ST. PAUL R. R. NEARS A CRISIS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Mar. 16.—Reports that the St. Paul Railway's financial difficulties were approaching a crisis which would result in an early receivership or a reorganization caused by selling the road's securities today, carrying the stock issues and several of the bonds to record low levels.
Liquidation of the stocks depressed the common to 7 7/8 and the preferred to 131-2, checking an early upward movement in the rest of the market. The selling wave also spread to the St. Paul bonds, driving the four of 1925 down to their previous low record of 53 and bringing recessions of a point or so in many of the other obligations.

SHEPHERD IN JACKPOT NOW; TRIED BRIBERY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 16.—C. C. Faiman, head of a school of science, under severe interrogation today broke down and admitted that William D. Shepherd, held in custody in connection with the death of William McClintock, Shepherd's fish foster son, had promised him $20,000 to "keep his mouth shut."
Faiman previously had told that Shepherd had taken a course in bacteriology at his school, the National University of Science, and after the brief course of a few days three test tubes, at least one containing typhoid bacilli, had disappeared. He said Shepherd had written him young McClintock died of typhoid fever.
The announcement said that Faiman had told of a $20,000 offer by Shepherd came from Assistant State's Attorney Joseph Savage, while the grand jury was hearing witnesses. Mr. Savage said Faiman's admission was heard by two detectives and himself.

INCOME TAXES MUST BE PAID BEFORE MIDNIGHT

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The income tax penalty clause falls at the stroke of midnight today on the heads of all who have not by then filed due returns for 1924. The calendar has done its part this year, however, in providing against operation of the clause by supplying an extra day's race for filing returns, since March 15, the final day fixed by law, fell on Sunday.
Treasury officials, meanwhile, were speeding preparations today to undertake an immediate analysis on the basis of the returns, of the results of the new revenue law with its reduced tax rates. They hoped to have the complications ready by the end of this week.
With a sharp reduction in the total of taxes due from the majority of the taxpayers made certain by the new two percent rate on small incomes and the one quarter reduction in net tax allowed on earned incomes of $10,000 and below, treasury officials were uncertain as to how far this might be offset by increased returns from the higher brackets.
Cheer for the dark hours of reckoning today is held out in a statement by Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means Committee, in which he sees a "favorable outlook" for a reduction of $300,000,000 in the nation's taxes for the fiscal year of 1925.

NEW EDUCATION LAW OF OREGON WILL BE ARGUED

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, March 16.—The compulsory education law of Oregon, requiring that after September of next year all children between the ages of 8 and 16, with a few exceptions, shall attend public schools, was reached in the supreme court today for oral argument in two cases brought by the state to have set aside the injunction of the federal district court against its enforcement.
Although it was thought the cases might not bring a sweeping opinion from the court on the constitutional right of states to control the education of children within their borders, the controversy has attracted wide attention in educational and religious circles. The array of counsel brought into court include former Senator George E. Chamberlain; W. S. Moore; A. H. Putney and P. Q. Nye for the state; William D. Guthrie for the society of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary and John C. Veach for the Hill Military Academy.
In argument prepared for today, counsel for the state pointed out that in the lower court the challenge of the law was based upon the charter rights of schools incorporated by the state. Contending that the injunction has been based largely upon the assumption that the property rights of the parochial and private schools, holding that any loss which might result from the exercise of a pro-governmental function by the state did not constitute an unlawful taking of property.

Judge's Ruling in Teapot Dome Case Bars All Chances of Showing Exchange of Liberty Bonds by Men

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Mar. 16.—Evidence tacked to reveal the secrets of the bank accounts of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior was barred from the record in the Teapot Dome lease annulment suit here today. The ruling barring the evidence, handed down by Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy, deprives the government of its only known means of attempting to prove an exchange of Liberty bonds between Fall and Harry F. Sinclair whose Mammoth Oil company was given the lease on the big Wyoming Oil reserve.
Judge Kennedy in his decision referred to the matter in question as involving something of unusual importance to the plaintiff's case. But as the matter stands, it is manifestly incompetent and will be barred until such time as it is shown to be competent.

CONRAD OLSON ARRESTED IN A BOOZE RAID

Portland, Ore., Mar. 16.—Conrad P. Olson, widely known attorney, was arrested in a raid on 270 Park Street, Saturday night, along with another man and a woman.

