YOUTH'S VIEWPOINT

Many fears are expressed by the older people that modern youth has drifted away from the old standards. In trying to get at the heart of those points where the young people differ from those who went before, considerable weight should be placed on their tendency to take life lightly.

Almost every day one reads in the newspapers of some man who came from very humble and obscure beginnings, who has climbed to a large measure of success.

A Philadelphia court recently sentenced two boys to a daily spanking for 47 days, as a penalty for robbery of a hardware store.

If legislation favored by the American Legion in Kansas goes through, instruction in the American constitution, history, and civics would be given all the way from the lowest grades of school to graduation from the high school.

CARDINALS TO DEPEND ON PITCHERS

Shields, a right hander; and Rullford Paulson, from Cornell, Iowa, college. Rhelm comes from the Fort Smith club and had more strike outs last season than any pitcher in any league.

"Hallahan is another strike out pitcher, serving with Syracuse, Fort Smith and Kalamazoo last year. Like Rhelm, he has had only limited experience, but has a great fast ball and a good curve.

"Haines, one of the fastest ball pitchers of the league, did not win many games last season, but it wouldn't surprise me if he shows a decided reversal of form this year.

Some Eastern fellah has discovered an antiseptic which he says is a cure-all. The name of the stuff is a yard long and the patient die while we were tryin' to ask the drug store clerk for a dram of it.

The news dispatches today inform the thirsty populace of the Etats Unis that they're sellin' beer by the glass in Victoria, B. C. Hot puppies! By the keg would be a dern sight better.

As this is Bath Night we have a little surprise in store for our many readers. We have three slightly used bars of soap which we will give to the first feller who can get out of a bath-tub without dripping water all over the floor.

ANTISEPTIC STRONGER THAN CARBOLIC

BALTIMORE, Md., March 21.—Dr. Veador Leonard, chairman of the common internal antiseptics, national research council, explained further before the Baltimore medical society last night the action of Hexyresorcinol the antiseptic which he recently discovered. The new drug has been described as fifty times more effective than carbolic acid in its power to kill dangerous germs in the genital urinary tract.

While antiseptic is an irritant to the stomach and has been administered with olive oil in capsule form, Dr. Leonard declared it to be non-irritating to the gastro-intestinal tract. He described his discovery as a potent germicidal, soluble to a high degree and capable of being eliminated in high percentages by the kidneys.

The effect of hexyresorcinol, Dr. Leonard said, was to combine at once with the secretion of the kidneys and to render those secretions, when acid in character, themselves antiseptic. The power of the drug is destroyed, Dr. Leonard said, when the kidney secretion are alkaline.

Dr. Leonard presented reports of cases in which he said the new antiseptic had been used. Several types of germs best known as producers of pus and irritation — staphylococcus, streptococcus and bacillus coli.—Dr. Leonard declared, have been successfully combated. The first named two types, he said, were conquered after treatment ranging from two to nineteen days, although the third, peculiar in the large intestine, required more patient effort.

AIR MAIL BIDS

STOKANE, Wash., March 21.—Bids for contracts for carrying mail between Elko, Nev., and Paeo, Wash., will be advertised for by the post office department here within three weeks, says information from Washington here today. It is hoped to award early in May. It is declared that the department calculated that the contractor will equip his planes to permit carrying passengers and express to augment his revenues from the mail contract.

"DULCY" SELECTED FOR SENIOR PLAY

There are many plays copyrighted and released each year, but few of them become as popular as the play, "Dulcy," which is a three-act comedy to be presented by the seniors of R. H. S. at their annual class play on April 17. There will be both a matinee and evening performance.

As a cinema production, it met with instantaneous success upon its presentation to the public. Constance Talmadge, one of the best known of screen actresses, starred.

In the last issue of the "Theatre Magazine" it can be found a very favorable comment on "Dulcy." This play ran for one season at the Princes theatre in New York.

The following is a synopsis of the play: Dulcy is a young bride. She endeavors to help her husband in a very important business transaction.

She gives a weekend party and entertains some of the most impossible people as guests. Consequently it is not hard to imagine that everything will end wrong, but by a final blunder of "Dulcy, the beautiful dumbbell," all ends happily.

The cast chosen for the production is as follows: Dulcy (the bride), Miss Wescott; Gordon Smith (her husband), Gilmore Vermillion; William Parker (her brother), Ray Jost.

C. Roger Forbes, Helen Falke, Angela Forbes, Marion Neak, Schuyler Van Dyke, Debrah Phoebe, Tom Stewart, Clair Taylor, Vincent Leach, Paul Goldies, Blair Patterson, George Hunt, Henry, Clifford Hess.

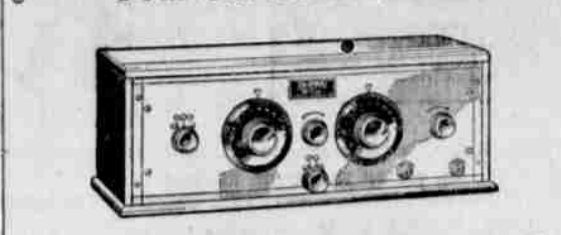

The cast is spending much work and fun, that, with Miss Christensen and Miss Ward coaching it, they can guarantee to the public a very enjoyable entertainment.
