ROSEBURG, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1925.

PAPEP MILL BUILDING OVERDONE

When wheat prices, cotton prices, corn prices, wool prices or the price of other farm products are high, it has in the past, been customary for many farmers to rush wildly into the production of one crop promising the greatest return.

The lessons learned by our agricultural industries have been so severe that, in addition to gradually educating the farmer to the value and necessity of diversified crops in farming, the general public has in many instances, protited by the farmers' lessons.

What has been experienced in farming and various lines of manufacturing is now being experienced by the paper industry. 1924 saw a new peace-time record established for the production of news print.

In spite of this, the woods are full of stock-selling campaigns in Oregon and Washington for proposed pulp and paper mill developments.

It will surprise many of us here in Roseburg to read that 65,000 girls disappear annually in the United States without leaving a trace.

The Worcester, Mass., school committee recently received a complaint, suggesting that many girls are being deprived of high school education because their parents can not afford to dress them as well as others.

A fellow called Moneymaker has gone into bankruptcy, which is further proof that there is nothing in a name, when it comes to getting the "masuma."

Keeping your boy, or girl, busy is a splendid way to keep them out of mischief.

Domestic happiness never will be what it ought to be in this country until every member of the family has his own car.

Tax paying time will soon be here. April 5 is the last day you can extend your credit to the county.

When a fellow takes a week off he's kind of weak on the job for another week.

Don't forget—it pays to advertise.

"I know where the 'lectricity comes from that lights our house," said little John.

"Where does it come from?" queried his small brother.

"From the wall," replied John.

"When mamma wants a light she unbuttons it."

Precocious Offspring—"Pa, may I ask just one more question?"

Patient Pa—"Yes, my son—just one more."

Precocious Offspring—"Well, then, pa, how is it that the night falls, but it's the day that breaks?"

Collector—"Your hardware dealer has employed me to collect the bill you owe him."

Customer—"You're to be congratulated on obtaining a permanent position."

"Last Christmas, before their marriage, she gave him a book entitled, 'A Perfect Gentleman'."

"Well,"

"This Christmas she gave him 'Wild Animals I Have Known'."

MANAGER OF WOOL GROWERS UNION TO SPEAK SATURDAY

The manager of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, Mr. R. A. Ward, will be in Roseburg Saturday and will personally address the meeting of wool growers and mohair growers which is called for the city hall in Roseburg at 7:00 o'clock in the evening.

Mr. Ward will discuss the grading of wool and mohair, describe how the marketing has been carried on by the association and discuss with growers and members the welfare of the organization and the possibility of its being continued.

It has been generally recognized in all circles, both among the non-cooperators and the members of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers, that the presence of the Pacific Cooperative Wool Growers has been the greatest single stabilizing factor in the western Oregon wool and mohair market.

Wools of members in the organization are marketed strictly on the basis of their merit, based on quality, grade and shrinkage.

PREACHERS MUST FORGET THEIR EGO (Associated Press Local Wire.) LOS ANGELES, Apr. 1.—The aim of the church today is for more preachers who will eliminate themselves from discourses and put Christ in their sermons, declared Dr. E. Hughes, Bishop of the Chicago area of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in an address here yesterday before delegates to the Pacific coast theological conference.

Ministers may sometimes mistake the effects of a cup of coffee for the power of the Holy spirit and it is possible for a highly emotionalized or emotionalized congregation to be deceived thereby," the speaker continued.

"I feel that we are safe in saying that many of the sermons that pass for deep preaching are merely dense, muddy, stupid verbal whirlpools of confusion."

Among other speakers yesterday was D. O. S. Davis, president of the Chicago Theological seminary who said that the most effective sermons are those containing the best original thoughts and the highest ideals of the mind of the preacher.

"Neither the press nor the radio had displaced or will displace the real preachers," Davis said. "The man with a message still gets a hearing and always will."

WEALTHY WOMAN DIES AT AGE 93

(Associated Press Local Wire.) KINGSVILLE, Tex., April 1.—Mrs. Henrietta King, 93 years old, virtually unknown to the outside world and yet possessing the world's largest ranch and rated as one of the country's wealthiest women, died last night.

Proprietor of a ranch bordering the Gulf of Mexico for 100 miles and comprising 1,280,000 acres, which came to her at the death of her husband, Captain Richard King, pioneer Texas cattle man, Mrs. King's fortune rose to an enormous figure through the advance of land values from a few cents to many dollars an acre.

Her herd virtually were countless, more than 100,000 calves being branded each season.

Coming to the ranch as a bride, Mrs. King's first home was a blockhouse, due to the constant menace of Indians and bandits.

Her last home was of concrete and marble and was described as the most sumptuous farm home in America.

Kingville, a town of 4,477, is in the center of the vast estate and is largely supported by the industries of the ranch.

Mrs. King, who spent virtually all of her time on the property, was noted for her many benefactions.

ARREST KLAMATH FALLS MAN (Associated Press Local Wire.) Klamath Falls, April 1.—Cliff Sergeant, of Klamath Falls, was arrested here last night for driving a car without a license.

Sergeant is being held for investigation while officers are endeavoring to learn whether or not the Ford car which he is driving is rightfully his. Then man is alleged to have acknowledged the theft of gasoline. He was practically broke when arrested. His brother was recently arrested here upon the request of the Klamath authorities and is now reported to be in jail at Klamath Falls.

Antlers Theatre It is evident that when Douglas Fairbanks produced "The Thief of Bagdad," which will be on view at the Antlers Thursday, Friday and Saturday he had in mind to make the apparently impossible an accomplished fact.

In every city where this picture has been shown the same strain has been: "I wonder how—this or that—"

When the redoubtable Doug clammers up a rope that is suspended in thin air, one begins to take notice; then he dives to the bottom of the water, kills an undersea monster, and when his submarine business is finished, he calmly propels himself to the surface.

He enters an enchanted wood, where a tall tree, at the wave of a hand, comes to life and walks about with uncanny disrespect to all accepted ideas of tree conduct.

Later in the picture, the Thief climbs a flight of a Thousand Steps that leads to the clouds and mounts a beautiful Winged Horse that gracefully flies away with Doug on its back.

Majestic Theatre One may sum up the merits of "The Lonely Road," Katherine MacDonald's latest First National attraction, which opened at the Majestic theatre last evening, by saying that it is remarkably good entertainment.

Admirers of the fascinating Miss MacDonald need only to be told that she is more beautiful than ever in the role of "Betty" the young wife of a struggling business man.

That she has been given as her leading man, Grville Caldwell whom Elinor Glyn has called "the most physically perfect man on the screen," and a strikingly original story, should make the satisfaction of the most fastidious picture patron complete.

Liberty Theatre Edith Kennedy, authoress of "Pal O' Mine," coming to the Liberty Theatre today and tomorrow, is a young woman who is well known in literary, theatrical and moving-picture circles.

When interviewed at her home in Pasadena, California, where she spends most of her time, she expressed the greatest happiness in the manner in which her story has been transferred to the screen.

"The title of the story was originally 'Pal O' Mine,' she said, 'and I am particularly glad that Director Edward J. Le Saint saw fit to retain it when making the picture, because it is the most fitting I could have given it."
