Esther and Francis McMahon, Lochie Kincart, Elma Powell, Margaret Neal, Hallie Huddleston, Eva and Margaret Edwards, Maybelle Neal, Bonahy Mullin, Harry and William Todd, Charles and Delmer Neal, Max and Max Kincart, Guy Mullin, Edward Manning, Wesley Neal, Martin Cain, Vic Davis, Fred Neal, and the hostess.

Bridge Supper Club Guests of Fullertons

The members of the Bridge Supper Club gathered at seven o'clock Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Fullerton, and enjoyed a delicious supper, part of which is prepared by the hostess and part brought by the guests. At the bridge tables later, high award went to Miss Rosa B. Parrott. A color motif of yellow and pink at the tables and through the rooms was carried out in the spring flowers, Japanese guinea, and narcissus. Enjoying the event were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. James Sawyers, Mr. and Mrs. George Bolter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wharton, Mrs. A. Baum, Miss Elizabeth Parrott, Miss Rosa B. Parrott, Miss Gertrude East, H. Wollenberg, and the host and hostess.

Don't Try to Take Off Too Many Years With Short Skirts and Hair

By Hedda Hoyt, Fashion Editor of United Press. NEW YORK, March 14.—The tadpole wagged his little tail until a frog he grew. And then he had no tail to wag and it made him doggone blue! And now he nightly sits and sobs His croaks turn into screams; He's warning all the rest of us To beware of all extremes! The woman who goes to extremes in styles never appears stylish. Very few women can exaggerate a style and get away with it. In other words, we must take all styles with a grain or two of salt, if we wish to be stylish rather than startling. The style tendencies of today can be summed up in a few words: boyishly cut hair, short skirts, tiny hats, attractive footwear and a hank of fur. The woman who feels that she isn't working on all six cylinders unless she accentuates all these styles becomes a fearful sight. With a mannish hair cut, a peanut-sized hat, a knee length skirt and a huge fur neckpiece she is a freak rather than a fashion plate. Every one of us have our good points, and if we wish to accentuate them in dress, we should do so by obscuring our bad points. At present short skirts are the

Spring Fashion Review at Antlers Wednesday

An announcement of interest was made today by Manager Goux of the Antlers Theatre, who has arranged a Spring Fashion Show for Wednesday evening, March 18. Fifteen attractive Roseburg girls will display a variety of beautiful coats, dresses, suit hat and shoe models from a number of Roseburg stores, and several unique features will make the fashion show a fitting opening to the spring season. Abrahams Silk Store, Bellows Store, Fisher's, The Hat Shop, Ladies Shoppe, Marksbury Store, Specialty Shoppe, Vogue Millinery and the Penny Co., are co-operating with Mr. Goux in the review which will be given only one time on Wednesday evening. A feature picture "Those Who Dance," and the Blue Devils orchestra, are also on the bill.

Conservatory Announces First of Musicales

The first of a series of early spring musicales announced by the Heinline Conservatory will be held on Monday evening, March 16, at the Conservatory, to be followed each Monday evening until completed. Every one interested in cordially invited to attend the musicales. The piano pupils to be presented Monday evening are Lois Ann Whipple, Helen Wetherell, Pauline Babar, June Hams, Mina Boye, Anna May Unrath, Harriet Groves, J. C. Strawn, Maud Williams. The violin pupils, Elvora May Wilson, Walter Walker, and Edward Sherman. Readers are Marjorie Miller, George William Neuner, Daphne Hughes, and Bobby McKean. Vocal, Miss Helen Casey, and Mrs. Chester Endrup. The conservatory orchestra will play several opening numbers.

Outstanding Features of the Moment

Almost every woman is wearing them, regardless of age or of their becomingness. Women believe that short skirts equal youth, but in most cases this is a sad mistake. Not one woman in a hundred looks well in a skirt which is cut just a few inches below the knee. If a woman is young enough and designed as to extremes for short skirts, she may wear them, but—if she accentuates her rather portions she had better lay low on a few of the other style tendencies to make up for her display of hoarsely. She can't afford to wear outlandish colors, for instance, or to wear a lowest neckline which will tend to reduce the size of her frock and enlarge the size of her frame-work. With a rather high neckline and long sleeves a dress may be ever so short and yet not appear brazen. One is inclined to believe that there should be an age limit on short skirts. It is ghastly to see middle-aged women coveting in them. A sagging chin contracts the beauty of a shapely limb that is thrust too brazenly from age. Instead of detracting from age, short skirts draws, by contrast, attention to age. This doesn't mean that a woman with well-shaped limbs must (Continued on page six)
