FASHION SHOW WILL BE PRESENTED AT ANTLERS WEDNESDAY

Seventeen beautiful Roseburg girls will model the latest in authentic spring fashions at the Antlers Wednesday evening at the First Style Show in which the merchants of Roseburg have co-operated. The fashion review is sponsored by Manager Goux of the Antlers Theatre who is arranging the details of what will be the largest show of its kind ever held in Roseburg.

Appearing in the fashion parade will be costumes from Abraham's Silk Store, shown by Jeane Singleton, Dorothy Cordon and Mildred Sinsinger; appearing for the Hat Shop are Cora Ward and Vivian Williams; from the Ladies Shoppe by Mary Reams, Fern Roy and Dorothy Eddy; from the Marksbury Co. by Mrs. George Wharton and Mildred Mathews; from Bellows by Clarice Harpster, Evelyn Nolan and Lorraine Conlee, from Fisher's Adelle Bemis, Deulah Jewett, and Thelma Olmstead; from the J. C. Penney Store Miss Kathryn Slatta. Costumes for sport, for dress, for evening, dinner and dance wear will be modeled, with appropriate shoes, hose, hats, coiffure and accessories. Hats will be from the Specialty Shoppe and The Vogue, and marcelas, and coiffures from the Terminal Hotel Beauty Shoppe, and the Clark Beauty Studio. Flowers from the Fern Florist Shop.

The Blue Devils seven piece orchestra will play for the fashion show which will come immediately following the first show. A feature photoplay, "Those Who Dance" will be shown in conjunction.

HOLBEIN LEAVES FOR NORTH DAKOTA

Will E. Holbein, who recently resigned as secretary of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce, left last night for Bismarck, North Dakota, where he is to be a principal witness in a civil action. He has not yet determined upon his business following the trial of the case, as there are several propositions offered him for his consideration. He has been very active in establishing the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce on a firm and substantial basis, and during the short time that he was employed here did a great deal for the city and county organization, and his departure is greatly regretted. He remained several days over his expected time of departure in order to see the new publicity booklet sent on its way, leaving barely in time to reach his destination by the time of the trial. The booklet which he arranged before his resignation is now practically all in type form, and will soon be on the press.

PHONE MEETINGS ARE A SUCCESS

The educational meetings held last week by the telephone company with the various farmer communities were very successful from every standpoint. The meetings were well attended and the large number and various kinds of questions asked by the farmers indicated the interest. The Telephone Company is vitally interested in assisting the farmers to get the best service possible and to this end the company sent two of their best engineers, Mr. Williams and Mr. Moorehouse, from the Portland office to explain the various features of telephone construction and maintenance and also the proper way to use the service. Meetings were held in all local-