He gave the name of "John C. Wilson, 41, salesman," and posted $100 bail.
"I was at the house on legal business," Olson told a reporter today. "I had not been drinking and I was not served with anything to drink there."
"I had gone to the house because I had been told that I could find a witness I have been looking for. I did get information concerning his whereabouts and expect to locate him this week."
Olson said he expected to appear in municipal court, where the case is expected to come up late this afternoon and explain his position.
Olson is a former state supreme judge, ex-state senator and the man who codified the Oregon laws. He was president of the now defunct State Bank of Portland.

In Tax Battle

SEN. JAMES COUZENS

The United States Treasury Department has demanded ten million dollars in back taxes from Senator James Couzens, of Michigan, on the sale of his holdings in the Ford Motor Company in 1912. The senator charged the Treasury action was partly in retaliation for his investigation of the Internal Revenue Department, and partly because he had not been strenuous enough in his efforts to eradicate "rottenness in the Government" no matter what administration.

VOLSTEAD HULING

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 16.—Persons charged with violating the Volstead Act can be tried in state courts, the supreme court declared today in substance dismissing for want of jurisdiction a case brought from Humboldt county, California, by A. Brambini and Isadore Maffie.

ALLOTMENTS TO MARKET ROADS ARE APPROVED

State Submits Lists of Projects to County Court for Its Adoption.

WILL BUILD BRIDGES

Spans to Be Moved from Winchester and Oakland to Elkton and Round Prairie.

The market road allotments for the year have been approved by the state engineer, and if adopted by the Douglas county court at its next regular session will become effective. The state approves appropriations for $15,000 for the road between Roseburg and Oak Creek; $12,500 for the Mill Creek road; $9,000 for the Edgewater paving; $25,000 for the Elkton bridge; $80,000 for the Tiller-Milo road; $2,000 for the Tabor section of the Looking Glass road; $3,000 for the Round Prairie bridge; and $3,000 for the surfacing of the new Mt. Nebo road. These recommendations will come before the county court at its next meeting for final approval and adoption.
These appropriations are augmented by special taxes amounting to approximately $25,000, so that the total expenditures on these projects will amount to around $100,000.
The money appropriation for the road east of Roseburg is for straightening and widening grades, and for surfacing. The money will be used as far as it will go, the expectations being that it will reach as far as Oak Creek.
The amount for the Mill Creek road will be matched with $7,000 special tax money. The Look Lake district is now working for several years to build an outlet down Mill Creek and has the road near completion, the $19,500 made available by the market road appropriation is expected to be enough to complete the project, giving a good outlet for that community, permitting the abandonment of the present road, which is steep and dangerous. The new road connects with the Umpqua highway at the mouth of Mill Creek.
The sum of $9,000 appropriated for the Edgewater paving, will be increased to $14,000 by special tax money. That district voted 10 mills special road tax for several years, paving more than a mile of the road, and grading the portion to be surfaced this year.
The Elkton district has $6,000 left in special taxes to be applied with the $15,000 appropriation for a bridge there. The county will take two spans from the Winchester bridge and move them to Elkton to permit crossing the river at that point, and connecting up with the Umpqua highway.
Another span of the Winchester bridge, and a span of the Oakland bridge, will be moved to Round Prairie to bridge the South Umpqua at that point. The district has raised $6,000 in special taxes for the construction of the bridge, and (Continued on page six)

SALEM HIGH CHAMPS

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)
SALEM, Ore., March 16.—Salem high school won the Oregon state basketball tournament held here by defeating Franklin high of Portland 26 to 13 in the final round Saturday night. The hard Franklin schedule is held by many to have been a large factor in its defeat. The Portland players being completely worn out. Scallion, Franklin star, collapsed at the end of the game with Eugene Saturday afternoon, and had to be carried from the floor.
In the semi-finals held Saturday afternoon, Franklin barely nosed out a win over Eugene high. Eugene being ahead most of the game and leading 10 to 6 at the end of the first half. Salem defeated McMinnville 39 to 12 in the semi-finals.
By virtue of winning the state title, Salem high school will be represented in the Interstate tournament planned here for three days next week.
